Administration Officials Attend Meeting Here, Growing Out of Rail Purchasing Controversy.

A conference between representatives of the Government and Government agencies and leading bankers, looking to the solution of the railroad financing problem, will be held in Washington tomorrow morning. Director General Hines and Eugene Meyer, Jr., Managing Director of the War Finance Corporation, will attend. So, in all probability, will Secretary of the Treasury Carter Glass. The New York bankers who have arranged to be present are Thomas Cochran of J. P. Morgan & Co., Jerome J. Hanauer of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., P. V. Davis, Vice President of the National City Company; Jackson Reynolds, Vice President of the First National Bank, and probably Harold Stanley, Vice President of the Guaranty Trust Company. Bankers from Chicago and other cities are expected.

The railroads will be represented by the Special Committee of Railway Executives, of which Howard Elliott is Chairman, and which includes Samuel Rea of the Pennsylvania, Albert H. Harris of the New York Central, E. G. Buckland of the New Haven, Harry Bronner of the Missouri Pacific, and others. The committee of financial advisers to the Director General, composed of James N. Wallace, Mr. Bronner, F. Q. Brown, and Frederick Scott, is also expected to attend the meeting.

Tomorrow's conference was arranged, it is understood, at the luncheon given by Mr. Elliott to a group of bankers on Tuesday. Mr. Hines is said to have expressed a willingness to meet the bankers, and Mr. Elliott came here from Washington to make the arrangements. The New York party will leave this afternoon.

The matter of financing the railroads' requirements pending the reconvening of Congress and the appropriation of funds for the Railroad Administration has been uppermost in financial circles for some weeks. At the present time bankers believe the situation is approaching a crisis, and it is believed that the financiers at tomorrow's meeting will make strong representations to Mr. Hines that some official action should be taken in the near future. They will urge upon him the extreme desirability of early Congressional action. It is possible that an appeal will be made to President Wilson to call Congress in special session.

Requirements of the Carriers.

The financial requirements of the railroads under control of the Railroad Administration, up to and including July 1 next, are estimated at approximately $500,000,000. This is divided, roughly, at $100,000,000 on May 1, $100,000,000 on June 1, and upward of $300,000,000 on June 30 and July 1. The assistance which the War Finance Corporation will be able to extend the roads is placed at a maximum of not much above $200,000,000 in addition to what it has already done, so that there will be a balance of about $300,000,000 to be raised by other methods. The bankers feel that with the Victory Loan coming along the latter part of this month, which will call for the raising of $5,000,000,000 or $6,000,000,000, and with the numerous other demands being made upon them, they will be unable to guarantee the Railroad Administration to July 1. It is understood that they will be willing to undertake the financing of the May 1 requirements, but will insist that the Government itself arrange for the raising of the funds needed on subsequent dates.

Debts Are Increasing.

The idea that a nation-wide pool be formed for the purpose of helping the roads over the present critical situation is giving way to the belief that such action, while possible as a purely stop-gap expedient, would only add to the ultimate burden. It is pointed out that the predicament the Railroad Administration is in must become worse, and not better, as time passes; in other words, that its difficulties are cumulative. The debts which the Administration is rolling up are accumulating with alarming speed. In February there was a deficit on operation of about $37,000,000, substantially the same as the deficit

British Built 2,000,000 Tons For Navy During the War

LONDON, April 9.—More than 2,000,000 tons of shipping were added to the navy during the war at a cost of £250,000,000 to £300,000,000, according to a statement today by Sir E. H. W. Tennyson-d'Eyncourt, Director of Naval Construction at the Admiralty.

After the battle of the Falkland Islands, the statement says, the design of the Renown and the Repulse was altered from that of battleships to battle cruisers, the value of battle cruisers having become apparent. The "hush" ships Courageous, Glorious, and Furious were designed to wipe out German light cruisers and raiders. They carried fifteen-inch guns and steamed thirty-two knots an hour.

During the war, 300 destroyers, 100 mine sweepers, and twelve new types of submarines were added to the British navy.

FEAR OUTBREAK BY MEN NEEDING DRUGS

FIND 100,000 IN NEW YORK

Federal Agents Say Some Physicians Wrote 200 Illicit Prescriptions a Day.

Following the arraignment yesterday of the six physicians and four druggists arrested under the Harrison Anti-Narcotic law, it was learned that agents of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, in a two months' investigation into the traffic in drugs in this city, had established that in the last year 1,500,000 prescriptions for the illicit procuring of narcotics had been issued and filled.

It was also ascertained that the Federal authorities have evidence that thirty physicians are in a sort of "drug ring" issuing prescriptions for narcotics for fees ranging from 25 cents to $4. The principal drug being dispensed in this city, according to the investigations of the Federal agents, is heroin, a derivitive of opium, and one of the most destructive narcotic poisons. This drug is obtained through the regular channels at $12 to $15 an ounce and is retailed through the prescriptions at $60 to $75 an ounce.

The unscrupulous physicians writing the prescriptions are each issuing as many as 200 a day, the agents are prepared to prove, most of the doctors having no other practice. The investigations of the Government in New York have disclosed that 70 per cent. of the drug addicts are less than twenty-five years old, and that included in the victims are a remarkably high percentage of discharged soldiers and sailors.

Further details of Tuesday night's raids, obtained yesterday, revealed that sixty-five signed and sworn confessions were given to the agents by the nearly 200 addicts who were gathered in the basement of Police Headquarters. One of the addicts, a young man in the grip of heroin, related to the agents how he went into a "strange" drug store on a chance that he might be able to get his drug.

"Got a prescription?" inquired the druggist, according to the man's story.

"No? Well, wait a while, the doctor will be in here in a minute and he'll fix you up." In a short time a physician came in, he said, and he was "fixed up."

In one of the drugstores ransacked in the raid the agents found a box containing 50,000 prescriptions for drugs, all dated within the last ten months. In another the records showed a year's dispensing of 100,000 orders for narcotics. Records seized at the physician's offices and retained by the police indicate, it is said, that 800 patients requiring drugs visited the six doctors regularly, one physician maintaining a card index of 200 daily patients.

As an aftermath of the raid, the Federal agents and the police were worried yesterday that somewhere in the city were 800 men deprived of drugs and likely to break out violently when the narcotic hunger became stronger. To cope with this situation a hurried consultation was held in the office of Health Commissioner Copeland, representatives of the Federal Government, New York State Narcotic Commission, and the Police Department participating.

To Open Clinic for Addicts.

As a result, the Bureau of Drug Addiction Clinic will be opened this morning at 9 o'clock in the Board of Health Building, 139 Centre Street, and until 5 o'clock drug addicts of the six arrested doctors will be supplied with drugs at cost. Health Commissioner Copeland said that yesterday between thirty-five and fifty addicts had telephoned his office seeking drugs, and that he had sent many of them to clinics. Commissioner

Firm on Indemnity Pledge, Lloyd George Tells Parliament

LONDON, April 9, (Associated Press.)—Premier Lloyd George has addressed a message to the members of Parliament, saying:

"My colleagues and I mean to stand faithfully by all the pledges which we gave our constituencies. We are prepared at any moment to submit to the judgment of Parliament, and, if necessary, of the country, our efforts loyally to redeem our promises."

The Premier's message was in reply to a telegram sent to Mr. Lloyd George yesterday, signed by 200 members of the House of Commons, holding the Premier to his election pledges to exact the utmost indemnity from Germany. The movement was initiated by a group of Conservative members under the belief that it would strengthen the Premier's hand at the conference.

LONDON, April 9.—Andrew Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer, is on a flying trip to Paris, and the Government, according to Lord Northcliffe's Evening News, is in grave peril. The Westminster Gazette, on the other hand, attaches "little value to wild men who threaten to engineer a revolt against the Government."

Most of the trouble is over the question of reparation by Germany. Wild election promises made by many coalition candidates are coming home to roost.

Two hundred or, according to some accounts, 300 Members of Parliament sent a telegram to Premier Lloyd George urging him to present a bill of damages to Germany, obtain a German acknowledgment of the indebtedness, and leave discussion as to ways and means of settlement till later. This ingenious plan was apparently devised with the object of saving the faces of legislators who had promised their constituents more than Germany can pay. What Lloyd George thinks of it has not been reported, but at any rate he considered the parliamentary situation created by his supporters' round robin sufficiently serious to necessitate a personal consultation with the leader of the House of Commons.

It was the Northcliffe press which to a large extent forced upon the coalition candidates at the general election the program which the Premier is now

Wilson's Ship to Sail Today, Following Rush Orders

The United States naval transport George Washington will sail at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon for Brest to be in readiness for President Wilson's return trip to America. With moderate weather crossing the Atlantic the transport should reach Brest late on April 17 or early on the morning of the 18th.

Unless the George Washington encounters extraordinarily stormy weather on her eastward voyage she will be ready to embark President Wilson and his party at Brest at noon on April 19 and arrive in New York late on April 26 or early on Sunday, the 27th.

At first the orders received from Washington were that the George Washington should sail from Pier 5, Hoboken, at 4:30 P. M. on Friday, instead of the original date, Monday, April 14, at the same hour in the afternoon. A second message came from the Navy Department Tuesday asking that the sailing be expedited as much as possible, and there was no difficulty in setting the date for today, as the transport was all ready and provisioned for sea.

FALL OF ODESSA DISQUIETS PARIS

NEW DANGER TO RUMANIA

Poland Also, It Is Felt, Is in Serious Situation Because of Recent Events.

PARIS, April 9.—The evacuation of the Black Sea port of Odessa by the allied forces is confirmed officially. The news caused anxiety, but no surprise. The French General in command there announced a few days ago that he would hold Odessa to the last against the increasing pressure of the Red Army, but Foreign Minister Pichon told the Chamber of Deputies on March 27 that the situation was serious, because of the problem of feeding the 800,000 civilian inhabitants.

The allied forces at Odessa, numbering approximately 50,000 men, included three French regiments, three Greek regiments, and a Rumanian contingent. The entire force has retired to Rumania and Constantinople.

The chief cause of anxiety lies in the fact that the most fertile regions in Southern Russia have fallen into the hands of the Bolshevist forces, giving them immense resources of grain, coal, and minerals.

The situation in Rumania and Poland is far from reassuring, even with these additional troops to help form a cordon against the spread of Bolshevism. Both Rumanians and Poles require the largest measure of aid from the Allies in providing them with food, military equipment, and organization.

It is regarded as essential in competent quarters that General Haller's Polish divisions should be hurried eastward as soon as possible, for otherwise, it is pointed out, there is the possibility of the formation of a great Bolshevist bloc consisting of Russians, Hungarians, and Germans, which would be so powerful that immense forces would be required to resist it.

Statesmen of various countries gathered in Paris discussed the Odessa question with considerable inquietude today, and it was expected that it would form the subject of discussion among the delegates to the Peace Conference.

It was remarked in semi-official circles that reports received from Russia

Tornado Kills 100 in Texas and Oklahoma; Hundreds Buried in Debris of Ruined Towns

DALLAS, Texas, April 9.—A hundred lives were taken by a storm which swept North Texas, Southern Oklahoma, and a section of Arkansas last night and early today, according to reports received here up to 10 o'clock tonight. Many points still were isolated at that hour, and the number of fatalities may be increased when full details are available, as the tornado swept through thickly settled farming communities. Hundreds were injured, and the property damage was large.

Reports from communities show the following deaths: Canaan, Texas, 4; Durant, Okla., 11; Wood County, Texas, 4; Pontotoc County, Okla., 1; Ector, Texas, 3; Ravenna, Texas, 8; Mineola, Texas, 11; Tundra, Texas, 8; Winnsboro, Texas, 15; San Angelo, Texas, 1; Texarkana, Texas, 1; Newsome, Texas, 6; Pleasant Grove, Texas, 2; Eustace, Texas, 1; Ogden, Ark., 5; Walters, Okla., 1.

The storm came up from the Rio Grande Valley with a high wind and heavy rain, gaining force until it tore through the northern tier of Texas counties with the destructiveness of a tornado.

The storm was erratic. At times it leaped a mile or more, skipping some farmhouse, only to demolish the next one. No cities of size were in its path.

Most of those killed were buried under their falling homes. The heavy rainfall extinguished the numerous fires that started when houses were overturned.

The little town of Canaan was completely wiped out. Its cotton gin, church, school and cotton warehouse, containing much of last year's crop of the nearby farmers, and its sixteen houses were all swept to the ground.

At Mineola the storm struck with extreme severity. Three white women and eight negroes were killed and many others received such serious injuries that their deaths are expected.

Much damage was done to the fruit crops in many sections, according to reports.

Shaw E. Ray, postmaster at Winnsboro, was authority for the statement of fifteen dead in that community. He said that in addition those badly injured would number more than a hundred.

WILHELM'S NARROW ESCAPE

Decision Is Against His Execution For Crimes Charged.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, April 9.—The discussion in the Council of Four yesterday has made clear that ex-Kaiser Wilhelm is not to suffer capital punishment for high crimes and misdemeanors, but he will probably never know how narrowly he escaped the imposition of the supreme penalty. He may thank his stars and to an equal degree Robert Lansing, Secretary of State of the United States, for the mercy that is to be shown him.

The question of lesser punishment is still undetermined. The Council of Four has under consideration a report from the Commission on Responsibilities strongly recommending his trial by a military tribunal. To this report Mr. Lansing, who is President of the commission, and the Japanese representative have made reservations—in other words, have disagreed with the conclusions of the overwhelming majority of the other belligerent nations, big and little.

President Wilson, with Clemenceau, Lloyd George, and Orlando, is giving careful study to the report and Secretary Lansing's counterargument. The most that may be said is that the possibility of action likely to result in the ex-Kaiser's execution has been eliminated.

From the outset of the discussions in the Commission on Responsibilities there was a distinct effort on the part of the French, British, and other nations to prove that the Kaiser deserved death. It is said that many precedents were cited to show that this punishment would be consistent with the treatment of other tyrannical and irresponsible monarchs. But references to the execution of Mary Queen of Scots, Charles I., Louis XVI., and Marie Antoinette did not stand up under the application of latter-day conceptions of justice.

It was finally agreed unanimously that on legal grounds Wilhelm could not be held responsible for bringing on the war, and on that point all the members of the commission are united in their suggestions to the council. But the French, British, Italians, and smaller nationalities represented in the commission's personnel believe that political exigencies demand that he be dealt with severely. It is gathered that they are trying to influence the council to regard him in the light of another Napoleon, whose complete freedom of action would be a menace to the world.

Secretary Lansing has submitted a separate memorandum in which Wilhelm's culpability is considered from a legal point of view. While the overwhelming majority of the commission contends that he is responsible largely for the acts in violation of the rules of war committed by his land and naval forces, Mr. Lansing is understood to take the ground that what was done in his name was sustained by his own people, and that he cannot be held legally culpable for that reason. At the same time there is no effort on Mr. Lansing's part, it is stated, to prove that Wilhelm and his principal advisers are entitled to be let off without punishment. On this particular point, however, there is no definite information, since the members of the commission have bound themselves to secrecy.

Vienna Wants British Troops to Avert Disorder; Berlin Also Talks of Asking Aid of Foch's Forces

LONDON, April 8.—Defending the Military bill in the House of Lords today, Earl Curzon of Kedleston, President of the Council and Government leader in the House of Lords, stated that Vienna, "being in a serious position and apprehensive lest it should share the fate of Budapest, had turned to Great Britain and said: 'If you will send 10,000 British troops, we can guarantee the situation.'"

Earl Curzon was not sure that war conditions would not revive. He said:

"I see clouds on the horizon which may burst at any moment in a more sinister form than anything yet seen. If the critics of this bill can show the Government how to rule Ireland without maintaining 40,000 troops there they will confer a great favor on the Government."

PARIS, April 9.—At the latest session of the German Cabinet Council the Government considered the eventuality of making an appeal to the allied armies to maintain order in Germany, in the interest of the whole of Europe, the Zurich correspondent of Le Journal reports.

The newspaper, L'Eclair, understands that General Humbert, former commander of the French Third Army, will be appointed "commander of the allied troops in Central Europe."

Reports reach the American delegation that conditions in Vienna are becoming worse. Acts of violence are increasing, but the radical elements are restrained by the need of food from the Allies.

The Volkswehr, a popular force, something between the imperial army and the revolutionists, is showing increased independence. A meeting of the Soldiers and Workmen's Council has been set for Monday, when a Soviet form of government will be discussed.

BERLIN, April 9, (Associated Press.)—The Brunswick correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger reports a general strike and a strong movement in favor of proclaiming Brunswick a Soviet republic.

At a mass meeting this morning, the correspondent says, former President Merges in a speech urged a union with Soviet Russia as the only salvation for Germany, "which is on the verge of a precipice." Amid the plaudits of the crowd Merges demanded the immediate proclamation of a Soviet republic, and a union with Russia and Hungary.

The newly elected Workers' Council is to meet this afternoon to proclaim itself the sole sovereign power in Brunswick.

BERLIN, April 8, (via Copenhagen.)—It is not merely a coincidence that strikes and riots are rampant all over Germany at the time the Soviet Congress convenes, and that just a few days before its opening a Bolshevist republic was proclaimed at Munich.

Spartacides, Independent Socialists, Hungarian and Russian agents have been feverishly active for weeks seeking to create an atmosphere of nervousness and general unrest throughout Germany favorable to an explosion which would sweep the delegates to the Congress off their feet and convince them that only the most radical measures would satisfy the masses.

The regular Socialist Party yesterday warned all its Berlin organizations not to yield to the entreaties of Bolshevist agents to enter a general strike. So far this warning has had a good effect. Only the bank employes have struck, but they proclaim that their strike is merely economic.

The Prussian railway employes also threaten a strike, demanding certain privileges, which may be conceded tonight.

The agitators go from one factory to another and seem bound to have success in many of them before another twenty-four hours have passed. In the suburbs large red posters may be seen at every street corner asking the workmen to "come out tomorrow" in order to precipitate matters and stir up the masses.

Reds Incite War Cripples.

A clash between the war cripples and volunteer troops has been arranged by the Government's enemies. The war cripples have been told that they must ask for larger pensions, for which purpose they intend to demonstrate before the Government buildings in Wilhelmstrasse tomorrow, despite the fact that Berlin is still under martial law, which prohibits all public gatherings.

Of course, the Government troops may have to use force to prevent the pro-

HUNGARIAN REDS IN STRONG CONTROL

LENINE OFFERS AN ARMY

German-Austrian Volunteers Reported Flocking to Communist Standard at Budapest.

PARIS, April 9.—The mission to Hungary, of which General Jan Christian Smuts is the head, has returned to Paris and confirms press accounts that complete nationalization is a practical Bolshevist ruse.

The members reported that the de facto Government was well installed and said that during the conferences with the mission it showed an obvious disposition not to quarrel with the Allies, but rather to meet them amicably on all questions consistent with the nature of the Bolshevist régime. The impression gained by the Commission was that there might be some chance of adjustment of Hungary's debts through friendly negotiations, but that otherwise it was difficult to see any chance whatever.

Advices reaching here say that Nikolai Lenine, the Russian Bolshevist Premier, has sent M. Samelli of the School of Propaganda at Moscow as a delegate to Budapest and that the envoy has advised Bela Kun, the Hungarian Foreign Minister, that the Bolsheviki will send an army of 150,000 to assist the Hungarian Bolsheviki.

The American peace delegation has received advices showing that Lenine is taking a prominent part in advising the new Hungarian Government. He is communicating by wireless, courier, and airplane, counselling moderation in order to avoid the errors and excesses of the Russian revolution.

The Bolsheviki appear to have hopes that communication can be established between Hungary and Russia and that Bolshevism will break out in Rumania and Bulgaria.

A wireless message from Bela Kun to M. Tchitcherin, the Russian Bolshevist Minister of Foreign Affairs, under date of April 8, has been intercepted by the Paris wireless officials. The message follows:

"The German papers are publishing the stupid story that our dictatorship is only a patriotic mask and the only way the bourgeoisie of the Central Powers could deceive the imperialism of the Entente.

"We do not want to use the dictatorship of the Hungarian proletariat to take bourgeois chestnuts out of the fire for the bourgeoisie. When the German proletariat shall have power they will not use it for the benefit of German imperialism and will throw out Scheidemann, Ebert, Noske, David and their press valets."

Another dispatch under the same date from Nikolai Lenine, the Bolshevist Premier, to Bela Kun, says:

"Please send details of the revolution in Bavaria. We have only the barest announcement. Wireless a complete statement of how the new State was established."

Lenine also sent a message to Bela Kun asking him to advise the entire world that Odessa had been taken by the Ukrainian Bolsheviki.

LONDON, April 9.—Twelve hundred German-Austrian volunteers for the Hungarian Communist Army have arrived in the Hungarian capital from Vienna under command of the Austrian communist leaders Roth and Ziegel, an PARIS, April 9.—Everywhere in Peace Conference quarters relief seems to be felt over the outcome of the effort to bring about peace. President Wilson is credited with having told his allied associates at their meeting yesterday, the first he had attended for several days on account of his illness, that it was useless to go over old ground in an effort to restore harmony.

He is said to have informed them that his position on every disputed point was too well known to need further explanation or interpretation. He had laid all his cards on the table, so to speak, and no change in his attitude was to be expected.

This statement attributed to the President, coming on top of the knowledge that he had ordered the George Washington to return to France without delay, is believed to have cleared the atmosphere and brought the other members of the Big Four to a realization that unless complete agreement was reached quickly on all major problems the United States might find it necessary to with draw from the Conference.

Taking the situation from every aspect, there is now a distinct hope that the obstacles which angered the President will be removed and a basis of peace established within a measurable period.

Two Great Obstacles Removed.

PARIS, April 9, (Associated Press.)—The responsibility of Wilhelm Hohenzollern for the war and the means for bringing him to trial by one of the allied Governments, probably Belgium, have been definitely determined upon by the Council of Four, which met this morning at the Paris "White House," with President Wilson in attendance.

This follows the definite decision on the terms of reparations for war damages, whereby $5,000,000,000 must be paid within the next two years, while an inter-allied commission will assess the remaining damage for a period of thirty years, beginning May 1, 1921.

Thus, two of the great obstacles which stood in the path of the rapid attainment of peace have been removed within the last twenty-four hours, and the period of extreme tension over the inaction and the failure to secure tangible results is succeeded by revived confidence over the great advance made toward a permanent settlement.

How far these results are due to the intimations conveyed by the summoning to France of the George Washington by President Wilson is only conjectural, but it is at least a coincidence that the main difficulties began to dissolve from the time that his decision became known.

The exact nature of these difficulties is not disclosed. Friends of the President maintain that they were largely of a minor character, not involving large principles, although Mr. Wilson's adherence to his "fourteen points" as the rigid limitation of the scope of action appears to have run all through the deliberations during the tense period of the last few days.

While the tension has been greatly reduced, it is not entirely removed, as much depends on the continuation of progress with respect to the remaining obstacles, notably the problems of the Saar Valley and the Rhine frontier, the Adriatic issue, and a number of lesser issues.

Settlement Reached on Saar Valley.

The Council of Four reached an agreement this afternoon on the Saar Valley. The agreement leaves sovereignty over the valley unchanged but accords to France free of duty sufficient coal for the Lorraine iron industry and to replace the production of the mines destroyed in the Lens mining district, with the privilege to the Germans of restoring the Lens mines and thus relieving the Saar Valley of that charge.

This agreement removes one of the most difficult obstacles to the conclusion of peace.

The reparations report as finally approved specifies that the enemy countries must admit responsibility for all loss and damage to allied and associated nations and their citizens caused by their unjustifiable aggression. But in view of the inability of the enemy countries fully to recompense these losses, the clause states, an interallied commission will assess the losses on a just basis for thirty years, beginning May 1, 1921, with an initial payment of $5,000,000,000.

Germany is to pay the entire cost of the commission and staff during the thirty years of operations. The first payment is to be credited against Germany's obligation to pay for the maintenance of the allied troops in the occupied regions, and the second priority is for the payment of food relief furnished to Germany.

"Talking cannot go on forever," and similar cryptic replies were the most definite information on the general peace situation The Associated Press was able to obtain from the members of the American peace delegation this morning.

When asked today why it was necessary for the traveling plans of the American delegation to be dependent upon the steamship George Washington, and why it could not go home on the Leviathan or some other ship sailing on an earlier date, one of the American delegates replied that he did not think it was necessary to make hurried plans.

Unaffected by Press Criticism.

The denunciation of the American peace delegation by the French press and charges that the ordering of the transport George Washington to come to Brest before its regular time is nothing short of blackmail have not affected the American delegates, who apparently are not surprised at the newspaper criticism.

While the Americans repeatedly reaffirm their belief that considerable progress has been made in the last three days, one member remarked:

"It is not a bad idea to have the ship at Brest ready for the return."

President Wilson conferred last night with Secretary Lansing concerning the minority report of the Commission on Responsibility for the War, which was not clear to the President.

Representatives of the conference have visited Versailles again to look after arrangements for the signing of the peace treaty in the palace there. The commission which has the work in hand is composed of M. Arnavo, secretary to Paul Dutasta, General Secretary of the conference; Messrs. Harrison and Patchin of the American delegation, Messrs. Norman and Sylvester of the British delegation, the Marquis of Durazzo and the Marquis Paterno of the Italian delegation, and Mr. Kavai of the Japanese delegation.

The newspaper correspondents will be accommodated in the northern wing of the palace. New telephonic arrangements were ordered for the Hall of Mirrors.

The enemy delegates will probably be lodged in villas in the neighborhood of Versailles.

NOT ALL CLEAR YET.

Points About Reparation Left—Disappointment Over Danzig.

By CHARLES A. SELDEN.

By Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, April 8.—So far as the difficult peace problem of reparation is concerned, the Big Four reached the stage of agreement this afternoon, at which document drafters like to say that every "i" is dotted, every "t" crossed. The thing seems fixed, and, as adopted, the plan names no definite figure which Germany must pay, but defines what the damages are and commits Germany to pay them when they are ascertained.

The reparation section of the peace treaty is now ready, but there is much work to be done in the future, and the door of uncertainty and bitterness on this question of paying the costs is not closed. As a sample of the problems left to the future, there is the ability of Germany to pay and such puzzles as how long France may retain the Saar Valley coal output, and how much credit shall be given to Germany for that coal on the general reparation account.

The Big Four considered both the Saar Valley and the question of responsibility for the war this afternoon.

Another question announced as settled is that of Danzig. Germany does not keep Poland from it, for it is made an international city. Poland is assured that under this plan the port will serve her commercial purposes as well as if it were her own, but Paderewski seemed broken-hearted when informed of the decision. He made a somewhat sensational pilgrimage to Paris for the very purpose of pleading for Danzig, but could not overcome the objections of Lloyd George, who felt that the city should remain in possession of the Germans. The Americans were equally desirous of giving it to Poland. So the internationalization is a compromise arrangement, which pleases no nation in Europe.

"BLACKMAIL," SAYS MATIN.

It Thus Characterizes "Propagandists" Use of President's Cable.

PARIS, April 9.—"We do not accuse our allies of forgetting what France has done," says the Matin today, "but nevertheless we witnessed a curious thing yesterday. American propagandists, or newspaper men, knowing that President Wilson had summoned to Brest the ship which is to take him back to America, saw in this natural order an opportunity for blackmail. They made—with the disapproval of all Americans who are friends of France—a bold-faced attempt at intimidation. 'If you are not more accommodating,' they went all over the city saying, 'our President will return home, and you can extricate yourself from your difficulties by yourself.'"

The Matin's article pungently criticises the Peace Conference under large captions, reading: "Disquieting Mysteries in the Council of Four. In Five Months Allied Governments Have Not Solved a Single Problem. Odessa in the Power of the Bolsheviki."

The newspaper declares that it has been the method of the Conference to put the concerns of France last. England and America having obtained all they required, says the Matin, "Now we come—we with our bothersome demands—and if we do not get satisfaction our country will be financially dead. Such will be the fruit of our sacrifices."

In an article discussing whether the Monroe Doctrine can be made to coexist with the League of Nations, the Matin says it would be paradoxical to unite it, adding:

"Either the League of Nations extends to the entire world, in which case Europeans would violate the Monroe Doctrine in mingling in American affairs, or the League of Nations includes only Europe, in which case the Americans would violate the Monroe Doctrine by mixing in European affairs."

CAPITAL EXPECTS WILSON TO PREVAIL

Growing Belief That He Will Bring Back Treaty and League Plan That Will Be Accepted.

MAY MEAN EARLY SESSION

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Talk was again heard at the Capitol today of an early reconvening of Congress. If President Wilson, unable to speed up the peace delegates, decides to return from France within two weeks, there was an impression at the Capitol that he might call Congress into session not later than May 5. If the President is able to hurry the deliberations so that definite terms are reached by Easter, it was suggested that he would wait until toward the middle of May before calling the extra session.

One Republican leader, in discussing the President's attitude at Paris, said that Mr. Wilson's insistence on an early agreement would undoubtedly prevail. The President, this Senator said, knew that the American people were impatient to have peace established and that they sympathized with his efforts to speed up the work. The American people, this Senator said, being anxious to prevent another world war, would accept the League of Nations, if the President made sure that the Monroe Doctrine and other principles of individual sovereignty of the United States were protected.

The nations of Europe needed the wealth and moral influence of the United States, the Senator added, in the readjustment of their economic affairs and as a means of averting future wars. With the United States out of the Peace Conference, Great Britain, France, and Italy would be unable to form an alliance that would achieve definite results toward world peace. This fact would influence the "Big Four" to hurry along the consummation of the peace treaty.

Opinion is gradually crystallizing on the League of Nations. While much talk has been heard in the last few weeks of opposition to the League project unless much modified, the impression is gaining that the League of Nations, when adopted by the Paris conferees, will be in such shape that it will be accepted by the Senate.

Approval of the fundamentals of the League by Elihu Root ten days ago, along with his suggestion as to amendments from the American viewpoint, has caused many to believe that the League will be indorsed in the Senate. The President, they say, has pursued a diplomatic policy in urging amendments along lines suggested by Mr. Root and other friendly critics of the League. When the President is through with his efforts to perfect the League, these Senators say, opponents will find it hard to make headway against the covenant.

The cablegram received Saturday by Senator Hitchcock, Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, from Paris, stated, it is understood, that basic objections to the League, as voiced here, had been met in amendments urged by the President. The Nebraska Senator said the cable brought word that was "entirely satisfactory." He insists that the covenant will be approved by the Senate.

There has been talk that the Senate might ratify the combined treaty and League plan, but attach reservations as to American matters, so that the United States would not be bound to definite acquiescence on some points at issue. But the general opinion is that this recourse will not be necessary.

Senate leaders are anxious to have the peace treaty out of the way. They feel that after-war legislation should be pressed. Senator Lodge, who will be majority leader of the Senate, is already laying the groundwork for work in the upper house. He will outline a policy at a conference of leaders here within three weeks. According to indications, the Republicans and Progressives will reach an agreement on the policy to pursue.

WILSON'S CABLE DELAYED.

Our Naval Communications Office in London Held It by Error.

PARIS, April 9.—The cable message giving directions for the steamer George Washington to be sent to France was held up in London for two days for "some unaccountable reason," it was announced in American quarters here today. This fact was discovered, it was stated, when the American mission made an investigation because of the printing here of Washington dispatches declaring that the George Washington had not been ordered to France.

It was later announced that the delay of the message was due to an error in the American Naval Communications Office in London.

A dispatch was received today from the Navy Department saying that the George Washington would be able to sail in forty-eight hours.

CALLS FOR ALLIED UNITY.

Copyright, 1919, by The New York Times Company.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, April 9.—The Temps in a leading editorial today continues, with great emphasis, to appeal for allied unit against Bolshevism. Ever since December there have not been wanting persons to utter warnings against the Bolshevist danger. The recent loss of Odessa and impending events in Germany have brought home the reality of the peril, and now Germany may be overwhelmed.

"On that day," says the Temps, "the Governments whose chiefs are deliberating in Paris will be the sole guardian of order, liberty, and civilization in the world. All of civilization's power, economic, military, and naval, will be in their hands, and with it all the future of humanity.

"What are they to do? They must bind themselves to stand together as long as the storm lasts. They must trace a common program not only of defense, but of economic restoration and social progress. They must foresee and avoid a financial and industrial crisis in their own ranks and assure internal reforms that will benefit the masses and complete their education. Only such a policy of union against the common danger will be of avail to prevent the blaze spreading."

WILSON TAKES A RIDE.

Goes Out in an Automobile for First Time Since Illness.

PARIS, April 9.—President Wilson left the "White House" after the meeting of the Council of Four today for the first time since his illness.

Called to Go on George Washington.

PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—Dr. J. Chalmers Dacosta of the Jefferson Medical College, an officer in the navy, received orders from Washington tonight to sail on the steamship George Washington for Brest. The nature of Dr. Dacosta's mission could not be learned, but it was not believed at Jefferson College that he had been summoned to Paris on account of President Wilson's illness.

LONDON INDEMNITY STORM

finding it difficult, if not impossible, to carry out, and the Northcliffe press is now consequently much annoyed. The Weekly Dispatch last Sunday began muttering threats against the Lloyd George Government, and other organs of the same political color have been indulging in such persistent attacks on the Government that rival papers like the radical Daily News claim to perceive that Northcliffe is now determined to bring down Lloyd George just as he brought down Asquith.

Dissatisfaction Widespread.

That there is deep and widespread dissatisfaction with the Government is admitted by The Daily Express, which generally supports the coalition and which declares that Lloyd George appealed to Sir Auckland Geddes to postpone his acceptance of the post of Principal of McGill University, not so much because his activities were required in this country, as because his resignation would necessitate a by-election. Geddes had nearly 5,000 majority at the general election, and, if The Express's assertion that the Government fears the loss of such an apparently safe seat is correct, the outlook is a very serious one for Lloyd George and the coalition.

Continually conflicting news about the progress at the Peace Conference has had an upsetting influence on the public. People in the streets, at their homes, and in clubs talk openly of the failure of the politicians to make peace, and the average man one meets about London appears to think that, even if the Germans have not "won the peace," they are at least getting off too lightly.

High Tories and low Radicals are equally dissatisfied, although for different reasons. The Morning Post wants the Statue of Liberty wreathed in mourning because it thinks President Wilson has had his way. The Daily News and The Star have been in paroxysms of anxiety over the reported demands by France. The last-mentioned paper is tonight more cheerful, believing that "Wilson by summoning the steamship George Washington has done the right thing in the right way. If Wilson goes home, Lloyd George will follow his example. America and Britain will stand or fall by a clean peace, and will stand or fall together."

Lest Lloyd George should be justified if he put his tongue in his cheek when he read The Star's recommendations and ejaculated, "Praise from Sir Hubert," the radical evening paper reminds him, apropos of the M. P.'s round robin, "at least we who returned Asquith to power never had to wire him to keep his pledges within four months of their being made."

Obligations to Belgium.

Political prejudices possibly color many of the views expressed in the papers, but they are by no means responsible for all the current criticisms. The Daily Chronicle, which is a steadfast supporter of Lloyd George, has today a slashing article complaining that Britain's and France's obligations to Belgium were in danger of not being discharged.

"While other subjects are passionately debated at the Peace Conference," said The Chronicle editorial, "it is painful to find how far this one, on which no debate ought to exist, has been allowed to go by default. Indeed, until last week there was a prospect that Belgium's claims to reparation might be left to rank with those of all the other Allies, not merely those for damage suffered, but those for the cost of the war; in other words, instead of recovering all and more than all that she sacrificed she would at last recover perhaps 10, perhaps 20, perhaps 30 per cent. For her such a prospect spelled absolute ruin, for us indelible disgrace. We believe, however, that King Albert by his visit to Paris last week brought the associated powers back to a truer perspective in regard to their ultimate obligations."

Still, the immediate duty of the Allies to Belgium was being neglected. The associated powers "are not even financing the Belgian Government over its temporary insolvency. There was a plan whereby Great Britain, France, the United States, and some minor contributors were to advance it credits for thirty millions, but we believe the sum of nine millions from Great Britain is all that materialized."

One shrewd writer today, discussing the work accomplished in Paris, says:

"Like Mohammed's coffin, we are between heaven and earth; but, unlike Mohammed's, we are not asleep in it."

Attack Handling of Polish Question.

Copyright, 1919, by The Chicago Tribune.

LONDON, April 9.—Half of the London press, led by the Northcliffe journals, are now howling at the heels of Lloyd George. They denounce the failure to send Polish troops through Danzig as a fatal folly and weakness. They declare that if Danzig is not finally given to Poland as its seaport, another war will be inevitable. The Morning Post, organ of the Old Toryism, joins in the chorus of furious anger at "the great Danzig betrayal."

"If Mr. Lloyd George does not bring back the peace that the people were promised, his number is up," declares The London Dispatch.

"What pressure does the Big Four propose to apply if the Germans refuse to sign the Treaty, or, having signed it, refuse to carry out its terms?" asks the Daily Mail. "These are points of special importance, in view of the Danzig affair. Where the Hun is granted an inch, he takes a mile. He has been trying in this affair to see whether the Allies are firm and decided. Now that he finds they are neither, he will take other liberties. It is a sad day for peace and a worse day for Poland."

"An unseen hand," the Morning Post says, "is stifling infant Poland in its cradle, and this is being done in the interest of German-Jewish capitalism. We are fighting Bolshevism in opposition to a very strong group of German-Jewish and Russian Jew capitalists, who are working for the Bolshevist cause. Mr. Lloyd George and President Wilson—those champions of liberty—seem to be more susceptible to the influences of alien capitalism than to the cry for freedom of long-enchained Poland."

On the other hand, the Daily Express, Lord Beaverbrook's sensational morning paper, declares that "the Polish question is complicated by the assertion that Jews are now being systematically persecuted by Poles, who have just won their freedom, and an American Jewish delegation is in Paris to endeavor to force from the Allies some guarantee for freedom for the immense Polish Jew population in Poland."

Week after week it is announced in London that the Premier will be back within a few days with a completed treaty of peace, and will face his enemies with great speeches of explanation in the House of Commons. Now it is expected next week, although news from Paris of the ravages of "flu" among the big four may cause still further delays.

The only out-and-out journalistic supporters of Lloyd George in his Danzig policy are The Daily News, which is the Liberal morning paper controlled by the Cadburys, Quaker manufacturers, and The Herald, the newly established labor daily. The latter, however, is fighting the Government in almost every possible way, and its editor, George Lansbury, was a subject of debate yesterday in Parliament, a result of his Hyde Park speech suggesting that British laborers should emulate the example of their fellows in Russia.

DISCUSS LENINE OFFER.

President Wilson Criticised in Debate in House of Commons.

LONDON, April 9.—Adjournment of the House of Commons was moved today to call attention to an alleged offer from Nikolai Lenine, through the Americans, to the Peace Conference. Clem Edwards, Coalition Liberal, and other speakers strongly objected to any negotiations with the Bolsheviki.

Horatio W. Bottomly, Liberal, in a vigorous denunciation of Bolshevism as nothing but German propaganda, said that if President Wilson was sympathetically considering a Lenine offer the sooner he returned to America and took the opinion of the American people the better it would be for the peace of the world.

James Henry Thomas, Labor member, deprecated the discussion as likely to embarrass the Paris negotiations, and said that, whatever else was in doubt, every one hoped nothing would arise to weaken Great Britain's friendship for the United States, because nobody could pretend that there was any other ally whose motives were so pure and clean.

Edward Shortt, Secretary for Home Affairs, replying in behalf of the Government, said he was sure there was no desire to avoid discussion with Russia, but there was certainly today no Government in Russia worthy of the name to discuss with.

"When it comes to the mere gang of bloodthirsty ruffians who are terrorizing the population of Russia," he declared, "we can have no truck with such men. We are entitled to tell the Russian people we will have nothing to do with a Government which is a danger to civilization.

"There is reason to doubt whether, as alleged, Americans have been to Russia and have returned, but it is a fact that no such proposals have been brought before the British delegates in Paris. It is, of course, possible that these gentlemen may have communicated with the delegates of other countries."

Personally, he said, he believed the whole story of Lenine being ready to negotiate was German-manufactured for the purpose of making other countries believe the Bolsheviki were really peaceable, civilized persons. The Germans were spreading Bolshevism wherever possible as their only hope, because where it went weakness supervened.

In conclusion, Mr. Shortt announced that Premier Lloyd George or Andrew Bonar Law, the Government spokesman in the House of Commons, would be in London next week and might be able to give more information.

PREPARING TO CURB REDS IN BAVARIA

Premier Hoffmann Aims to Regain Full Control from Northern Base.

BACKED BY PART OF ARMY

Dictators Take Steps to Intrench Themselves in Power at Munich.

By GEORGE RENWICK.

Copyright, 1919, by The New York Times Company

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, April 7.—A correspondent in Munich sends me an account of what has taken place there during the night. He says that the printing presses in the Bavarian Capital were busy turning out those proclamations which were to tell the people of the city and the surrounding neighborhood that a Soviet Government had been established. Those proclamations were posted all over Munich to greet the eyes of the first afoot and when the news spread the whole population of the city was soon in the streets.

As far as can be seen now, there was no open opposition in Munich to the new order of things. Down to the last worker, every man obeyed the summons by the new Government to make a holiday and celebrate the achievement of Bavarian's third revolution within five months by a general strike. That celebration will be continued tomorrow and as far as today was concerned it was not accompanied by disorder of any kind.

The masters of Munich today are two well-known Communists, Herr Mühsam and Herr Landauer, the former of whom is the author of the new press regulation scheme. They have the garrison on their side, and the First Guard Regiment there has issued an appeal for the formation of a Red Army to support and maintain the dictatorship of the proletariat.

Reds Tighten Their Grip.

Though, my correspondent proceeds, Munich is comparatively calm and the new Government appears to be firmly in the saddle, strange rumors are current of troops who are true to the Hoffmann Government and are marching on the city and that the Majority Socialists Government is determined to take action to overthrow the new régime.

In consequence the Mühsam-Landauer administration has taken countersteps to prevent its achievement from being undone. All the Government buildings are held by Soviet troops, armored motor cars patrol the streets at the most important points in the city, and guards with machine guns are posted.

Already the new régime has informed Moscow and Budapest of what has happened, and has sent the usual "fraternal greetings" to the "brothers" there. It is believed that a proclamation will be issued tomorrow declaring solidarity among Russia, Hungary, and the new Bavarian Government, which, my correspondent says, does not intend to brook any interference by the Central Berlin Government. From midday until 1 o'clock, my correspondent concludes, the city bells rang out the old and rang in the new order of things.

It is not possible to say to what extent the country regions are at one with Munich. A telegram from Fürth reports that the town has declared itself for the new administration. The executive of the Social Democratic Party of South Bavaria, by 240 votes to 13, decided in a similar sense, but the same cannot be said of Franconia or Northern Bavaria.

Hoffmann Strongly Supported.

To the capital of that region, Nuremberg, the Hoffmann Government has retired, and for the time being, at least, it appears to be certain of strong support. A message from a correspondent in that town informs me that it is believed there that the Majority Socialist Government is taking steps to restore itself and complete its sway over Bavaria.

The Hoffmann administration is now deliberating on the steps necessary to that end, but the members preserve silence as to what action they meditate. My correspondent is assured, however, by an authoritative personage that the Government at Nuremberg has at its command sufficient military forces to take effective action to restore its authority.

In the meantime, it is believed that a Republic of Northern Bavaria will be proclaimed. The peasants of Franconia are declared to be strongly against the inauguration of the Soviet system of government. On the other hand, the middle classes, as usual, are holding themselves aloof from all movements either one way or the other, though a Bourgoise strike is said to be in contemplation with a view to supporting Hoffmann, who claims to have 90 per cent. of the Majority Socialists on his side, as well as two Bavarian army corps. Hoffmann declares his intention to retain his post.

Later as this message is being dispatched I learn that a state of siege has been proclaimed at Munich and that a cleavage has appeared in the ranks of those supporting the new régime. The Communists refuse to work with the Majority Socialists. A great meeting today carried a resolution in favor of ousting the Majority Socialists from all co-operation in the Government.

Würzburg, where the banks, telephone, telegraph, and newspaper offices have been seized by communist troops, has declared itself on the side of Munich. Regensburg has done the same.

FORTUNES ABOVE $2,500 TO BE SEIZED IN MUNICH

By Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, April 8, (via Copenhagen April 9.)—Among the first measures undertaken by the new Munich Government is the expropriation of all private fortunes above 10,000 marks. After the deduction of considerable taxes from the fortunes to be seized, 3 or 4 per cent. interest will be paid the former owners while they live, but after their death the State will be undisputed heir. Rents for houses and flats will be immediately reduced, as well as the price of food.

The newspaper business is among the first industries which will be nationalized. The new People's Commissioners, however, who are really dictators, promise that the liberty of the press shall not be curtailed, although the bourgeois papers will be compelled to publish certain propaganda articles furnished by the Government. The rights of newspaper proprietors will be lodged in employes' councils. The theatres will be socialized in the same fashion. All breweries will be immediately appropriated by the State.

THREATS AT BREMERHAVEN.

Mass Meeting Demands Russian Alliance and More Food.

COPENHAGEN, April 9.—There was a great demonstration against the provincial and imperial authorities at Bremerhaven yesterday, organized by the three Socialist parties.

An immense meeting in the market place adopted a resolution demanding that the Government take energetic measures to remedy the food scarcity, and for that purpose to make an alliance with the Russian Soviet Government. A general strike is threatened unless the demands are met by April 13.

A committee was instructed to seize all the foodstuffs in the lower Weser district.

TROOPS CONTROL MAGDEBURG

Insurgents Occupy Bridge, Which They Threaten to Blow Up.

BERLIN, April 9, (Associated Press.)—According to newspaper reports, the troops of Minister of Military Affairs Noske began entering Magdeburg early this morning, meeting no serious resistance.

They swept the Dom-Platz clear and occupied the main streets. Under their protection the tram service has been resumed.

There was one collision between the troops and strikers and, according to the Vossische Zeitung, four persons were killed and several wounded. The troops recaptured the citadel and military headquarters from the Spartacides.

The insurgents have occupied the bridge over the Elbe, which they propose to blow up.

General von Kliest, commander of the German Fourth Army, who was arrested in Magdeburg on Monday with Herr Landsberg, the National Minister of Justice, has been set free, the Berlin Zeitung am Mittag hears.

700,000 IDLE IN BELGIUM.

Vandervelde Says Complete Reparation Is an Imperative Need.

PARIS, April 9.—Belgium must have complete reparation if the serious economic situation there is to be improved and Belgian industry is to regain its feet, according to Emile Vandervelde, Belgian Minister of Justice and Socialist leader, who gives his views in the Temps today.

The number of unemployed in Belgium is about 700,000, and the number of persons who have to be assisted by the Government is 230,000. In Brussels, where the normal number of workmen is 120,000, only 24,000 are employed. The textile industry at Verviers generally keeps 19,000 employed, but only 700 are working at present.

To add to the difficulties the cost of living is very high, and most industries are without money and raw materials with which to resume operation. In addition the stocks stolen by the Germans have not yet been returned.

PLOT TO STAMPEDE GERMAN SOVIETS

cession of war cripples from entering the city, which the instigators of this plan hope will lead to riots, under the influence of which the Congress may be stampeded, the Government overthrown and a Bolshevist republic proclaimed.

Had it not been for the timely discovery of the Magdeburg soldiers' plot, the plan might have had even more chances of success, since many thousands of loyal troops would have been diverted from Berlin. Nobody can tell which other German city may play the part originally intrusted to Magdeburg, or what other schemes the Spartacides may devise.

As yet General von Hoffmann, the defender of Berlin, has not the slightest fear that he cannot cope with any emergency, but he may have his hands full before tomorrow.

All the anti-Government elements seem determined to follow the example of Munich in proclaiming a Communist Republic comprising all Germany.

Uneasy Over Ledebour Demand.

When the Congress of German Soldiers and Workers' Councils opened this morning there were present 242 delegates, while their full number was 302. Of those present 138 were Majority Socialists, 55, including Austrian delegates, Independent Socialists; 3 Peasant League members, 12 Democrats, and 3 Communists.

This would look as if the Government had the full support of the congress, which, however, is more than doubtful, as proved by one of the first resolutions adopted. This resolution demands that the Government immediately release Georg Ledebour from imprisonment, which was passed by 190 votes to 83.

After this it was quite clear that the Majority Socialist leaders no longer had their own party in hand. The demand is that Ledebour, who has been imprisoned ever since the January revolution, by which, with Liebknecht, he sought to overthrow the present Government, shall now take his seat in the Soldiers and Workers' Congress, to which he was legally elected.

This congress differs decidedly from that of last December, which voted for the immediate convocation of the national convention. It is nervous in the highest degreee, knowing that its assembling may be made the occasion for another attempt to overthrow the Government and plunge all Germany into chaos.

The majority Socialists and Democrats have no intention of aiding in the overthrow of the Government, but they are certainly ready to make concessions to the independents and the latter are firmly determined to surprise and stampede the congress, which naturally can only be done with outside aid. Otherwise, it is asked why should they have insisted on calling this Congress, in which they could not hope for a majority.

Suspect Attempt at Coup.

The first day of the congress showed a fair sample of what sort of surprises had been prepared. About 10 o'clock ten heavily armed soldiers appeared in the lobby, stating that they had been sent to relieve the guards on duty there. They could not satisfy the loyal guards, and as the latter greatly outnumbered them they cleared out. They were believed to be Spartacides but went away unmolested.

The main question before the congress is how to make the Soldiers and Workers' Councils a permanent State institution, with almost or wholly equal power to that of the Legislature itself. The Times correspondent conversed with a number if the Socialist delegates in the lobby and found their solution of the question not very far removed from Hungarian and Russian ideas, while the independents made absolutely no secret of their intention to attempt a short cut like their Munich partisans and attempt it at once.

The afternoon session was marked by a Bolshevist attempt from the gallery to throw the convention into confusion. Gallery occupants demanded Ledebour's immediate release so tumultously that President Leinert had to suspend the proceedings for some time. Only now, it appears, do most of the members who voted for Ledebour's immunity realize what they have done.

The question arises, What will the Government do? Will it recognize the right of the congress to decree the immunity of its own members? Will it liberate its arch enemy and give him a chance to arrive on the battlefield at the most critical moment?

Landsberg Had Narrow Escape.

Minister of Justice Landsberg, whose release has been reported, told THE NEW YORK TIMES correspondent that the under officers of the Magdeburg regiment who arrested him really meant to protect him from the masses, who were greatly excited. Thousands collected in front of the barracks at Magdeburg, demanding that Landsberg be shot unless the independent leader Brandes, who had been arrested by the Government, was at once released.

In the afternoon Landsberg was placed in an open automobile and driven through howling crowds, which again demanded that he be shot. Some soldiers, obeying the mob, had already aimed their rifles at Landsberg's head when under officers interfered.

The kidnappers, anxious to cross the border of Brunswick, where they would have felt safer than in Prussia, reached the border town of Helmsted. There two large ladders formed a barricade. A policeman appeared, gun in hand, and shouted "Hands up!" The eight kidnappers obeyed quickly and swore that they only wished to save the Minister's life. The Helmsted police had been notified by Lansberg's Magdeburg friends of his plight.

STRIKE IN BERLIN BANKS RAILWAY TIEUP FEARED

Paris Hears That the Move Is General—Troops Marching on Essen.

BERLIN, April 9, (Associated Press.)—All the employes of the large Berlin banks have struck with the exception of those of the Handelsgesellchaft. The dispute is over a demand that the bank managements enter into negotiations with the National Minister of Labor for the purpose of fixing a definite wage schedule and adjusting other contested issues.

The employes of the Bank for Trade and Industry, better known as the Darmstadter Bank, went on strike Tuesday, and a half dozen other banks, including the Deutsche, Dresdener and Disconto, went to the aid of that bank by opening thirty of their branches to its customers. The employes of the Darmstadter Bank demanded an increase in pay which the bank could not see its way to granting without endangering the safety of the institution.

The threat of railroad employes to add to Germany's troubles by striking has brought a sharp reply from the Government in which such action is denounced as "a crime toward the entire people." Assurance is given the would-be strikers that a strike "will be regarded as a breach of contract and will be punished accordingly."

The Government statement appeals to railroad men to "remember that it spent billions for them at the expense of less fortunate employes," and declares that the Government would be "conscienceless were it to permit railroaders to injure the people by stopping transportation in these days of shortage of food and raw materials and hunger." It is pointed out that a stoppage of the entire industry of the country would be inevitable and that the employes would not only endanger their own position, but that of their wives and children.

The statement concludes with a surmise that the majority of the railroaders share these views and will do all in their power to prevent a strike, thereby proving their loyalty to the Fatherland in times of hardest trial and need by refraining from a ruinous struggle against the entire people."

A general strike has been proclaimed in Berlin and the suburb of Spandau, advices received here say. Herr Noske, the Minister of Defense, is reported to have concentrated 30,000 loyal troops at the gates of Berlin for use in case of trouble.

COPENHAGEN, April 9. — German Government troops are marching on Essen, where a collision has occurred between the strikers and the Christian Workers' organization, the members of which desire to continue at their employment, a Berlin dispatch announces. The strikers have occupied the Krupp munition plan

ESSEN, Apri (Associated Press.)—Although a se official announcement questions the correctness of the strikers' figures regarding the number of men idle here, another statement, intended for German consumption, admits that the situation is serious.

The production of coal shows a heavy decrease from the figures for a week ago. All the river harbors in this region are full of empty coal barges, with little prospect of filling them.

PEASANTS CUT OFF FOOD FROM MUNICH

Declare Blockade Until Red Government Quits—Diet Begins Session at Bamberg.

BERNE, April 9, (Associated Press.)—The Bavarian Peasants' Unions have published a manifesto against the Munich Soviet Government, declaring a blockade on all provisions against Munich and Augsburg, according to advices received here today.

No food will be sent to these towns until the new Government has retired.

NUREMBERG, April 9.—The peasants of Upper Franconia have declared in favor of the Hoffman Government. They assert that they will do everything possible to support it.

MUNICH, April 8, (Associated Press.)—With another twenty-four hours behind it, the Bavarian Council Government appears less able to impose itself upon the country, and the general political situation has become more involved and threatening than ever.

Not only has the support of the old Government taken concrete form in North Bavaria, but the breach among the Social Democrats in South Bavaria has widened until the Majority Socialists, the Independent Socialists and the Communists are far from united.

The Independent Socialists of Munich and Nuremberg are split hopelessly. In the latter city they are absolutely opposed to the Soviet system for the present. Those in the former city side with the proponents of the system, but lay down twelve conditions, including a dictatorship of the proletariat, the building up of workmen's councils, the socialization of the bureaucracy, according to the principles of the Workmen's, Peasants' and Soldiers' Councils, the introduction of general labor duty for the bourgeoisie, the reconstruction of courts on a revolutionary basis, the reconstruction of the dwelling system, the separation of church and State, the immediate revolutionizing of the system of school education, the socialization of the press, and the creation of a Red Army alliance with Russia and Hungary. They also demand proportional representation of the three parties in the central council.

The council has accepted these conditions, so the Independent Socialists are supporting the Soviet plan, but their leader, Dr. Levien, is still pessimistic and believes that the present council fails to represent the proletariat and that the basic idea of the council has been strangled.

The Majority Socialists in South Bavaria have gone utterly to pieces, and are wholly at odds with the rest of Bavaria. The bourgeoisie of both North and South Bavaria are working with renewed vigor to prevent the establishment of the council system.

The original Cabinet, containing two Majority Socialists, has been altered so as to eliminate them and several others to whom objection was made, but its make-up is still a matter of doubt.

Diet Opens at Bamberg.

BERLIN, April 9, (Associated Press.)—The Bavarian Diet opened at Bamberg yesterday. Ministers said they regarded the situation with great confidence and that outside assistance was not needed and would be refused.

Members of the Ministry addressed four mass meetings during the day and declared that the Diet had been removed to Bamberg from Munich so that it might be able peacefully to continue its work. It was announced that the Government had received protestations of loyalty from all parts of the country and was firmly resolved to restore the constitutional situation. Reliable troops, it is said, are at the command of the Government and volunteers are constantly being received.

Reports have reached Bamberg that at Würzburg there is a strong movement against the Munich Soviet Government and that the bourgeois parties of North Bavaria have issued an appeal urging co-operation by the Majority Socialists against what is termed "Munich terrorism."

The general strike in Munich was over today after the holiday on Monday in celebration of the founding of the Bavarian Soviet Republic.

Street cars were running again and the stores were open. The banks, however, were closed, as the new Government has not yet assumed control of them. They will be reorganized.

Dr. Mühlon and Professor Jaffe have declined to accept the portfolios of Foreign Affairs and National Economics, respectively, in the new Bavarian Government.

The town of Schweinfurt, in Lower Franconia, near Würzburg, has voted adhesion to the Soviet Republic.

A "state of war" exists in Nuremberg, according to placards posted there this morning. Parades and demonstrations are forbidden and the people are warned not to be on the streets between 11 P. M. and 5 A. M.

Completing Break with Berlin.

COPENHAGEN, April 9.—It has been officially announced in Munich that Ritter von Pruger, the Bavarian Envoy at Berlin, has been recalled. The Commissary for Foreign Affairs in giving his reasons for this step declares that the new German constitution can never become binding upon Bavaria, as Bavaria's special rights have been surrendered in the drawing up of that document.

The Württemberg, Baden, and Hesse Governments, according to a Stuttgart dispatch, still regard the Government under Premier Hoffmann as the sole legitimate regime in Bavaria.

BASLE, April 8.—Soviet councils have been chosen at Regensburg, sixty-seven miles northeast of Munich, and at Fürth, next to Nuremberg the principal manufacturing town in Bavaria.

Storage sheds of the American Red Cross were among the food depots pillaged by armed crowds in Nuremburg on Tuesday, according to dispatches received here. Goods to the value of 700,000 marks are said to have been taken from them.

BRITISH SUPPORTS OFF TO ARCHANGEL

Reds Massing for Fresh Attack on Vologda Railway Front, Despite Heavy Losses.

MURMANSK RIOT PUT DOWN

Allied Offer of Exchange of Prisoners Accepted Eagerly by Bolshevist Headquarters.

LONDON, April 9.—The first transport bearing the British relief force for the Archangel front will sail tonight. The members of the contingent began embarking at Tilbury today.

The new force comprises veteran officers and men who fought in various theatres during the war. It is an army in miniature, every arm of the service being represented. A few American engineers accompany it.

Recruiting for further reinforcements for North Russia is proceeding satisfactorily. The War Office appeal for volunteers states that the men must be trained soldiers who have been demobilized or discharged or who are serving at home or on normal engagements or for two, three, or four years.

All men re-enlisting must be fully trained, fit for general service, and over 19 years of age. To discharged or demobilized soldiers will be given the rank held when they left the colors. The pay will be the same as that of the armies of occupation. The period of enlistment will be for a year or for such shorter period as required, but no man re-enlisting for this duty will be kept longer than required for this special work.

On completion of the period of service all men will receive two months' furlough, or any longer period to which they may be entitled, on full pay.

Reds Prepare New Offensive.

The Bolsheviki, although they have been repulsed with heavy losses in attacks on three sectors of the front south of Archangel in the last week, are believed to be preparing for a further offensive on the Vologda railway sector, an official statement from the War Office says. Last week enemy attacks failed on the Obozerskaya sector, the Vologda railway sector and near Sred Mekhrenga.

Disorders on the Murmansk front were planned by Finnish troops and Bolshevist Finns, according to another official statement issued at the War Office, which states that they are not considered of political significance. The statement reads:

A telegram from Murmansk says that on April 7 a disturbance was caused at Murmansk by Chinese workmen, but it was soon put down, and was not considered significant politically. The majority of the rioters, most of whom were armed with revolvers and knives, are now in custody.

A party of Red Finns twice attacked one of our posts south of Segeja on April 7, but were both times repulsed, leaving six killed behind. We had no casualties. This attack furnishes additional corroboration of the intention to launch a simultaneous action by the Finnish Legion and Bolshevist Finns.

A Russian rifle regiment, which is a part of the allied forces in North Russia, has occupied Gapnavalok village, on the eastern shore of the Bay of Onega, sixty miles south of Soroka, capturing a Bolshevist patrol.

Americans Under Heavy Fire.

WITH THE AMERICAN TROOPS SOUTH OF OBOZERSKAYA, North Russia, April 7, (Associated Press.)—Reports brought in by patrols and information obtained from Bolsheviki taken prisoner during the last few days indicate that the enemy failed completely on not only this railroad front, but also on the right and left flanks, in his recent offensive aimed at Obozerskaya.

For a few days last week the Americans on this front exper

LONDON, April 9.—The wave of Bolshevism is slowly but surely sweeping westward. Old-time political and social institutions crumble before its advance, and are swallowed up. From the Russian steppes it has passed to the plains of Hungary. It is already at the gates of Vienna.

At first sight the establishment of a Soviet republic in Hungary and the adhesion of the whole people, from army commanders to peasants, to the Bolshevist institutions would seem inexplicable, but there are two underlying causes which contribute to the result.

One is that Western statesmen never fully realized the magnitude nor the possibilities of the Bolshevist movement. Another is that apathy and indifference—contempt if you like—have characterized the attitude of the Entente physicians in the handling of this dread disease of the body politic.

Bolshevism is highly organized. Behind it stand brains and driving force. It has well-defined aims and ambitions and marches straight toward its objective over the ruins of kingdoms and institutions.

All of its leaders, and especially those in Hungary, are not the wild-eyed, long-haired, unkempt, noisy-voiced individuals caricatured in the comic press. In Hungary the allied policy actively aided the development of Bolshevism. For instance, the Hungarian army was never disarmed, following the signing of the armistice. Here was a military disciplined force ready to hand and ripe for any mischief, ready to strike when opportunity arose, and it was not long in presenting itself.

Political discontent was bred because no Hungarian worthy the name, be he noble or peasant, would stand idly by and see his country dismembered by a body of eminent and unpractical idealists, gathered around a conference table in Paris. Rumania was to have one slice of Hungarian territory and Serbia another.

During my recent tour through Hungary I was impressed by the bold and perfervid patriotism of the people. "Our country before all," is their motto. They are keenest nationalists today in a Hungarian sense than they ever were. When yoked to the lumbering chariot of the Dual Kingdom they ever kept alive the principle of self-determination.

What has happened is that, despairing of finding any other remedy, Karolyi turned Bolshevist in the hope of preserving his country intact. He connived at revolution, while to the outward Entente world he professed himself powerless to resist it. In Bela Kun, the present Foreign Commissary of the Hungarian Soviet Republic, and in Dr. Rakovsky, the renegade Rumanian and one-time German agent, he found two admirable accomplices. These are the two men with whom General Smuts discussed the basis of agreement in Budapest.

Bela Kun is a man of education and a certain culture, and among the zealots who profess the anarchistic creed of Lenine and Trotzky would be classed as a moderate. His political outlook at present does not take him beyond the confines of Hungary. He proclaims that at present, as far as he is personally concerned, the rest of the world may be well content if he achieves by his own peculiar methods the complete political and social liberation of Hungary.

Rakovsky, on the other hand, dreams of and works for the complete Soviet subjugation of Southeastern and Western Europe. He is pledged to carry the banner of Bolshevism in triumph from the Transylvanian Alps to the Danube Delta, and from Budapest to Paris. Rakovsky was always a noted political firebrand and is unquestionably a whole-hogger. Born a Bulgarian, he became violently anti-Bulgarian when Bulgaria was beaten in the Balkan war and his native town passed under the Rumanian flag.

Arrested as a German spy, he was rescued from prison in Rumania by Russian revolutionary soldiers. Then he engineered the plot for removing the Rumanian King and his Consort. It failed, so Rakovsky slipped over the Rumanian frontier and became Bolshevist High Commissioner at Odessa, and the Russian Soviet Government afterwards appointed him its Minister to Hungary.

It is a gross error to suppose that the Hungarian Soviet is hampered in its activities for either lack of money, men, arms, or supplies. Herein lines at once its own strength and its danger to the rest of Europe. Hungary is not starving. Traveling through the country on my way to England I saw flocks and herds in abundance on the Hungarian plains. Food supplies are plentiful. The Hungarian Army is equipped and ready for war, and it has made common cause with the Bolsheviki. It has artillery, airplanes, and ammunition.

The day before my arrival at Szegedin Soviet airplanes flew over and dropped propaganda leaflets among the soldiers of the French Army of occupation. Their grammar was execrable, but the meaning of the leaflets was clear. "Join us, free France, and help to make possible the brotherhood of the workers of the world," was the pith of the Soviet plea dropped from the sky. No one more than the Bolsheviki realize the value of propaganda, and the power of that very useful agent, gold. Hence they are collectors of bullion on an extensive scale.

I found their chief source of supply, singular as it may appear, was Constantinople. On Turkey coming into the war the money changers of the Turkish capital promptly buried their gold to prevent it being commandeered by the Government. Now it is being dug up again. During my wanderings in Pera, the European quarter of Constantinople, I saw the windows of the money changers full of Turkish, French, and English coined gold. The most lamentable part of the business is that Bolshevist agents are buying it in large quantities, the current rate of exchange being about twelve Russian rubles for a 20 franc piece.

An extensive traffic of this kind goes on, and as far as I could see no attempt was made to stop it, and so here, in the open market of Pera, the Allies by their inaction are helping to fill the depleted treasure chest of their enemies and supply them with the wherewithal to wage war on humanity. The gold thus obtained in Constantinople is sent to Odessa and thence to the Soviet centres in Russia and Hungary.

GERMAN SOVIETS HAIL RED RULE IN HUNGARY

Resolution Expressing Sympathy with Bavarian Proletariat Is Postponed.

BERLIN, April 8, (Associated Press.)—At this morning's session of the Soviet Congress, Independent Socialists presented two resolutions extending greetings to the Bavarian and the Hungarian Soviet Republics.

There was a lively discussion, especially regarding Bavaria. The Independent Socialists wanted the congress to express the hope that the Bavarian proletariat might overcome opposition and that the rest of Germany might follow its example. The resolution was postponed after unfavorable discussion.

The greeting to Hungary was accepted, in spite of recent threatening predictions.

Doubt that enthusiasm for a Soviet Republic extends far beyond Munich is expressed by the Tageblatt, but the newspaper admits its anxiety as to the effect that news of the Bavarian situation will have on the Soviet Congress here. It says, however, that, even if the congress should adopt radical measures, the "powers of resistance are stronger in Berlin than in Munich."

The Deutsche Zeitung also fears the effect of the news, and says that "unless all signs fail it is evident that the groundwork for another revolution has been laid, and it is not improbable that the Soviet Congress will give the signal for an attempt to overthrow the Government."

Spartacide leaders at Hamburg are plotting to proclaim a Soviet Republic in that city, according to the Zeitung am Mittag, which calls upon Gustav Noske, the Minister of War, to send troops there to prevent this action.

PARIS, April 9.—A Soviet movement is under way in Baden, according to dispatches received today. The Government has taken precautionary measures.

ESTHONIANS CAPTURE 7 VILLAGES, 500 REDS

Continue Their Advance Into Russian Territory Driving the Enemy Before Them.

COPENHAGEN, April 9.—The capture of seven villages, 500 prisoners and large quantities of war material is reported in an official statement issued from the Esthonian Army Headquarters. The Esthonian troops continue to advance, according to the statement, which reads:

As a result of Bolshevist defeats, fighting is being carried further into Russian territory. On April 6, Esthonian forces crossed the Narova River, south of Narva, and captured seven villages and 200 prisoners. On the same day they stormed the town of Gdov, on the eastern bank of Lake Peipus, and captured 300 men and considerable war material.

POINCARE ASSAILED AT HUMBERT TRIAL

Senator's Lawyer Charges President Sought to Force Humbert from Prominence.

POINCARE ASKS HEARING

Wants to Answer Accusation from Witness Stand and Supplement His Deposition.

PARIS, April 9, (Associated Press.)—The situation created at the trial of Senator Charles Humbert by the reading of President Poincaré's testimony, accusations by M. Moro-Giafferi, Humbert's lawyer, that the French President made "voluntary errors," and subsequent threats by Captain Mornet, the Public Prosecutor, to have Moro-Giafferi disbarred from practice, is one without precedent in France's spectacular law courts. Senator Humbert is on trial on the charge of having had commerce with the enemy.

President Poincaré, in view of the bitter attacks to which he was subjected by Humbert's lawyer, asked today to be heard anew, and Colonel Masselin, after reading the President's letter, acquiesced, as the President wished to explain further regarding his relations and interviews with Senator Humbert.

President Poincaré's testimony related to the conversations he and Humbert had had regarding Pierre Lenoir, a defendant, and Bolo Pasha. He said he had advised Humbert to make a charge before the military tribunals, which Humbert had refrained from doing, asserting that he had informed the First Magistrate of the republic and that the latter had promised him that action would be taken.

"Perhaps one politician found it to his advantage to have another prominent politician disappear from the public eye," shouted Moro-Giafferi. Captain Mornet asked counsel to withdraw his remark, threatening him with disbarment.

"It will be to the glory of my career to be disbarred under such circumstances," shouted Moro-Giafferi.

In summing up the long discussion, the trend of Moro-Giafferi's argument was to show that President Poincaré was anxious to have Humbert deposed from the prominent position he occupied in the French political world.

The question of hearing President Poincaré puzzles the legal men, the French law providing that during cases under investigation the President, being the First Magistrate of the republic, must be heard at the Elysée Palace, but no provision is made for the hearing of such testimony while the case is actually under trial.

Humbert's lawyer declared this afternoon that he intended to be present when President Poincaré was heard as a witness. While he would not insist upon bringing the President to the Court House, he said, the latter's testimony must be handled the same as that of any ordinary witness.

Senator Humbert asked to be confronted with the President, whether at the Elysée Palace or in court.

RUTHERFORD FOUND INSANE

"Unwritten Law" Not Raised at British Army Slayer's Trial.

LONDON, April 9.—Lieut. Col. Norman Cecil Rutherford of the Medical Corps of the army was ordered today detained as insane by the Judge, in his trial for the killing of Major Miles Charles Seton, of Melbourne, on Jan. 13.

Colonel Rutherford was said to have shot Major Seton, also an officer in the Medical Corps, under circumstances which led everyone to believe that the "unwritten law" would be raised in his defense. A plea of insanity, however, was entered in the trial today.

Army medical officers testified that Colonel Rutherford suffered from shell-shock and insomnia and had contemplated suicide because his arms were diseased as a result of the constant use of antiseptics. Dr. Hyslop, a mental expert, testified that Rutherford told him he had had a dream a month before the shooting in which he murdered Seton and awoke from it in terror. Rutherford said he could not afterward put the thought from his mind. Dr. Hyslop testified that Rutherford told him he had no doubts of his wife.

The Judge said he agreed with the verdict and ordered Rutherford detained.

2 CAPTURED FOKKERS FLY OVER CITY TODAY

German Planes Will Be Used in Air Squadron Advertising Victory Loan.

CAMP MILLS, L. I., April 9.—Two German Fokkers, brought down by American aviators "somewhere in France," will be included in the twelve or more airplanes which will fly over Manhattan tomorrow afternoon and distribute literature advertising the bonds of the Victory Liberty Loan.

The German planes were brought over from France by Captain "Red" Simonin, who will fly one of them tomorrow. With the exception of a few mechanical improvements they are in the same condition as when used by German aviators and can be distinguished easily from the American planes.

The aviators will be in command of Major Henry J. S. Miller when they leave Hazelhurst Field at 1 o'clock. Aside from Captain Simonin it could not be learned here tonight who the other aviators will be.

There was a report about the field tonight that aviators will be sent into New England and to the Middle West to "speed up" the next loan. There are several hundred fliers here, many of whom have seen service abroad, who are anxious to make these trips, but all cannot go, and it is expected there will be a drawing of some kind to designate the men who are to pilot the machines.

MAJOR BARTELME MARRIES.

U. S. A. Engineer Weds Miss Gertrude A. Spalding in St. Thomas's.

The wedding of Major Ferdinand Barteime, 20th Engineers, U. S. A., a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand E. Barteime of Chicago, and Miss Gertrude Allardyce Spalding, a daughter of Mrs. Alexander Spalding of Cold Springs-on-Hudson and 566 West 159th Street, New York, was quietly solemnized at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in St. Thomas's Church, in the presence of the families. The Rev. Elbert Floyd-Jones, rector of St. Mary's in the Highlands, officiated.

The bride wore an afternoon gown of sand-colored georgette and filet lace, topped by a brown straw hat with yellow flowers, and carried yellow roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Spalding gave her daughter in marriage. Miss Jeannette C. Spalding was her sister's only attendant, and T. T. Barteime was his brother's best man. The reception and dinner for the families only followed at the St. Regis.

Mrs. Barteime was graduated from Vassar in 1915 and went overseas a year ago to engage in Red Cross work among the refugees. She was at Haute-Loire, in France, and returned here a few weeks ago. Major Barteime left for overseas service in November, 1917. He returned here a short time ago. The honeymoon will include a trip to China, and Major Barteime and his bride will sail on May 1.

Secretary Lansing is Chairman. There was practical agreement on the general responsibility of the former German Emperor for bringing on the war, but the division occurred on whether it was feasible to bring him to justice before an international tribunal.

The French and British view favored a tribunal, but the American view, it is understood, favored moral indictment without recourse to prosecution, owing to the lack of an international law as a basis for trial before an international court.

Belgium, on which the war fell first and heaviest, is reported to have taken a view much similar to that of the United States, while Japan and Italy were partly in accord with the American position.

It was owing to these divergent opinions that the council devised a new plan, whereby one of the allied nations, probably Belgium, would initiate prosecution against the former Emperor and others responsible for the breach of treaties, the invasion of territory, and the destruction directed against this country and leading to a more general spread of the war. The exact nature of the agreement is not disclosed, but the foregoing is believed to cover the main lines.

previous to the evacuation of Odessa had shown Bolshevism there to be on the down grade owing to the gradual exhaustion of funds and lack of supplies. But the acquisition of Odessa and surrounding districts by the Bolsheviki has given them a new lease of life and placed in their power the means to crush, temporarily at least, the rising strength of these groups that are contesting most vigorously the Bolshevist progress.

The feeling in military quarters in Paris concerning the evacuation of Odessa is optimistic. Commandant Jean Miribel, a military critic, said this afternoon:

"The Franco-Greek troops, commanded by General Anhelm, have just evacuated Odessa. After severe fighting during the second half of last month the outposts, fifty miles east of Odessa, near Kherson and Nikolayev, had to withdraw, and the evacuation of Odessa became a military necessity.

"It would have been better from the morale and political point of view to retain Odessa, as our retreat will doubtless be capitalized by the Bolshevist Government. But, considering the strategical question, the abandonment of the city has only relative importance.

"What matters above all is the fate of Rumania, which is menaced by the Bolsheviki from the east and the Hungarians to the west, and attempting to keep isolated troops in Southern Russia was a tactical error. Had we not evacuated Odessa our troops would have been encircled and compelled to surrender.

"It is on Rumanian territory that the allied troops must be concentrated. The Polish troops to the north and centre, the Czechoslovaks to the south, and the allied and Rumanian troops there will be the three barriers against which the Bolshevist push will be stopped."

COMPLAINS OF DANZIG POLICY.

London Morning Post Says Wilson Has Worked Against Poland.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, April 8.—The Morning Post in an editorial says:

"When President Wilson was in Boston February last he spoke in this wise to the assembled citizens:

"'Do you believe in the Polish cause as I do? Are you going to set up Poland, immature, inexperienced, as yet unorganized, to leave her with a circle of enemies around her?'

"These were great and soulful questions by which the highbrows of Boston were suitably impressed. But, did they mean anything? We think not. They look, in the light of later events, very much like the case of an insincere politician. It is President Wilson's influence which is chiefly working against the independence of Poland today, and we hope that Americans who love liberty will realize the truth of this statement. There can be no free Poland without Danzig, and President Wilson is using his influence to preserve Danzig for Germany. If Germany holds Danzig she holds the gate and is in fact the jailer of Poland.

"Then, if President Wilson's policy is to leave Germany in occupation as jailer of Poland, he has deserted the cause of Polish liberty. He has made a pilgrimage to Europe, as he says, in the cause of freedom. The result of this pilgrimage is that Poland will remain in chains.

"We suggest another pilgrimage. President Paderewski might return to New York to lay a wreath—of cypress—at the foot of the Statue of Liberty."

The Daily Chronicle's Paris correspondent, discussing the rumors inspired by the summoning of the George Washington, says he gathers that the President is "not displeased that the simple act of ordering the George Washington to France has seemed to censure dilatoriness and the eternal spirit of indecision."

COUNT FESTETICS A SUICIDE.

Was War Minister in Late Hungarian Cabinet of Count Karolyi.

LONDON, April 9.—Count Alexander Festetics, formerly Hungarian Minister of War in the Cabinet of Count Michael Karolyi, has committed suicide, according to a German Government wireless message.

Count Festetics had been in office as War Minister only a few hours when the Bolshevist uprising in Budapest began, on Dec. 31 last, and he immediately dispatched troops to the danger points, ostensibly to cope with it. One of the causes of the revolt cited by the extremists was the suppression by Festetics, immediately he entered upon his duties at the War Office, of one of Bela Kun's principal revolutionary newspapers.

AGAIN REFUSES TO LET 77TH PARADE

DRAFT BOARDS PROTEST

Ex-Justice Hughes, at Meeting of Members, Declares "Division Must Parade."

Notwithstanding the assurances of Secretary of War Baker that efforts were being made to parade the 77th Division in its entirety in the same manner as the 27th, the War Department is still holding to its policy as indicated in a statement from the Adjutatn General on March 26 that only a series of regimental parades may be held. In a telegram to Martin Conboy, Director of the Selective Service Boards in this city, read last night at a meeting of protest, held under the auspices of the Selective Service Boards in the Bar Association, 42 West Forty-fourth Street, Major Gen. P. C. Harris, the Adjutant General, reiterated this policy.

The reading of the telegram by Martin Conboy drew strong protest from the members of the Selective Service Boards and former Supreme Court Justice Charles E. Hughes, who presided. Senator William M. Calder, the Rev. Dr. William T. Manning, Chairman of the Home Auxiliary of the 77th Division, and Mr. Conboy declared that efforts must be redoubled to induce the military authorities at Washington to modify their stand.

Justice Hughes said there was no reason why the Metropolitan Division should not be accorded the same tribute as the 27th and that New York insisted on nothing short of a divisional parade. Resolutions declaring the sentiment of the city united in demanding a parade for the draft contingent were passed unanimously and sent to Secretary of War Baker and the Chief of Staff, General March.

The telegram which General Harris sent to Mr. Conboy read as follows:

Washington, Dec. 7.

Martin Conboy, New York.

Re your telegram 4th to the Chief of Staff, the 77th Division will not be held for a parade as a division, but units may parade as they arrive. No regiment or similar unit will be held to await the arrival of another where serious delay or congestion will be involved thereby.

HARRIS.

The meeting was attended by Lieut. Col. Douglas Campbell, Lieutenant Franklin S. Bates, and Lieutenant Arthur McKeogh, of the advance party of the 77th, Governmental appeal agents, members of the District Boards, the Local Legal Advisory Boards, and the Medical Boards.

Hughes Lauds Division.

Ex-Justice Hughes paid a tribute to the draft contingent and said its members had acquitted themselves as nobly as any volunteer National Guard or regular army division in the army.

"I think it will be most unfortunate if the 77th Division, New York's Own, is permitted to return home and not honored with a parade as a division," he said. "Every man who went away from New York City to do his duty ought to feel that he individually is entitled to a welcome. There is only one way to show all of the men at this time what we feel and that is by a parade. We want to do for the 77th what we did for the 27th. There should be no desire to discriminate against any of the boys who went to the front, from New York or any other place.

"After all, we in New York know our own boys. There is no reason why the National Guard, honored as it is, should have tribute and the drafted men of the city not have it. The 77th Division must parade."

"I've heard it said that such a parade cost a great deal of money. No matter what it cost, the expenditure of money to have the 77th go through the streets of the city of New York would be one of the wisest things possible at this day."

Appeals to Wilson.

Senator Calder said that in addition to making a personal plea to Secretary Baker and General March, the Chief of Staff, he had written a letter to President Wilson in which he expressed the hope that the paradé could be arranged in some manner. He declared that should the President call an extra session of Congress before the Division returned he would introduce a resolution that it was the sense of the Senate that the division ought to be accorded the same parade privilege as the 27th received.

Dr. Manning said that if it was a question of port congestion, as the Adjutant General has indicated, then let this difficulty be removed in the "good old American fashion." He declared that the feeling that the 77th was being the subject of discrimination was growing among the friends and relatives of the men.

Lieut. Col. Douglas Campbell related some of the exploits of the division, and said that the discipline maintained by the men themselves was responsible for their success against the Germans.

In the belief that the War Department would be successful in its efforts to return the 77th Division in one convoy, thus assuring a divisional parade, Colonel Campbell appealed earlier yesterday afternoon to New Yorkers not to overrun the sidewalk when the 31,000 men march up Fifth Avenue. If the progress of the parade is not impeded Colonel Campbell promised that the people would witness the greatest military procession in the history of the city.

Col. Campbell also announced the receipt of a cable saying that Major Lewis Sanders of the 304th Field Artillery had sailed on April 5 and had been detailed to the advance party. Major Sanders takes the place on the staff of the advance party made vacant by the death of Major James A. Roosevelt, who died on the way across. Major Sanders, who in civil life was a mining engineer with offices in this city, has been identified with the work of the Home Auxiliary of the 77th Division, an organization composed of the friends and relatives of the contingent.

Promotions Anounced.

An additional list of promotions of officers in the Division, made after the signing of the armistice, was given out at the advance party's headquarters in the Biltmore. The list follows:

Clifford W. Gaylord, Lt. Col., Hdqrs. 77th Division.
John B. Marsh, Major, 306th Inf.
George A. Cronin, Major, Hdqrs. 77th Div.
Samuel Greason, Jr., Major, 304th M. G. Bn.
W. Earl Dodge, Major, 305th Inf.
Robert Porter Patterson, Major, 306th Inf.
Lewis M. Scott, Major, 306th M. G. Bn.
Thomas E. Stone, Jr., Major, 307th Inf.
Allen L. Lindley, Major, 308th Inf.
P. S. G. Bissell, Captain, Hdqrs. 77th Div.
Roy H. Beberg, Captain, 305th Inf.
Richard Stockton, Captain, 306th M. G. Bn.
Edward D. Bradley, Captain, 305th Inf.
Philip K. Robinson, Captain, 306th Inf.
Oliver W. Morris, Captain, 306th Inf.
James A. MacIlvaine, Captain, 306th Inf.
Donald S. McGuire, Captain, 306th M. G. Bn.
Henry W. Ralph, Captain, 306th M. G. Bn.
Ward B. Chamberlain, Captain, 307th Inf.
Francis W. Gilbert, Captain, 307th Inf.

Thomas P. Gorter, 1st Lt., 306th M. G. Bn.
Talbot M. Brewer, 1st Lt., 306th M. G. Bn.
Henry B. McGurdy, 1st Lt., 307th Inf.
John B. Cheynoweth, 1st Lt., 308th Inf.
Howland S. Davis, Major, Hdqrs. 77th Div.

A story of how an attacking party of twenty-seven Germans held up the breakfast of an entire regiment for nearly two hours, while the Mess Sergeant gave battle to the enemy, was told yesterday by members of the advance party. Michael Mullarkey, the Mess Sergeant, whose home is at 187 Academy Street, New Brighton, S. I., was taking a walk one morning before breakfast with one of his kitchen police. They suddenly came upon the party of Germans, who were attacking six American doughboys. Telling his companion to run back for help, Mullarkey seized a rifle and hand grenade and joined in the fight. His companion returned in the midst of the fight with two cooks and four "K. P.'s" he had rounded up. The Americans were able to repulse the enemy.

Mullarkey, and his fighting cooks and "K. P.'s" expected a severe reprimand when they stood before Captain Lucian S. Breckinridge on their return to their post. Instead, they were commended by the officer.

332D INFANTRY DUE SOON.

Military Representatives of King Accompany Troops from Italy.

The Mayor's Committee of Welcome to Homecoming Troops announced yesterday that arrangements are being made to welcome the men of the 332d Infantry, which carried the American flag in Italy's victorious campaign against the armies of Austria and Germany. The 332d Infantry is made up of men enrolled in Ohio and Pennsylvania, and is due to reach New York in a few days. There are 1,458 members of the regiment on the transport Canopic, which left Marseilles ten days ago, and 1,749 men on the Duca d'Aosta, which sailed from Genoa at the same time.

By arrangement with the War Department, it was announced, there will be a parade and review of the regiment about April 17. The Italian Government is interested in the reception, and military representatives of the King of Italy who are accompanying Colonel Wallace, commander of the regiment and the Headquarters Brigade, to this port as well as the Italian Ambassador to the United States and the Italian Consul General in this city are to represent Italy officially in the review. General Guglielmotti, military attaché of the Italian Embassy, is now in the city arranging for participation in the review by the patriotic organizations of residents of New York who are of Italian birth.

Representatives of the United States Government and committees of Italian-American residents of New York, in cooperation with Romolo Tritonj, Consul General of Italy, will be guests of the Mayor's Committee on a fleet that will go down the bay to extend the first greeting to the returning regiment. Representatives of communities in Ohio and Pennsylvania will also come here to take part in the official welcome.

AMERICANS ARE DISCHARGED.

2,600 Who Fought in British Army Demobilized Here.

CAMP MILLS, L. I., April 9.—A novel sight was presented here today when the 2,600 American boys who early in the war enlisted in the British Army were demobilized.

There were about 300 negro troops among them, who, before joining the British forces, used the Southern dialect, but who today have a decided cockney accent. There were others who had been transferred to the Scotch regiments, and who left camp clads in kilts and carrying their swagger sticks.

Among the boys demobilized were about 700 from New York. The most of the contingent came from west of the Mississippi, and a few from Canada. They were given transportation to their homes, but many declared their intention of stopping over to "see New York" before they started home.

Since their arrival here last night the men received friendly treatment, not only at the camp, but at the hostess houses. Their clothing was given the necessary sanitary treatment during the night, and the men were discharged from the English service today as rapidly as possible.

Colonel Thwaites of the British War Department in New York was at the camp all day, looking after the men and seeing that their warrants were exchanged for transportation and pay.

LONDON, April 9.—Robert P. Skinner, the American Consul General, is taking steps to prevent a repetition of the Mauretania incident, involving the holding up at the Port of New York of Americans who had served in the British Army, because the American immigration officials had no satisfactory proof of their citizenship. The Consulate has a representative at the Winchester camp, where 25,000 Americans are centred for repatriation, to see that the tangled problems of citizenship in this great body of men be properly met.

SWISS FEAR INVASION BY FLEEING REFUGEES

Fear of Bolshevism Drives Thousands to Seek to Cross the Frontier.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Copyright, 1919, by The New York Times Company.

GENEVA, April 9.—In consequence of the spread of Bolshevism in Central and Southeastern Europe, Switzerland is menaced by a great invasion of refugees. Thousands of the terror-stricken inhabitants of Hungary, Bavaria, and Austria are clamoring for permission to cross the frontier.

Members of the Austrian aristocracy have addressed an urgent appeal to the Swiss Legation at Vienna for permission to pass the Swiss border without passports in case of a Bolshevist outbreak in Austria. Among the applicants for Swiss protection is Count Czernin, who has learned that he has been condemned to death by the communists.

As the food situation in Switzerland is daily becoming more difficult, the Swiss authorities are much alarmed by the prospect of this foreign invasion.

GERARD IS PESSIMISTIC.

Fears Present German Government Won't Last to Sign Peace Treaty.

James W. Gerard, former Ambassador to Berlin, delivered a brief address before the Knickerbocker Field Club, East Eighteenth Street and Tennis Court, Brooklyn, last night, in which he said:

"There are grave doubts in my mind that the present Government in Germany will last long enough to sign the peace treaty. Conditions are such there that the Bolsheviki may become so much of a menace that one of the Hohenzolern family may be recalled. That is the great danger. It is either the return of autocracy or the advent of absolute anarchy."

Mr. Gerard intimated that the member of the former German royal family most likely to be recalled would be the ex-Kaiser's third son, Prince Adalbert, who, he said, is very well liked in Germany.

BRITISH DEMOBILIZE FAST.

Limit for Army of Occupation Now Nearly Reached.

LONDON, April 9.—British demobilization in France has progressed with remarkable rapidity, Lord Robert Cecil said at question time in the House of Commons today.

"We are now very near the limit fixed for the army there during the occupation period," he said.

Nine Killed and Fifty Wounded, Many Wantonly by Householders.

CAIRO, Egypt, April 4, (via Montreal.)—"During yesterday's disturbances the troops several times had to fire on the mob, killing nine and wounding fifty," says an official statement today regarding the disorders here.

"A number were wounded by householders, who wantonly fired on the mob."

All was quiet in Cairo today.

Say Jews Are Few In Palestine.

The latest census in Palestine places Jews "at less than 7 per cent. of the population," and shows that "only one in each thousand possesses land," according to a cablegram from the Alnady Alaraby, an organization representing Jews in Palestine, made public here tonight by the Palestine Anti-Zionism Society. The message urged "the established rights of our indivisible nation, in the name of permanent peace."

BANKERS TO URGE AID FOR CARRIERS

of January, and at the present time competent critics fail to see hope for much improvement in the near future unless traffic should expand at a rate not considered possible.

The great need for immediate Congressional action, as bankers see the situation, is this accumulation of debts. If the deficit were stationary, they say, it would be less difficult to finance it. But it is not. Thus, it is explained, if the Railroad Administration needs an additional revolving fund of $750,000,000 now, it will need probably something more than $1,000,000,000 if the Congress waits until July to act, and if action is not taken before Fall the amount will be considerably more. It is this that has caused the bankers to take their present stand that it is imperative for the President to assemble Congress as soon as possible.

Eugene Meyer, Jr., Managing Director of the War Finance Corporation, was in New York yesterday conferring with bankers. It is understood he talked over the financing of railway equipment ordered by the Railroad Administration and now being delivered. Mr. Meyer refused to comment at any length on this matter. He said, however, that the $200,000,000 of one-year 5 per cent. bonds of the Finance Corporation had been sold, and that he was very well pleased with the manner in which they had been distributed.

INQUIRE INTO STEEL COSTS.

Washington Officials Take Up Rail Controversy at Conference Here.

The Railroad Administration has set out to determine the actual costs of steel production before placing any orders for rails or equipment. To this end a conference was held yesterday at the offices of Judge Elbert H. Gary, Chairman of the Board of the United States Steel Corporation. The conference was attended by a number of steel manufacturers, who are members of the General Committee of the American Iron and Steel Institute, a special committee representing the Railroad Administration, and George N. Peek, Chairman of the Industrial Board of the Department of Commerce.

It was the Industrial Board which recently stabilized steel prices in cooperation with the steel manufacturers, but the Railroad Administration refused to place orders at the levels established, the chief exception being to the price for steel rails, which Director General Hines thought should be $2 a ton lower.

The committee representing the Railroad Administration at yesterday's conference was made up of Judge Robert S. Lovett, Henry Walters and H. B. Spencer. The first two were asked by Mr. Hines to serve on the committee in an advisory capacity. The subject of producing costs was gone into with great minuteness, the steel men, it is believed, submitting the same figures which were presented to the Industrial Board several days ago. Among the steel manufacturers present, in addition to Judge Gary, were Charles M. Schwab, John A. Topping, Eugene G. Grace and William B. Dickson.

After the meeting Judge Gary and George N. Peek gave out the following joint statement, which the former described as "comprehensive":

At the request of George N. Peek, Chairman of the Industrial Board of the Department of Commerce, a meeting was held between Messrs. R. S. Lovett, Henry Walters, and H. B. Spencer, representing the Railroad Administration, and a few of the members of the General Committee of the American Iron and Steel Institute, for the sole purpose of discussing the subject of producing costs of certain lines of steel in which the railroads are especially interested. It was understood that the representatives of the Railroad Administration would report the information obtained to Director General Hines.

The meeting was secret, and it was not admitted until late in the afternoon that Mr. Peek was present. None of those who attended would make any statement regarding the proceedings other than that given out by Judge Gary, but one of the steel men said the conference "was highly interesting," and that he wished he could talk, but that all had agreed to leave that to Judge Gary.

It is believed that the Railroad Administration through the special committee appointed for the conference asked that a concession in prices on steel rails be made by the steel manufacturers. The Railroad Administration has contended that the fixing of a minimum price for steel products was wrong in peace times and further that the prices were too high and allowed an excess of profit to some of the large producers like the United States Steel Corporation. Only a few days ago Judge Gary issued a statement saying that there could be no money made if the price for steel rails was further reduced. It has been the contention all along that the prices submitted and agreed upon with the Industrial Board some days ago were as low as possible under the present high costs, and the President of one company said that many of the smaller companies would have to run at a loss with the present price levels obtaining for steel products.

While yesterday's conference was on it was argued by those who are familiar with the steel situation that, while the steel manufacturers might be perfectly willing to go over the details of production costs, there would be a firm stand against any further concessions. The only method by which prices could be reduced, it was asserted, would be by a wage reduction, a step which the steel companies do not desire to take and which might bring about difficulties with the Department of Labor.

It is understood that the report which the committee representing the Railway Administration will make to Director General Hines will be final and that the Railroad Administration will abide by the decision, judging the proceeding as being the nature of an arbitration.

SEES HUNGARIAN REDS HURRYING TO RUIN

Engineer in Charge of Factories Says Raw Materials Stocks Are Near Exhaustion.

VIENNA, April 8, (Associated Press.)—The majority of persons in Budapest are unwilling to express opinions against communism as they are afraid of a reign of terror, with the possibility of a repetition of the Petrograd and Moscow murders. But it is plain it is ever present in their minds that they are being robbed of their prosperity by persons incapable of organizing the business of government, keeping up factories, or doing anything except printing money, as is done in Moscow, when the present stock is exhausted.

The multitude of censors employed by the Foreign Office at Budapest openly are polite and are courteously passing all matters submitted, later to blue pencil it at the telegraph office. Because of this the correspondent was compelled to return to Vienna.

A brilliant engineer whose home has been communized and whose factory has been taken over with himself installed as manager discussed with the correspondent the situation. This engineer has been put in charge of all other factories of a similar nature in Hungary. He said:

"It is difficult to get the workmen to work. They are spending their time demanding increases in wages. But there will be a temporary halt when our old accumulated bank capital is exhausted. Then the Government must put up more money to pay wages or we must close.

"We can keep going for six weeks. But when we are unable to secure more raw material from outside of Hungary the products of such factories will reach fabulous prices, and then disappear entirely from the markets."

The Communists maintain that the Central Empires would be saved from ruin by their methods; that the capitalists being unable or unwilling to undertake business under present conditions, the Communists will force the workers to work for a moderate wage and that the Government will furnish the capital. But when faced with the problem of securing raw materials from America and other countries whose capitalists are unwilling to accept their money in payment, they talk vaguely about an exchange of products. But back in their heads is Lenine's scheme of communizing the whole world, thus making the rich countries support the poor ones.

Among such Communists are Jules Alpare, a prominent engineer; Jules Hevquehd, Commissioner for the Socialization of Factories; Professor Peter Agoston, Chancellor of the Foreign Office, and other prominent men. A distinguished Socialist lawyer who is known as a sincere worker for the good of humanity, is also a Communist, but is quite willing to

DEMOCRATS SEIZE SENATE CONTROL

With Aid of Insurgent Republicans They Pass Governor's Industrial Welfare Bills.

REGULARS HOLD CAUCUS

Assemblymen Decide to Let Measures Rest in Rules Committee Until Next Week.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, April 9.—Insurgency, running riot in the Republican ranks today, established the Democrats for the time being as the controlling element of the Senate and reduced the Republican majority to a minority. In the course of a long and laborious all day and night session, the Democrats with the potent aid of Republican bolters contrived to have the Minimum Wage bill and the Eight-Hour bill, all of which are included in Governor Smith's legislative program affecting women and minors in the industries, passed in the upper house and transmitted to the Assembly for concurrence.

Action on the Health Insurance bill was postponed until tomorrow.

Glum and bitter in defeat, the Old Guard leaders in the Senate, upon taking an inventory of their strength soon after the session began, entered into negotiations with Speaker Sweet and the Republican leaders of the House with a view to bringing about the defeat of these measures when they should reach the Assembly. At the behest of the Speaker, Assemblyman Bert Lord of Chemung, Republican whip of the lower house, called a caucus of the Republican Assemblymen at which, after a discussion including some unpleasantness, and after Joseph Steinberg of the fifteenth New York District had bolted amid hisses, it was determined that the Republicans should not co-operate in any move to wrest the industrial welfare bills as passed by the Senate from the custody of the Committee on Rules, of which Speaker Sweet is Chairman, and which at this stage of the legislative session automatically takes control of all bills sent over from the upper house.

The decision reached at the Assembly caucus, under an agreement made before it adjourned, will hold good only until next Tuesday when another caucus will be called to settle finally what is to be done with the bills in the Assembly. The action of the caucus today was in the nature of a makeshift and a compromise and was the first indication that the speakers' hold on his Republican flock in the House is none too secure. It has brought to light the fact that the "weak brethren" in the Republican majority can no longer be held in line for or against legislation where strong and contrary outside pressure is brought to bear, as is the case with the Industrial Welfare bills.

In view of the fact that the Senate passed all the bills involved with unusually large majorities and that the combined labor and women's lobby is here in full strength, and intends to remain as long as is necessary to see the battle through, predictions are not lacking tonight that next week will see the bills passed by the Assembly as well. That Governor Smith will approve the bills is a foregone conclusion.

The eight hour day bill had been introduced by Senator Graves of Erie, who led the fight for the measure. The most telling argument in favor of the minimum wage bill, which had been introduced in the Senate by Minority Leader Foley of New York, was made by Senator Davenport.

Business in the Senate while the Industrial Welfare bills were being considered was transacted under suspension of rules. In case of the Eight-Hour bill, those who led the fight were compelled to wrest it from the control of committees. In the passage of the Minimum Wage bill, forty votes were recorded in its favor and none in opposition. Prior to its passage, however, there had been a roll call on the substitution of the Foley bill for a measure embodying the Massachusetts minimum wage plan, which had been put in by the leaders of the Republican majority. This measure has been bitterly fought by the womens' joint legislative conference lobby at the Capitol.

The vote on this motion stood 29 to 21 for the substitution, the majority being furnished by the twenty-two Democratic Senators, voting as a unit, and the following Republican Senators: Abeles of the Bronx, Davenport of Oneida, Fowler of Chautauqua, Graves of Erie, Lockwood of Kings, Pitcher of Jefferson, and G. F. Thompson of Niagara. On final roll call all the Republicans with the exception of Senate Leader Walters and Senator Brown of Oswego, who refrained from voting, cast their votes in favor of the Foley bill.

The final vote on the Eight-Hour bill stood 32 to 18, the following Republicans joining with the Democrats: Abeles of Bronx, Baumes of Orange, Burling of Westchester, Davenport of Oneida, Ferris of Warren, Fowler of Chautauqua, Graves of Erie, Hewitt of Cayuga, Lockwood of Kings, Lowman of Chemung, Pitcher of Jefferson, and G. F. Thompson of Niagara. Senate Leader Walters and Senator Towner of Putnam did not vote.

WALKER DENOUNCES HEARST IN SENATE

Says Publisher Is Attacking Him for Pushing Advertising Bills Inimical to Hearst Papers.

ALBANY, April 9.—William Randolph Hearst and his New York City newspapers, The American and The Evening Journal, were assailed today in the Senate by Senator James E. Walker, Democrat, of New York. Senator Walker declared that he had been informed by an agent of Mr. Hearst that he would be put out of public life and his political career ended if he did not withdraw three bills which he declared would deprive the Hearst New York papers of $60,000 a year in law advertising.

Senator Walker said he intended to bring suit against "some one" on The New York American because that newspaper today referred to him as the "Democratic bagman" and also as "Hinky Dink Walker." He characterized Hearst as the "newspaper bully of the back yard" and The American as a "dirty, slimy, stealing sheet."

"If it is my last act," declared Mr. Walker, "somebody in this State is going to tell a Judge and jury why The New York American has called me the 'Democratic bagman,' whether it is Hearst, the Czar himself, or his poorest paid office boy."

The Senator declared the attack of the Hearst papers upon him was because "my legislation would have deprived Hearst of robbing litigants, because I stopped him dipping his hands in their pockets and robbing them openly and in violation of the code."

The Walker attack was prompted by recent stories in the American alleging that Walker had introduced a series of advertising bills in the interest of a firm headed by "Phil" Donohue, Treasurer of Tammany Hall. The bills would permit litigants the right to designate the newspapers for the insertion of their legal notices. The designation is now made by the Judges. Senator Walker charged that these Judges had discriminated in favor of Hearst papers. He declared further that, while the legal rate for such advertising is 12 cents an agate line, The New York American charges 30 cents and The Evening Journal 75 cents.

"It is because I am pushing these bills to prevent Hearst from putting his hands into the pockets of widows and orphans and robbing them that the Hearst papers are attacking me," said Senator Walker. He declared that Luke J. O'Reilly, head of the Board of Water Supply of New York City and private secretary to Mr. Hearst, twice notified him through a "go-between" that he had better "lay off the advertising bills or Hearst would get him."

THIEVES WOUND PURSUER.

Hold Up Pawnshop and Flee with $1,500 in Cash.

Police reports of robberies in the city yesterday began early in the morning with the holdup of M. Bruckheimer's pawnshop at 1,970 Third Avenue by three men, who got away with some jewelry and $1,500 in cash. Hugh McCabe, the clerk, had just opened the store and was putting articles on view when the men entered. One of them presented a pawn ticket for a watch, and as the clerk turned to the safe one of the men struck him over the head, while the other two vaulted the counter and rifled the safe.

McCabe, blood flowing from the wound in his head, gave chase and a number of passersby also joined in. Max Morrison, one of the pursuers, was nearing the fugitives when one of the latter turned suddenly and fired a revolver at Morrison. The bullet struck him in the arm. The hold-up men escaped. The police have as a clue the pawn ticket which they left behind.

When employes got to the office of the Empire Carpet Company in the loft building at 268-270 Canal Street they found that safe burglars had been there before them. The burglary was discovered by Joseph Stanton, engineer of the building. He found the Carpet Company's office open and the contents of the safe scattered around. Besides $28 in cash the thieves had obtained $2,000 in Liberty Bonds belonging to employes. The police found the burglars had entered over the roof.

William Wilson, the clerk, was about his duties in the store of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company at 552 Tenth Aavenue yesterday morning when two boys, the oldest of whom was described as not more than 17 years old, entered. Wilson looked up from his work. One of the youths drew a revolver and demanded all of the money in the place.

While he kept the clerk covered the other walked around the counter and opened the cash register. He went through every compartment carefully and got $25. As the thieves went out they locked the door with the padlock, and the clerk was unable to get out until a customer came and found him.

June Stanley was the name given by a young woman brought here yesterday from Albion, N. Y., to answer a charge of acting as accomplice in a burglary, but the police said her name is Mrs. Martin Malkind, wife of a chauffeur, who is held in $2,000 bail on a charge of burglary. Both arrests resulted from a charge made by Mrs. Beatrice Villis that she sublet her apartment at 317 West 42d Street to the Malkinds, and they moved away taking $3,000 worth of goods. The complaint states that some of the stolen property was found in a trunk at Mrs. Malkind's home in Albion. Mrs. Malkind was held in $2,000 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

RECEIVE BIG MONEY GIFT.

Volunteers of America Will Expand Work at Home.

The largest gift of money that the Volunteers of America have received in their history was announced yesterday by General Ballington Booth, the founder of the organization. Although both the name of the benefactor and the amount were withheld, it is understood that the gift is in the neighborhood of half a million dollars. The money is to be used for the home work of the organization, which it is announced is planning new development of its social, educational, and missionary enterprises in the principal cities of this country.

In making an appeal for funds to carry on their work Mr. Booth said that the Volunteers of America refrained from promoting a campaign drive for funds during the war, and did not receive any monetary benefit through any previous war drive or united war fund. In a pamphlet just issued by the organization there are statements indorsing it from President Wilson, the late Colonel Roosevelt, Josephus Daniels, Charles Hughes, and other prominent men.

24-HOUR STRIKE IN ROME.

Socialists to Honor Lenine's Birthday and Slain German Reds.

ROME, April 9, (Associated Press)—The Socialists have decided to hold a general strike for twenty-four hours tomorrow in memory of the victims of "Red Week," in Berlin, Dr. Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg, and also in honor of the birthday of Lenine, the Russian Bolshevist Premier.

The anti-war Socialists had planned a meeting for this occasion, and the pro-war Socialists had arranged a counter-demonstration. As there was certainty of grave incidents under such conditions, the authorities prohibited both, and have taken measures to prevent disorders during the strike.

Hearing on Sunday Baseball.

ALBANY, April 9.—A hearing before Governor Smith on the Sunday Baseball and Sunday Movies bills, which have passed the Legislature, will be held Wednesday afternoon. The hearing was granted by the Governor today at the request of the Rev. Dr. H. L. Bowlby, of New York, General Secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance of the United States. The Alliance officially represents seventeen Christian denominations.

Showers! Fair! Colder! Snow-And-Blow! All Same To "Ennyweather"

ONE Topcoat that does duty for four—that's "Ennyweather." It faces a shower as unconcernedly as it faces the sun, and it is as impervious to snow, as it is to bitter blow.

Close-fitting or loose-draping; sumptuously silk-lined throughout; smart with that decorous Manhattan-bred smartness, which claims notice by seeming to disclaim every bit of it.

$35 never bought so much in every-day usefulness and in un-every-day distinction as "Ennyweather."

Yes, Stein-Bloch tailored it. That usually closes both discussion and sale.

HYLAN UNDERTAKES TO AID B. R. T. MEN

RECEIVER STANDS FIRM

Adheres to Previous Reply to Union —Labor Men Insist on Their Demands.

Mayor Hylan yesterday received the committee of Brooklyn Rapid Transit employes who came to urge him to intercede with Receiver Lindley M. Garrison in an effort to persuade the latter to meet a delegation of the men. The committee warned the Mayor that unless the Receiver greeted their demands in a more conciliatory fashion there would be a strike. In reply, Mayor Hylan promised he would write Mr. Garrison asking him to see the men.

"I will ask Mr. Garrison to see a committee of you men," said the Mayor. "But you must remember that Mr. Garrison represents the Federal Court and I do not want to seem to be interfering with Federal authority. There is only one way to settle a controversy of this kind and that is the peaceable way. I will do all I can to have it settled in that manner."

At Mr. Garrison's office last night it was stated that no letter had yet been received from the Mayor. It was stated there that the Receiver had made his position in the case clear Tuesday in a letter to James Sheridan, Chairman of the Committee selected by the men, and that he would not recede from his position. In the letter Mr. Garrison declared that the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes of America was an "outside organization" when it came to situations arising between the B. R. T. and its men and that he would not deal with the Association or its representatives, as such.

P. J. O'Brien, Vice President of the Amalgamated, who is one of the leaders in the movement to organize the B. R. T. employes, said yesterday that the men would mark time for a few days, until they saw just what aid would be rendered their cause by the intervention of his Honor the Mayor.

"We voted last night to ask help from Mayor Hylan," said Mr. O'Brien. "We asked his help and he promised to write a letter to the receiver. We can't do anything until we see definitely what will be the outcome of the Mayor's efforts at persuading Mr. Garrison to meet our committees. If the receiver, however, refuses to listen to the Mayor's plea any more than he did to ours, then there will be a strike."

The men who saw Mayor Hylan were three former employes of the B. R. T., Arnold E. Willer, William Riley, and Aaron Copman. Mr. Sheridan was unable to go to the City Hall because of his duty as a motorman in active service of the company.

"You men ought to give every possible consideration to present conditions in the community before attempting to enforce your demands by a strike," the Mayor told the committee. "You should think seriously over the whole matter before taking any action. I promise you I will do what I can. I am going to send a communication to Receiver Garrison at once, telling him of your visit here and asking him if he will not see the men and settle this matter in a peaceable fashion."

In answer to a question by the Mayor, Copman explained that the men were asking for increased wages, improved working conditions, and the recognized right to organize as a union. Willer said that the men did not want to strike if it could be prevented, in which he was seconded by Riley, the other member of the committee.

An effort was being made yesterday by the union leaders to organize the power house men in preparation for trouble, but there was not much success reported to the Executive Committee last night. The power house men are the older employes of the B. R. T., who hesitate to risk pensions and other benefits from the company for the doubtful rewards to be gained by a strike.

Officials of the B. R. T. said yesterday that they did not believe any strike would materialize. It was pointed out that out of the 15,000 employes of the company only about 3,000 attended the two meetings Tuesday night to discuss the matter. Those joining the union were all new men, it was said, and so far none of the older employes are concerned. A report that the company was sending out men to enlist discharged soldiers and sailors as motormen and conductors to fight any strike was denied.

BULLARD IN OLD PLACE.

Reassigned as Director of Naval Communications.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Navy orders today show the appointment of Rear Admiral William H. G. Bullard as Director of Naval Communications, a position he held at the time the United States entered the world war, but from which he was detached for service overseas.

Other orders include the assignment of Captain Lucius A. Bostwick, formerly commanding the battleship New Mexico, as senior member of the Demobilization Board, Naval Overseas Transport Service, and the assignment of Captain Stephen W. Graham, formerly commanding the Cheyenne, to duty as senior naval officer on the east coast of Mexico, and in command of the Petrel, stationed there.

SOLDIER LEAGUE CAUCUS.

Major Wickersham Says Plans Are Being Made for St. Louis Meeting.

Major Cornelius W. Wickersham, son of the former Attorney General, who served as Assistant Chief of Staff of the 27th Division, announced yesterday that plans were being rushed for the American Legion caucus, to be held in St. Louis on May 8, Major Wickersham is Secretary of the organization formed of overseas veterans, and chapters are being established in every State.

New York State will send 86 delegates to the caucus, with a like number of alternates. More than half of the delegation will be composed of enlisted men. At the office of the temporary committee of the Legion, 19 West Forty-fourth Street, Lieut. Col. Henry L. Stimson, former Secretary of War, who commanded the 305th Artillery, made the following statement:

The future of this country for good or ill will inevitably rest in the hands of the great body of young Americans under thirty who participated in the war. The burden of the war has rested on them and, on the other hand, from the war they have received the greatest possible stimulus toward a sense of duty and organized patriotism. It is the purpose of the American Legion to try to keep alive and carry on in times of peace that sense of patriotic unity and enthusiasm. These men have fought for democracy and risked their lives for that ideal. To them it has acquired a new and precious value. They have seen with their own eyes the terrible evidences which have been produced upon innocent neighbors by an irresponsible autocracy. That lesson should never be allowed to fade in their minds.

The American Legion is intended to not only serve as a vehicle by which comradeship and love of country, aroused by the war, shall be maintained and kept alive, but intended also to embody the democratic spirit in which the war has been fought. It is to be open to all men who have worn the uniform in either the military or naval service, whether officers or enlisted men, uniting them all upon a common basis of American citizenship and American purpose.

Major Gen. O'Ryan is Chairman of the New York Committee, and members include Brig. Gen. Charles I. Debevoise, Colonel William J. Donovan, Lieut. Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Lieut. Col. Robert Bacon, Lieut. Col. Charles W. Whittlesey, Lieut. Col. J. Leslie Kincaid, Lieut. Col. Grenville Clark, Chaplain Francis W. Kelly, and Ensign W. G. McAdoo, Jr., U. S. N. R. F.

SUBPOENA BURKE IN BRIBE INQUIRY

Former Aqueduct Police Chief to Testify, but Tempter's Identity Still Concealed.

FARE BILL BEFORE SENATE

Sent Over from Assembly, Thompson Blocks Its Progress—Walters Declares for Measure.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, April 9.—While the identity of the man who, according to Senator George F. Thompson of Niagara, approached him with an offer of a $500,000 bribe in return for his support of the Carson-Martin Six-Cent Fare bill, is still being zealously guarded both by Senator Thompson himself and members of the State Judiciary Committee who heard his story, it was learned tonight that a subpoena had been issued for Inspector Richard H. Burke of New York, formerly in charge of the Aqueduct Mounted Police, and that he would be a witness before the committee at its first hearing tomorrow.

Word was received here tonight that Charles R. Hotaling, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, who went to New York armed with a subpoena calling for the attendance of Inspector Burke as a witness before the committee, had served that instrument on the inspector at the Great Northern Hotel and that Mr. Burke had promised ready compliance and assured Mr. Hotaling that he would be on hand and answer any questions that might be propounded at the hearing tomorrow. The Sergeant-at-Arms, it was learned, had a number of other subpoenas, and several important witnesses are expected to appear before the committee, if not tomorrow, at an early date.

The Judiciary Committee will devote all its work for the present to unraveling the $500,000 mystery and to finding out about the promise of support to land the Governorship which Senator Thompson declares was made to him by a former high State official. Senator Burlingame said tonight that, while no subpoena has been issued for the latter, it might become necessary to call him as a witness.

The Carson-Martin bill was transmitted to the Senate today from the Assembly, where it was passed last night. Senate Leader J. Henry Walters immediately urged the advancement of the bill to the order of third reading. Under the Senate rules such a motion can be made only by unanimous consent. Senator Thompson advanced the one objection necessary to block it, and insisted that the bill be sent to the Committee on Public Service, of which he is Chairman.

Senator Walters announced that he was heartily in favor of the enactment of the Carson-Martin bill.

"Do you believe it is constitutional?" asked Senator Thompson.

"I do not care to commit myself on that question," Senator Walters replied. "Should the courts hold that the rate fixed in the franchise of public utility corporations are to be regarded as contractual obligations, then I have no doubt that neither an act of the Legislature nor an act of a Public Service Commission can abrogate them.

"But the bill will enable the Public Service Commissions to investigate, and if it should be shown to the satisfaction of the public that the demand made by the corporations is justified, then the Public Service Commissions may be in a position to bring about a modification of the present terms through agreement between the corporations and the municipalities granting the franchises, and thus save the traction companies in New York City from going to smash. Such agreements have been reached in Syracuse, Utica, and a number of other up-State cities. It should be clear that this bill does not provide for an increase of fare, but merely opens the way for the Public Service Commissions to deal with this question."

ALLIES WILL IMPOSE SINGLE TARIFF ON FOE

And Most Favored Nation Treatment in Customs System—Restriction for Five Years.

PARIS, April 9, (Associated Press.)—Provision for the most favored nation treatment in the German customs system for the allied and associated countries, and a single tariff, and no tariff discriminations based on the flag of the vessels in which goods are transported, or the route of importation or exportation, will be incorporated in the peace treaty with Germany, according to the present provisional agreement.

The restriction is to be enforced for five years after the conclusion of peace, and it will probably include the proviso that the tariffs in force upon imports from the associated countries during that period shall be based on the most favored nations schedules of 1914.

The obligation to maintain under a single tariff the 1914 schedules will be specified only for a limited period, since there is a fair realization that Germany will be able financially to raise the maximum of reparation payments, and limit or exclude unnecessary imports only by the imposition of higher customs rates. And the proposal is under consideration to give Germany, after the period which will be required for the study and revision of existing tariffs, absolute freedom to increase all her duties.

The economic problems of Alsace-Lorraine and German Poland, the industries of which have heretofore been based on membership in the German empire and access to the German markets, will probably have consideration by a provision permitting them freedom of trade with Germany during the period of transition and readjustment, until it is possible for them to build up new markets.

Such a solution was found absolutely essential for certain industries like cotton manufactures and the wines of Alsace-Lorraine, for which no present market exists outside of Germany. The conference experts, who agreed upon this solution, believe this arrangement to be equally advantageous and acceptable to Germany.

The problem of the experts in formulating the conditions under which Germany will be permitted to re-establish commercial relations with the rest of the world has been most complicated and intricate, since, in addition to providing for equality of trade relations and prevention of discriminations against the present opponents of Germany, it has been necessary to consider that Germany's ability to pay reparations is largely contingent upon the absence of hampering restrictions upon the development of home industries and an outlet for foreign trade.

It has been the endeavor in the consideration of the problem to cause as little loss as possible to the trade relations created before the war by virtue of special arrangements and to allow Germany freedom of tariff regulation so far as is compatible with the necessities of reparation.

No British Fleet Visit Now.

LONDON, April 9.—No official visit to the United States of any portion of the British fleet is contemplated at present. This announcement was made in the House of Commons today by T. J. Macnamara, Parliamentary Under-Secretary to the Admiralty, in answer to a question.

FLEET OF AIRPLANES AUXILIARY TO SHIPS

Will Overtake Departing Vessels and Deliver Delayed Papers—Reduces Time in Port.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—The first fleet of airplanes to be used for commercial purposes in America has been purchased by the Kerr Steamship Company, and will be placed in active service within a few weeks. The airplanes will be used as auxiliaries to the company's merchant steamers.

The Christmas "Bullet," shown for the first time at the recent aviation exposition in Madison Square Garden in New York, after making a speed record of over 185 miles an hour in test flights on Long Island, has been selected as the type, and the machines are now being constructed at the Long Island plants of the Cantilever Aero Company. The Christmas "Bullet," invented by Dr. Christmas of New York, is the first "strutless" machine, both the upper and lower planes being unbraced. The upper wing is flexible, the spring tips replacing allerons used on most planes.

When placed in service these airplanes will pick up ships at sea from twenty-four to thirty-six hours after they have left port and deliver on board delayed consignment papers. The steamer's time in port will thus be reduced by upward of a day.

The Kerr Steamship Company runs cargo ships from New York, Boston, Philadelphia, New Orleans, Galveston, and Pacific ports to all principal European ports and the Dutch West Indies. The company also operates vessels on the Great Lakes out of Chicago, Detroit and other lake ports.

The first airplanes will be flown out of New York, then New Orleans and other ports in turn. Arrangements will be made for landing places in each of these cities.

Insurance Leaders Attend Funeral of Metropolitan Life Head.

Nearly 2,000 persons crowded into Salem Baptist Church, New Rochelle, yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock, for the funeral services for John Rogers Hegeman, President of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, whose death occurred Sunday at his home at Orienta Point, Mamaroneck, N. Y. There were present leaders in the insurance world and in other business enterprises. A special train from New York took about 400 of the company's managers, who came from as far West as St. Paul and Kansas City, from Canada and New England, and several hundred from the Metropolitan offices in this city. There was also a delegation from the Association of Life Insurance Presidents and from the Retired Veterans' Association of the Metropolitan Life.

Among those who attended the services were Dubar Johnson, Vice President of the Colonial Life Insurance Company; Darwin P. Kingsley, President of the New York Life Insurance Company; William S. Day, President of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States; L. Asman, President of the Eastern Underwriters' Association; B. J. Hadden, President of the Hadden Construction Company, which built the Metropolitan Tower; John A. McCall of the New York Life; Joseph Palmer Knapp, President of the American Lithograph Company, whose father was President of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company before Mr. Hegeman; Charles Jerome Edward, former President of the Life Underwriters' Association of New York; J. H. Voshell of Baltimore, President of the Underwriters' Association of the United States; Alfred Hurrell, Vice President of the Prudential Insurance Company of America, and A. G. B. Claxton of Montreal, Canada, General Counsel, principal agent of the Metropolitan in Canada; George E. Ide, President of the Home; Aser Wing, President of the Provident Life and Trust; George B. Cortelyou, a Director of the New York Life; John Lunger, Vice President of the Equitable, and Vice President Griffin of the National Surety. The officers and Directors of the Metropolitan attended in a body.

Copeland emphasized that the clinic would be conducted to effect cures through gradual reduction of the amount of narcotic furnished.

"It was pointed out by the Police Department," said Dr. Copeland, "that this method of furnishing the drug will put the 'bootlegging physician' out of business, because the drug will be furnished at its real value and not at the exorbitant figure charged by the traffickers, but I wish to emphasize the fact that the Health Department does not desire to have every narcotic victim in the city report here for treatment. The purpose of the plan inaugurated tomorrow will be to take care of the unfortunate victims formerly ministered to by the arrested physicians.

"It is necessary to maintain this clinic because if the victims are permitted to roam about without the drugs they become dangerous. An example of this happened only a short time ago when an innocent man was shot and killed by a drug addict who had just looted a Madison Avenue jewelry shop. It is necessary to maintain this clinic because this raid and further raids, depriving the addicts of their drugs, will inevitably produce a wave of violent crime.

"I know that the drug habit is steadily on the increase and that at the present time there are between 150,000 and 200,000 drug addicts in this city. Many of these are men who have only recently been discharged from the army and navy.

"I think," continued the Commissioner, "that the advent of prohibition is going to produce a tremendous increase in drug addiction. When the whisky drinker can no longer have an alcoholic jag, he is going to have a drug jag. I am saying this, not from my personal opinion, but from the experience of an administrator of public health."

Dr. Copeland said he had been informed that the Federal authorities plan to continue their operations against the drug traffic until it is stamped out completely, or under control. He attacked the Harrison Law and the Boylan State measure as inadequate and asserted that both laws had made it easier for the illegal dispenser of drugs and for the purchasers.

The physicians and druggists arraigned yesterday before United States Commissioner Hitchcock were released on bonds ranging from $3,000 to $5,000 for examination on April 16 and 23d. The complaints alleging violation of the Harrison Law were sworn to by Ralph H. Oyler, of the Narcotic Division of the Bureau of Internal Revenue. All of the defendants pleaded not guilty.

Assistant United States District Attorney John E. Joyce told Commissioner Hitchcock that one of the druggists, Sampel Jacobs of 1,919 Lexington Avenue, is already under bond of $2,000 on a similar charge in the Federal Court. The physicians arraigned were Drs. Leopold and Henry Harris, 317 East Thirteenth Street; Bernard B. Pitt, 99 Stanton Street; Louis Falk, 331 Grand Street, and Abraham L. Cardoza and David M. Brown of 1,982 Lexington Avenue. Besides Jacobs, the druggists are Isidore Sherman, 98 Rivington Street; Julius Nelson, 275 Broome Street, and James Freilich of First Avenue and Sixteenth Street.

Inspector Oyler testified that during the last few months the accused physicians had furnished about 500,000 prescriptions to drug addicts, and that in some instances the prescriptions were not recorded as required under the Federal Food and Drugs act.

Dr. James A. Hamilton, Commissioner of Correction, yesterday urged that some action be continued to suppress the drug evil. He declared that the institutions he presides over are full of men wrecked by drugs. He termed the raid of Major Daniel L. Porter, who led the revenue men, "one of the best things that has been done in the city for some time." He also commended the work of Lieutenant Henry Scherb, in charge of the Narcotic Squad.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROME, April 8.—Ambassador Page, interviewed by the Tribuna about his reported early return to America, said he had always had it in mind to return home when the war was over and devote himself to writing, especially concerning Italy's part in the war, which he hoped to be able to do with reasonable accuracy and sympathy. He added that it would be a grateful task for him to write about the heroism of the Italian soldiers and people, which nobody could appreciate who was not here during the war.

The Ambassador said he regretted that there were some tendencies to emphasize certain imaginary differences between American and Italian interests which were fundamentally the same, there being no possible ground of a political conflict between them.

EVERY MAN WALKS
—little or much. The better his underwear treats him the more pleasant the walk. Underwear that doesn't treat a man right makes his life miserable.
Gibbs SPLIT-BELT UNION SUIT
puts a man in a frame of mind that makes hot days look good to him.
The "split" belt is an unique feature. It gives large seat opening. When closed doesn't sag, gap or bunch. No binding or pulling to annoy.
A loose fitting, thin, cool garment of extraordinary comfort. Made of fine, soft cotton interlooped. Absorbs perspiration thereby keeping the body cool without chilling. Has all the comfort of muslin underwear—and entirely eliminates its hot, clinging propensities.
Low neck, sleeveless, knee length. As carefully made as a tailored suit. The underwear for long wear.

ASKS COURT TO OUST EDDY PUBLISHERS

Trustees Disloyal and Inefficient, Dittemore Alleges in Christian Science Answer.

HOLDS DIRECTORS SUPREME

Majority Removed Him from Board, He Says, Because He Opposed Schemes of Trustees.

BOSTON, April 9.—Charges of disloyalty and mismanagement on the part of the Trustees of the Christian Science Publishing Society are made in a separate answer filed in the Supreme Court today by John V. Dittemore, one of the defendants to the suit brought by the Trustees last month to restrain the Directors of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, from interfering with their management of the society. Mr. Dittemore particularly attacks the methods used in the publication of The Christian Science Monitor, a daily paper.

The other members of the Board of Directors dismissed Mr. Dittemore on March 17 last, eight days before the filing of the suit, and appointed Mrs. Annie M. Knott in his place. Both he and Mrs. Knott were made defendants in this suit, the Trustees asserting in their bill of complaint that they were unable to determine which was a "duly appointed" Director. Mrs. Knott joined in the answer filed by the other Directors on April 4.

Mr. Dittemore's answer completes the pleadings. It is expected that the case will be sent to a Master within a few weeks for the hearing of evidence.

The answer declares that the manual or by-laws of the Christian Science Church as administered by the Board of Directors constitutes the supreme authority over all departments of Christian Science activities, including the publishing society. It asserts that the alleged disloyal attitude of the Trustees has been known for a long time by the Directors and that a majority of the Directors has been influenced and intimidated by the Trustees in combination with Frederick Dixon, editor of The Christian Science Monitor. It alleges that Mr. Dittemore was removed as a Director because of his opposition to the schemes of the Trustees by vote of a majority of the Board of Directors, consisting of Adam H. Dickey, Edward A. Merritt, and William R. Rathvon.

The answer charges the Trustees, Herbert W. Eustace, David B. Ogden, and Lamont Rowlands, with "disloyalty, misconduct, mismanagement, and inefficiency." It says that Mr. Eustace is the dominating member of the Board of Trustees and, with Mr. Dixon, has so intimidated the majority of the Board of Directors as to subvert many of the church by-laws. The Trustees, the answer continues, have sought to withdraw the publishing society from the legitimate control of the Board of Directors, thus introducing a division in the Christian Science movement.

Charges are made in the answer that the circulation of The Monitor has been misrepresented and that its management has been extravagant, especially in its foreign service. It cites payments of large sums for cable news, amounting to $21,000 in one month, for matter said to have been largely rewritten from London daily papers.

The admission is made that there has been an increase in the income of the publishing society from the sale of certain periodicals, but it is asserted that this was due to the fact that prices had been increased in some instances 40 per cent. and in other instances 100 per cent., and that this burden had been borne by the subscribers, who are almost all members of the First Church of Christ, Scientist.

Regarding the action of the Directors in voting to remove Mr. Rowlands from the Board of Trustees, the answer says that Mr. Dittemore's former co-Directors frequently had told Mr. Dittemore that Mr. Rowlands was little known, and had only a small following among Christian Scientists, and that if he alone were removed or threatened with removal, the other Trustees would make no objection, and the growing unrest among the church members would be satisfied.

The answer declares that the Trustees, because of their inconsistency with respect to the principles of Christian Science as taught by its founder, Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, and their disregard of the injury they might inflict upon the movement, are not eligible to hold office. It asserts that they have no legitimate standing to proceed with the prosecution of their suit and that they can be and ought to be removed from office by the court.

Believe Meteor Shook Kentucklans.

SOMERSET, Ky., April 9.—Somerset and nearby places were rocked this afternoon, apparently the result either of a terrific concussion or an earthquake. Inquiry failed to reveal the cause definitely. The general opinion was that a meteor had fallen in this vicinity. No damage was reported.

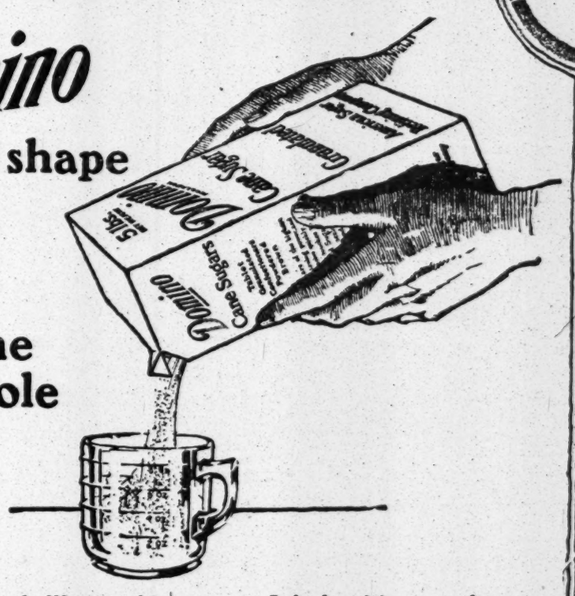
Domino

not the shape of a sugar but the name of a whole sugar family



"Domino" sounds like a tablet sugar. It is, but it's more than that—Domino is the name of a whole sugar family:

Granulated—for baking, cooking, sweetening iced beverages, candy-making.

Tablets—for tea, coffee, cocoa and chocolate.

Powdered—for fruits, cereals, dusting pies and cookies.

Confectioners—icings and fondants.

Old-Fashioned Brown—baked beans, candied sweet potatoes, tarts, cakes and on the children's bread.

All come to you clean and pure, in sturdy cartons or strong cotton bags, accurately weighed, packed and sealed by machine.

CLOTHING, HATS AND FURNISHINGS

The loss caused by the fire in our Broadway Store a week ago has been adjusted. The merchandise damaged by fire has been removed. What was merely affected in some degree by smoke and water will be disposed of at once at greatly reduced prices:

Sale Starts To-day At 8 A. M.

Our guarantee goes with every article. Any unsatisfactory purchase may be returned and money will be refunded.

No damaged or unwearable merchandise will be sold.

Every article in the store has been reduced to a price which will result in quick clearance, for we are anxious to resume our regular service.

Men's Suits, all fresh, this season's garments, at 20 to 25 per cnt. less than they were a week ago.

Men's Topcoats, Overcoats and Dress Suits similarly reduced, though they were on the upper floors and do not even smell of smoke.

Children's Department, on the third floor. Splendid bargains for the boys in Clothing, Hats and Furnishings.

Men's Furnishings: are too varied to mention separately, but these prices will give you a general idea of the whole line:

Now Look Out For Your Feet

NOW—when thousands of men are returning to civilian life—now is the time to make sure that your feet will never again be sqeezed into narrow pointed shoes—to guard against the corns, callouses, bunions, ingrown nails, etc., that army shoes have freed you from.

Insure your future foot health from the instant you discard the heavy army shoe. Get into comfortable, broad-toed Educators—the logical successors to your army shoes. Because they let the feet grow as they should and are good looking besides.

MADE FOR MEN WOMEN and CHILDREN

Go to the Educator dealer and get a pair today. Get them for the whole family. See the good looking Educator for boys shown here. And be sure that Educator is stamped on the sole. There is no protection stronger than the famous Educator trademark. It means that behind every part of the shoe stands a responsible manufacturer, Rice & Hutchins, Inc., Boston.

LONG-WEARING SOLES MEAN LOW SHOE BILLS

"I have never been able to get half the service from other soles that I get from Neolin Soles," says H. H. Shellenberger, a traveling salesman of Easton, Pa.

Long service from the soles means lowered shoe costs, for that is where shoes wear out quickest. When next you need new shoes buy them with Neolin Soles. You pay no more than for shoes that give less wear—and you can get them in many styles for men, women, and children.

Have these durable, comfortable and waterproof soles put on your old shoes, too. All good repair shops carry them. They are made, scientifically, by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear all other heels.

Brevity was not the soul of the jest which the brothers Barrymore got off last night at the Plymouth. The final curtain did not descend until twenty minutes past midnight. This was a pity; for, while the Italian play by Sam Benelli is very far indeed from being a masterpiece, it yet tells an interesting story of mediaeval guile and passion, and provides both John and Lionel with parts which reveal their extraordinary and rapidly maturing talents in new and significant phases.

The first act struck a fresh and powerful note, which the second act developed until it seemed that last year's acting triumph with "The Copperhead" was destined to be redoubled. But in the third act the story lost itself in a trackless wilderness of motives, and for the time the play seemed dead. The final act brought it to life again with a snap, and the curtain rang down on what, with the necessary cutting and speeding of the changes, is probably destined to be one of the sensational successes of the decade. It is to be noted that when the end at last came there was scarcely a seat in the crowded house that had lost its tenant.

"The Jest" tells a story of love and hate, of persecution and revenge, in the Florence of Lorenzo the Magnificent. A gentle, sensitive artist, played by John Barrymore, has been hoaxed and tortured from childhood by a burly captain of Lorenzo's Mercenaries, played by Lionel. Finally his young bride to be has been torn from him and dragged to the great bully's house. As the play opens, the young painter is planning his revenge. It is a tortuous plot, full of Italian subtlety and refinement in cruelty.

The burly Captain, Neri, is plied with wine, tempted to a wager, and sent off on a desperate prank that lands him in Lorenzo's dungeon. There the artist, Gianetti, subjects him to a full repertory of taunts and tortures of the spirit which are designed to send him mad. But, primitive as the bully's brain power is, it resists all assaults. Finally Gianetti conceives a plot the result of which is that Neri murders a much-loved brother by mistake, and then at last he falls into an almost cataleptic madness.

There is no great novelty in the story, and the milieu is long familiar to the so-called romantic drama. But the two characterizations are finely conceived and the parts written with distinct subtlety and power. The burly Captain, Neri, is quite a marvel of the miles gloriosus—a creature of small wit and great brutalities, insolent and boasting, yet brave as an infuriated bull.

There are, moreover, many neat strokes of burly character that evoked spontaneous and irresistible laughter. Lionel Barrymore's embodiment of the Captain is as well rounded as it is vigorous, and it rises into regions of power above and beyond those which were revealed in his Milt Shanks of "The Copperhead." It would be a rash man who ventured to set a limit on the powers of an actor who has already risen so high.

The part of Gianetto is less showy, less adapted to win popular acclaim; yet it requires great subtlety in the actor, great distinction of mind and of person. Of the two it is probably the more difficult and exacting. A young artist of sensitive fibre and kindly nature is goaded by intolerable persecution to retaliation in kind. He pursues his revenge to the utmost limit, and, in so doing, destroys his own soul. John Barrymore has never been more strikingly, mordantly beautiful; and, though there was little scope for the more gracious and poetic phases of his art, his performance was on the whole marvelously luminous, even sympathetic.

The production, by Robert Edmond Jones, is of the utmost beauty—broad in its primary effects, yet revealing a vast wealth of harmonious and significant detail. The colors of the costumes and the effects of light played upon the senses like music. There were many moments when acting and atmosphere fused and kindled to consummate beauty. If the third act is ever sufficiently shortened and clarified, "The Jest" will deserve to stand as a new milestone in American producing.

GUARDI SKETCHES LEAD SALE

Eight in Ederheimer Collection of Original Drawings Bring $3,500.

At the sale at the Anderson Galleries last evening of the Ederheimer collection of original drawings of old and modern masters the series of eight pen and sepia sketches by the Venetian artist Francesco Guardi brought the highest price, going to Seymour de Ricci for $3,500. These small sketches by Guardi were of great importance, the largest three or four inches by eleven. Of two of them, groups of tiny figures, Mr. Ederheimer said, no more wonderful drawings had passed through his hands than those "two marvelous compositions." Dr. Oswald Siren, writing of them, said:

"The walking figures seen from behind are most remarkable studies of movement," and "they can well be compared to Rembrandt's most impressionistic sketches." They were put up as a lot not to be separated, as the owner wished them to find their way into some important collection.

A fine pen drawing in bistre heightened with white by Titian, "The Lord Creating the Light of Heaven," was purchased by Mr. de Ricci for $900.

"Tubal Cain Inventing Music," by Joerg Breu, went to the Kleinberger Galleries for $300. To T. J. Gannon went three drawings in black and red crayon attributed to François Clouet, for $310 each. "François de Lorraine," "Leonor d'Orleans," "Jacques de Savoie," and the "Portrait of a Gentleman," of the school of Clouet, also for $310.

A color sketch, a fine example by Jacob Jordaens, "Christ with the Disciples at Emaus," sold on order for $500; H. K. Hotchkiss paid $710 for a "Wide Landscape," by Claude Lorraine. A magnificent drawing in colored chalks by Thomas Gainsborough, "Mrs. Sheridan and Mrs. Tickell, Holding a Child," went to the Park Avenue Antique Studios for $2,400; a charcoal drawing of great beauty by Corot, a "Wide Landscape," went to the same buyers for $800, and Millet's "Le Charbonnier," a large charcoal drawing, framed, for $1,300. "A Mountain Landscape," by Gainsborough, in charcoal and white chalk, sold on order for $400. Another charcoal drawing by Millet, "Peasants in Conversation with a Shepherd," sold on order for $510.

The returns for the 200 numbers were $19,973.

Throng Hears Caruso in "Prophete."

Signor Caruso, whose farewell performance in "Aida" next week goes on sale today, appeared again in "Le Prophete" last eevning before one of the great audiences of the season, while already tickets for his only performance in "Carmen" next Monday are going at $10 rates. The tenor is often credited with being a chief cause of Italian opera's domination of the local opera stage, but no other artist since the Polish Jean de Reszke, twenty years ago, has drawn the public in larger numbers to the French operas in which he appears. With Caruso were Mme. Matzenauer, as the Prophet's mother, and Miss Easton, now among the foremost artists of the Metropolitan company, who at short notice sang the heroine's rôle. Messrs. Rothier, Diaz, Marcones, and others reappeared, and Mr. Rodanzky conducted.

MUSIC

By James Gibbons Huneker

The Schola Cantorum.

There was much beautiful music sung at Carnegie Hall last night by the chorus of the Schola Cantorum, Kurt Schindler, conductor. It was the final concert of the tenth season, and, as the fates were propitious, it proved the most enjoyable of any concert this year of the organization. The solemn period is at hand for two grand old religions, Pesach and Passover, and the program last night was a fitting prelude to Holy Week; indeed, it could be repeated next week, for the singing of such music is a holy and wholesome thought; music that laves the soul from the profane dust of futile opera and other unmusical east winds.

The novelties were two anthems from the All Night Vigil by Sergei V. Rachmaninoff, Opus 37, No. 2 and No. 3, published in 1915 and sung at Moscow by the Cathedral Choir. Any one who has been lucky enough to have visited that marvelous Russian city will testify to the moving quality of the ecclesiastical chanting there.

It is needless to add that the new music of the distinguished Russian composer is well made. "Bless the Lord, O My Soul," is the first anthem, and, if the mood is darkling rather than exultant, the atmosphere in which it was conceived is sufficient excuse. Russia must have been in an apocalyptic condition with all the Seven Seals broken, the vials of wrath opened and pouring upon it. The other anthem, "Bless the Lord, O My Soul," with its ingeniously varied Alleluia, was more joyous. Nevertheless, the Cherubic Hymn by Alexandre Gretchaninoff outpointed these anthems in sincerity and invention.

Three chansons set for four-part chorus a capella, by Claude Debussy, (as an in memorium,) were charming. The lovely old French of Prince Charles d'Orleans were no inconsiderable addition to the artistic merit of Debussy's share. Charles d'Orleans was a pioneer in the employment of exotic verse forms; the Rondel, the Ballade Royale, the Virelai, even the humbler triolet. Here, however, he wrote in simpler measures. "The Planting of the Maypole" gave such unalloyed pleasure because of Merle Alcock's rich contralto and the excellent collaboration of Mrs. Schindler's chorus that the number had to be repeated. Miss Alcock also sang the solo in one of Rachmaninoff's anthems. The Debussy harmonies were both savant and ear-wooing; the intervals were ticklish to sing, unaccompanied as they were.

The Schola Cantorum sang with more precision and better intonation than its wont. There was a smoother co-ordination of the choirs, though the general tone production was still wooly, the entrances and exits in polyphonic episodes not always prompt or clean cut. But the music was of such high order—Orlando di Lassa, old French and Flemish Bergerettes and Easter Week music of Old Spain—that the unverified rumor of Mr. Schindler's resignation and ultimate departure for Russia made us wonder who could, among local conductors, give us so much novel, stimulating and genuinely beautiful music. The conductor and chorus were warmly applauded by a large audience. So was Miss Alcock.

Does the operator or the machine do the work?

Simplicity is the keynote of efficiency. The Dalton has but 10 keys, one for each figure. They are compactly arranged under the fingers of one hand. To list $123.45 you strike the keys 1-2-3-4-5 and the machine automatically puts the figures in their proper columns.

This is Dalton simplicity. It relieves the operator of column selection, of countless hand and eye movements, of brain fag and nerve strain. With a Dalton the machine does the work.

With eyes on her work and fingers on keys the Dalton operator lists and figures with the ease and speed of an expert performer fingering the keys of a piano.

Any one can operate the Dalton, no experience is necessary, and with little practice one can operate it by the Touch Method—without looking at the keys.

The Dalton multiplies as easy as it adds. It combines in one machine the features of both a listing and a calculating machine.

The 10-Key Dalton

Checks invoices, figures payrolls, estimates, interest and chain discounts, inventories, cost sheets, trial balances. It tabulates, crossfoots and adds two columns at once. The Dalton is an all-round machine, equally adapted to the one-man office or the largest corporation.

Phone for Demonstration

If a Dalton will speed up your office work, eliminate errors in figuring and make an actual money-saving for you, will it not pay you to investigate it? Let us show you how it saves on your work. A demonstration involves no obligation. Ask for it.

TAXES ON TAXES.

Rising temper in the tax discussions at Albany shows that the subject is becoming interesting at last. Hardly any one remembers that only three years ago there was a thin negative vote specifically on the tax-reform proposals of the Constitutional Convention, directed more particularly toward amending the defective methods of collecting familiar taxes. Since then there has been an accumulation of new taxes, with still other novelties in the background. As the Federal tax mill also has been busy, there has resulted an accumulation of taxes on taxes, added to rising rates of taxes. Controller TRAVIS put this point foremost in his attack on the proposal for a State income tax, and his argument was strengthened, unknown to him, by a decision of the Third Appellate Division on the same day.

The Controller was discussing an individual State income tax, without allowance of deduction of the Federal income tax. Since all know the severity of the Federal income tax, it is not necessary to emphasize the hardship of collection by the State of a State tax on the Federal tax; that is, on the full income shown in both the Federal and State returns. This is a State of large incomes, and the Federal tax on many such incomes runs above 50 per cent. That is worse than the general tax on personal property, which at 2 per cent. on the principal, more or less, takes half of the income of conservative investments. Everybody, except officials at their wits' end to find money to pay their bills, condemns the personal property tax, and Controller TRAVIS has the argument with him when he asserts that the voters would reject the proposed State income tax.

The decision which supports his position against enacting State taxes on Federal taxes was given in a case under what is called our corporation income tax. Lawyers call it a tax on the corporate franchise to do business in New York, the tax being merely measured by the income rather than levied on the income. Connecticut and Massachusetts have similar taxes which are levied as income taxes, and the laws of all three States use the Federal income tax as a means of calculating the tax payable. There is a curious contradiction in the court interpretation of these statutes. Our Attorney General and State Tax Commission ruled that the Federal and State tax authorities were distinct, and that there was no argument from the acts or laws of one to the other. Therefore the Federal war excess profits tax could not be deducted in calculating the income tax payable to New York just because it had been deductible in the Federal practice.

That decision of our State tax and law authorities "saved the State" some eight millions of dollars. That sum was collected from New York corporations, and would have had to be returned to them if our courts had not sustained the collection. But the course taken and the result reached are just the opposite in Connecticut and Massachusetts. Their lower officials ruled like ours, but their courts overruled them. Thus our courts sustain the officials, and their courts differ from our courts. Our corporations are mulcted and their corporations escape. Those who pay the cumulated taxes have their choice whether to blame the lawmakers or the courts, or both. Anyway, interest is given to the tax question.

The Controller had distinguished support from those who rivaled him in condemnation of the "iniquities" of the proposal, and who went on to propose some iniquities of their own. The Mayor's Commission and the spokesmen for real estate interests think that a personal property tax is better than a State income tax. It would be a pleasure to argue that. But what's the use? Those who like the personal property tax know as well as anybody that it has been condemned in theory and practice, on the authority of the collectors and the protests of the payers, ever since the condemnation by the Commission at the time of the French Revolution. That in part was a tax revolution, and the Commission reported to the Assembly that a personal property tax is "inconsistent with the holy law of the liberty of the domicile." The objection is moral as well as economic. Without carrying the personal tax discussion further, we think it safe to say, as positively as the Controller, that the electorate would reject this tax, too.

The present tax situation is such that there is no good additional tax. The only tax to be considered is a tax by way of substitution for some tax to be repealed. Since it is not possible to repeal any tax in these spendthrift days, with taxes rising faster manyfold than either population or wealth, that is little different from saying that expenditures should be limited to the present tax proceeds. It will be time enough to speak of new taxes if the result should be deficits sufficient to be troublesome. A moderate deficit would be preferable to a large surplus. We have had all the benevolence we can endure from taxation by either State or nation. Taxation on either capital or income or industry has now reached an aggregate which makes the subject of sufficient interest to animate the taxpayers to put terror into the hearts of those who ask votes for any additional tax, new or old. If there is anything worse than the manner in which the taxes are spent, it is the manner in which they are enacted and administered. We recognize that there has been recent improvement on the part of the State Tax Commission. But its strength is not equal to the accumulation of tax horrors, with honors easily in favor of some of the proposed reform taxes.

THE AMERICAN LEGION.

We don't have to go back to the notions about the Order of the Cincinnati, that prevailed at the end of the War of the Revolution, to understand how far-reaching, politically potent, and socially and economically how active a society of soldiers returned to civil life and acting together may be. The G. A. R., cleverly used as an annex of the Republican Party and as a means of getting universal service pensions, is in every memory as an instance of the unjust employment of patriotism and the general feeling of patriotic gratitude to promote the interests of a party and of a class. Now we have the returning soldiers of an army beyond all precedents in history. Their numbers, their services, their strong and just claims upon the nation are recognized and undeniable. It would be a deplorable result if these men, approved by and dear to the whole community, should become a mere reflection of their own separate objects; if they, who have done so much for all of us, should be turned into a class organization, seeking its own objects and dividing itself from the great body of the public.

Even diverted to selfish uses, these millions of men would keep much of their hold upon us. We owe them so much that we should be patient to their demands. They are mostly young. They are generous. The power they have will be used generously. Whatever societies they may form themselves into will retain, we may be sure, the manly, patriotic, and American spirit of these young men.

It is a pleasure, therefore, to know that Lieut. Col. THEODORE ROOSEVELT, the worthy inheritor of a beloved American name, has called a meeting of soldiers and sailors at St. Louis for next month. Lieut. Col. BENNETT CLARK, a son of Mr. CHAMP CLARK, is an associate of Lieut. Col. ROOSEVELT in the plan for an organization of all our soldiers and sailors as the American Legion. These two gentlemen, consociated in a patriotic movement, indicate by their names its common national purpose, apart from politics and partisanship. A non-partisan and non-political association is to be formed, says Lieut. Col. ROOSEVELT, "an association which will keep "alive the principles of justice, free"dom, and democracy for which these "veterans fought." Justice, freedom, and democracy, without partisanship! The idea is noble. It should prevail. Who can do as much for justice, freedom, and democracy as these men who fought for them? May they keep sacred these lofty objects, defend them always! The fatal germ of partisanship must never be allowed to enter that society of soldiers and sailors. The influence of these men will be great. Used in the honorable, straightforward, large, national way advocated by Lieut. Col ROOSEVELT and Lieut. Col. CLARK it will be a help and a strength to the United States.

THE ATLANTIC FLIGHT.

In the matter of the transatlantic flight by airship, the British, with their R-33 dirigible and their flocks of big heavier-than-air machines have an advantage over their American competitors, who are not too well equipped with any kind of aircraft. In spite of feverish preparations on Long Island, on the Newfoundland coast, and in Ireland, interest in the adventure is as yet far from the boiling point. Still, if weather conditions suited the mammoth British dirigible she might forge past Sandy Hook and look down on our skyscrapers any hour of the day, put her helm over, as it were, and head back to Old England, doing the trick too smoothly to leave us much time for astonishment. Aeronautical experts are not at all skeptical about her ability to cross the Atlantic and return when she is keyed up and ready, provided the winds are kind.

The fact that the British Air Ministry has taken "under consideration" an invitation of the Aero Club of America to send the new R-33 or the newer R-34 to Atlantic City during the second Pan-American Aeronautic Exposition in May does not signify that the pioneer flight is to be left to the airplanes. With two great ships available, the British Air Ministry may be tempted to enter the transatlantic contest and go visiting at the Pan-American Exposition later. There can be no doubt that the British are very keen about mastery of the air and covet the prestige of a first flight across the Atlantic. But the race is not always to the swift.

While the British have more ships, more navigators, and more experience in long-distance flying, the United States Navy has a well-matured plan to make the Atlantic passage by air and water with the N C type of seaplane, and the American Eagle may scream before the British Lion can roar. "We are bending every "effort and want to have the "credit of being the first to cross "the Atlantic," said Secretary DANIELS in the latter part of February. However, the odds are in favor of the British, for the United States has no formidable lighter-than-air machine and the N C's do not seem to be ready for the first "leg," to Newfoundland. On that rocky coast the Hawker-Grieves party is tuning up the Sopwith biplane which may be off any day from St. John's. Moreover, a Handley-Page giant plane is getting ready for a start at Harbor Grace, while the SHORTT Brothers have notified the British Air Ministry that they will start a Shiel airplane from the Irish coast for a westward flight about the middle of April. The success of the Irish craft, piloted by Major JAMES C. P. WOOD of the Royal Flying Corps, would make an appeal to sentiment, because a Columbus of the air should voyage westward. Nevertheless, a triumph of tradition does not enter into American speculations. An American victory would give a much-needed impetus to aviation in this country, which is threatened with eclipse by British enterprise. The scheme of a Frenchman, Lieutenant J. P. FONTAN, to fly a plane from Paris to Africa and from Dakar to the Cape Verde Islands, thence to the coast of Brazil by the shortest sea route, hardly merits serious consideration. The African link of it seems impracticable, and FONTAN in two starts has had trouble with his cylinders before he could leave France behind.

It may be doubted whether well-informed aeronautical authorities have a great deal of faith in the success of their venturesome competitors who are about to launch their planes into the air for the Atlantic passage. Eighteen hundred miles is a long way for an aviator to go. On land there has never yet been so long a non-stop flight. But it may be rejoined that the entries are powerfully motored. It is true also that a strong argument can be made for a seaplane favored by calm seas. The big dirigible is regarded with greater confidence, but the weather must be propitious all the way over. Whatever turn speculation may take, brave spirits are soon to seek the upper spaces for the Atlantic passage in throbbing airplanes. The risk will be great, and good luck go with them!

THE DISAPPOINTED MAGYARS.

Count MICHAEL KAROLYI is a gentleman with a talent for landing on his feet no matter how far he jumps, but it may be that when the present political movement in Hungary has reached its conclusion he will find himself worse off than when it began. Correspondents now report that the clearing of the way for the Bolshevist revolution seems to have been done by KAROLYI under the conviction that it would not be real Bolshevism. As he himself said at the time, he turned his country over to the Bolsheviki by way of protest against the Peace Conference's intention to liberate the subject nationalities, apparently hoping thereby to scare the Conference into guaranteeing the territorial integrity of the "unitary and millenary" State.

But the Bolsheviki whom he invited in had their own ideas. In a few days BELA KUN has acquired a power as autocratic as that of LENINE or TROTZKY, and is using it to carry out a genuine Bolshevist program. Most disappointing of all, it appears that the Magyar Bolsheviki, whose imagination takes no account of national boundaries, are comparatively unconcerned with the readjustment of Hungarian frontiers. Let the Slovaks and Rumanians go their way, so long as Bolshevism is left undisturbed among the Magyars. And the intended deception has not worked as yet; General SMUTS was sent to make some adjustment, but his proposals—which failed of acceptance—did not involve breaking our promises to the Slav and Latin peoples of Hungary.

There must be a good deal of disappointment among the Magyar chauvinists who picked up Bolshevism as a weapon and find that it is cutting their own fingers. But the prospect is brighter for the world. Bolshevism is a bad neighbor, but it may be possible to live with it; the form of government which the Magyars adopt is their business, not ours, if we can get them to give up the Bolshevist habit of inciting revolution across the frontiers. A vengeful nationalism burning to recover the exploited territories which it has lost will not commend itself or its designs to the Peace Conference. Not many Magyars got any great profit out of holding the Slovaks and Rumanians and Serbs in subjection, and not many seem to be greatly disturbed at the prospective reduction of Hungary to the territories inhabited by Magyars. Arrangements can and should be made to make economic life possible for such a State; whether its people use this possibility or prefer to try Bolshevism is their affair.

MR. WOOLWORTH.

The monument of FRANK W. WOOLWORTH of the ten-cent stores is that massive, up-reaching, and majestic building with which CASS GILBERT has enriched New York. There the commercial life of Manhattan has found its apotheosis. Cathedral of business, call it what you will, dislike it if you can. It stretches up, imperturbably august, a conquest of architecture. It storms the sky. It is as grandiose and impressive as anything can be that hasn't a few centuries of mediaeval tradition and sentimentality to commend it. Those who are the most saturated with those traditions and that sentimentality are freest to admire that gigantic leap into the ether, that colossal defiance.

It is pleasant to believe that Mr. WOOLWORTH was glad to get eight dollars and a half a week a generation ago, and that he was worth many millions when he died. Other men, obscure and unrewarded, had run five-and-ten-cent stores. Mr. WOOLWORTH saw the magic of the idea, its appeal to the universal; and he made it his and forced everybody to contribute to his fortune. What does everybody want? Mr. WOOLWORTH told everybody and everybody paid. Why is genius so simple that only one man in twenty millions or so ever uses it?

BOLSHEVISM IN BUSINESS.

Mr. BURLESON has been out-Burlesoned in Russia. The Council of Popular Economy, which is in charge of the nationalization of industry under the Soviet Government, has made a mere beginning, and is already losing on its own admission some two billion rubles a year. This unhappy demonstration of Government ownership and operation may be ascribed, in the opinion of Mr. ROBERT CROZIER LONG, who writes to The Evening Post on this topic, to "inertia, inexperience, and enthusiasm." Representative ASWELL seems not to have been alone in his somewhat too eager reliance on buoyant official promises. Some months ago, says Mr. LONG, it appeared that the indiscriminate nationalization of industry prevalent in the exuberant early days of Bolshevism was losing money, so the Council of Popular Economy adopted the principle of "nationalization by opportunity." But he adds:

> This is ostensibly the sound policy of leaving alone factories and workshops that would certainly not yield profit to the State, and nationalizing first factories and workshops that promise to yield profit. In practice it means leaving alone the enterprises that could be run only at a tremendous loss, and nationalizing those that can be run at a relatively moderate loss.

One of the early ventures was the seizure of all large tailoring establishments and the establishing of State clothing factories. As all Russia needed clothes, it might have seemed that this would be a profitable undertaking; but something was wrong with the management. A suit made by the Government sold for 500 rubles, and at this price there was little demand. But the suit which was priced at 500 rubles cost a thousand to make, and this, too, at an earlier time when the ruble, falling steadily, was worth more than at the time of sale.

However, so long as the printing presses hold out there will be rubles for the Government, whatever they may or may not be worth, so industrialization goes on. It does not appear that there is any undue amount of graft in the Council of Popular Economy, early tendencies in that direction having been counteracted by the shooting of five employés in a single day; but there is not much efficiency. However, profitable private competition is made impossible by the Government—an analogous practice is not unknown further West—and more rubles can be printed when the Administration wants them.

In the meantime the Government is getting one advantage out of the Council, in this respect having drawn a profitable lesson from the practices of the Czar's Government. "The forty thousand new bureaucrats," says the correspondent, "mean the "subtraction from the unofficial "population of so many potential "enemies and their conversion into "adherents of the new régime." So long as they are satisfied with wage increases in paper rubles, this is doubtless true; if they come to ask something better, the Russians may find some trouble in following the practice of Government operators elsewhere in laying new burdens of taxes on the bourgeoisie. They have removed most of the providers of golden eggs, and without them Government operation would have hard going in other countries as well as Russia.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

A Strange Welcome for Heroes.

As men particularly deserving of honor and consideration, the 2,700 American soldiers who were detained for nineteen hours on the Mauretania, many of them almost in sight of their homes, have a right to complain of their treatment with some fierceness. For, instead of receiving the cordial welcome they had earned by anticipating the inevitable action of their own country and entering the war on the right side in the not too pleasantly remembered period when Americans who already had decided that the Germans needed a beating had to enlist under the British or French flag, these men were viewed with suspicion as "immigrants" whose papers were not exactly in order.

It seems that their names and quality had not been properly entered on the ship's manifest! That was a truly dreadful thing, of course, from the standpoint of a bureau official with certain rules to enforce and no discretionary powers to use in enforcing those rules. But, even though there was nobody here authorized to take account of the peculiar circumstances in which these men arrived, and the undeniable fact that they were soldiers who had been fighting for us the good fight efficiently, there were high officials in Washington who reasonably might have been expected to realize the nature of the situation and to take prompt measures for its relief.

But nothing of the sort was done. The regulations were as rigidly applied as if the safety of the country depended on the carrying out of every technicality by which it is protected—more or less—from the peril created by the entrance of undesirable immigrants.

No Fault of Theirs Involved.

To make the grievance of these men on the Mauretania the more bitter, the fact that they had not been correctly documented seems to have been not at all their fault, but that of the American Consul General in London, who ought to have known, and of the British military officials there, who might have known, just what sort of papers such soldiers needed to meet the landing requirements here. The papers they did have told who they were and what they had been doing, and naturally the men did not insist on getting others after they had been informed that those that were given to them were what they ought to have and were enough.

Some responsibility, too, rests on the steamship line's officials for not seeing to it that the manifests were in order, and their failure to do it is the more remarkable in that the result to them may be heavy fines if there should be some more enforcement of the law's letter regardless of the obvious absence of any ill intention.

That the troubles of these men will soon end, now that public attention has been attracted to them, is certain, but it must have been a most exasperating experience for them to be thus ensnared in departmental red tape when they were expecting to march ashore amid the cheers their courage had so well earned.

For Police Rather Than Landlords.

In the resolution of Alderman KENNEALLY, presumably intended to meet the Mayor's recent suggestion in regard to seditious meetings, careful reading reveals only a single merit. The ordinance proposed does recognize, as the Mayor's letter of advice did not, that what is said, not the language in which it is said, needs to be controlled; that treason and anarchy are bad in themselves, no matter in what tongue they are preached.

But when that feature of the resolution has been commended its full desert of praise has been met. The idea of putting all responsibility for the public advocacy of "policies tending to incite the minds of people to a disregard of law" on the "owner, agent, occupant, or the one in charge of the place or building" must be condemned as a wholly wrong and inadequate solution of the problem. It would be a delegation of police powers not to be tolerated.

The owner of a "place or building" is, indeed, under a real obligation not to let his property be used for evil purposes, but, even if well-intentioned, he might not be a good judge of when and how freedom of speech should be restricted, and, if ill-intentioned, his approval of sedition would be difficult or impossible to prove unless his offenses were frequent. The police cannot evade their present duty to prevent or minimize the real dangers to which the Mayor referred when he addressed the Aldermen.

The use of a foreign language in public speaking is far from always wrong, and to forbid the innocent uses of such languages would be absurd. But incitements to violence and attacks on our form of government, whether by foreigners or natives—these are simply criminal, and the existing laws, if vigorously enforced, would stop most of them and punish the others.

Perhaps All Cases Are Wrong.

There have been Judges in some of our lower courts whose decisions were often reversed on appeal, but the worst records of this sort that have been made are better than those of military courts-martial as shown by the report of action by the so-called Board of Clemency.

In the cases of 1,683 soldiers now in confinement the board has recommended a mitigation of sentence for 1,521. In this great majority of instances, therefore, the sentences were excessively severe—a fact to be explained either by the imperfection of military law or by the incompetency of those who apply it.

One hears, however, of court-martial sentences that are strangely lenient almost as often as of those barbarously stern. Of the former sort the present report makes no mention, perhaps because they would not come before a Clemency Board.

THE VERDICT.

Now the cup the Brewer mixed
With unholy zest,
Out of woe and fear and pain,
To his lips is pressed;
From that dark and bitter draught
See the craven shrink.
To the dregs of his own brewing,
Let the Brewer drink!

Now the tune the Dancer chose Changes time and key,
And the Dancer, weary grown,
Shirks the piper's fee;
Others wait to dance awhile,
Now he's had his fun;
Let the braggart pay the piper
When the dance is done!

Now the sword the Slayer forged
Turns on him its blade,
And the coward flees apace,
Cringing and afraid!
Let the sword his hand unsheathed
Judge and jury be,
Write the verdict of the court

ANNIE JOHNSON FLINT.

A STRONGER COVENANT.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The writer is in full sympathy with the proposed League of Nations to prevent international war, and believes that the League covenant should form part of the general peace treaty. He is prepared, with ex-President Taft, to accept the League constitution as proposed, without amendment and with all its defects, rather than have it fail or delayed. He believes, however, that the constitution would be greatly improved if most of the amendments suggested by Senator Lodge, President Lowell, ex-President Taft, and Judge Hughes were adopted; and he even ventures to offer still another which he believes would put teeth into the constitution.

The primary aim of the proposed League is, and should be, preventive: to prevent a bellicose or militaristic nation from making sudden and aggressive war on another nation. Its strength or its weakness lies, therefore, in the character of the deterrents it offers. The more severe, the more certain, the more immediate, and the more automatically operative the deterrents or penalties are, the less chance there is that any bellicose nation would run the risk of incurring them.

What are the deterrents provided in the League constitution? They are two: an economic boycott and a threat of military action.

The League constitution binds the signatories to at once institute an economic boycott against the "covenant-breaking nation." But for such a boycott to become effective takes time, involves delay, and this seriously weakens its effectiveness as a deterrent.

The strongest deterrent would be an ironclad agreement for all the other signatories of the League covenant to at once make war in common on the "covenant-breaking nation." This is what France, in her exposed position, has clamored for. The difficulties, however, in the way of such an ironclad pact are insuperable, and the proposed constitution rightly, in this particular, contents itself with the provision that the Council of the League shall "recommend" what military action may seem advisable, leaving it, by plain implication, as Mr. Taft points out, to the war-making powers of the individual nations to follow the "recommendation" or not. This rather tenuous provision for the exercise of military force is all that could gain acceptance, but it is far from what France needs and may justly ask for.

But it seems to the writer that there is another provision that might reasonably be accepted by all; one that would put teeth into the League constitution; one that would give France and other exposed nations the protection justly called for; one that would be severe, certain, immediate, and automatically operative; one that would be almost as effective a deterrent to a "covenant-breaking nation" as an ironclad agreement of all the other signatories to make common war upon it; and hence one that would make the need for ultimately resorting to military measures extremely improbable. The provision which the writer has in mind would be to insert in Article XVI. of the constitution an amendment to the following effect:

"The act of the covenant-breaking State constituting an act of war shall be deemed to have immediately cancelled all debts owed it or any of its citizens by other States, or any citizens of other States, and to have forfeited all property on the high seas or in the territory of any other State owned by said covenant-breaking State or any of its citizens, and legal obligation to reimburse its own citizens for property losses thus sustained shall rest upon the covenant-breaking State."

International law is now in the remaking; and such a provision as is here suggested seems to be called for. Every great nation, and Germany especially, will more in the future than in the past, will be dependent upon its commerce with the rest of the world. The amendment suggested would make every commercial enterprise extending beyond a nation's borders, every dollar's worth of goods sold by it abroad, every dollar invested abroad by its citizens, every dollar invested by its citizens and banks in foreign securities, the welfare and property of every one of its citizens resident abroad, every ship it has on the high seas or in the ports of other nations, so many pledges and hostages for the maintenance by that nation of international peace. To thoroughly exorcise militarism from the German people and to instill into them a genuine love for peace and for democracy cannot be done short of a generation or two, if, indeed, so soon. But the amendment suggested would go far toward rendering militarism impotent, and large armies or navies everywhere useless.

HINDU PRISONERS.

About the Statement That "Deportation Ordinarily Means Execution."

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In connection with a meeting that is to be held on April 10 to protest—among other things—"against deportation of Hindu prisoners" an appeal has been issued to Americans signed by names which are not altogether unknown to the reading public of our country. In it the amazing statement is made: "Deportation for a Hindu nationalist ordinarily means execution by the British authorities in India." So audacious an untruth as this ought to be gibbeted at once; and the men and the women who have permitted the use of their names for the purpose of putting it forth ought to be called upon to recant or to furnish the necessary evidence that they must have upon which to base the statement.

The sorry thing about the whole matter is that it seems to be part of a general plan to drive a cleft between America and Great Britain. To accomplish this end, anything is good enough to be used as a flail with which to belabor the latter. And yet I am certain that I am expressing the sense of a large section of our population when I say that the future of the world rests upon a conservation of the strong ties that bind together the three forward-looking nations of our day—America, France, and Great Britain. We are all perfectly well aware of the mistakes made in the past by British rule in India; the British peoples themselves are as fully aware of them. It would, however, be a sorry day for the Hindus were the protecting and the guiding hand of Great Britain to be withdrawn from them.

Protect the Registers' Offices.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Having been Register of New York County for four years, I naturally take an interest in any measures before the Legislature which affect the Registers' offices, and which may possibly, either directly or indirectly, affect the proper administration of the Torrens law in these offices.

I therefore earnestly ask that you condemn a bill which passed the Assembly on April 2, 1919, relating to the New York County Register's office. It is Assembly Bill No. 873, 1144; Int. 803, introduced by Mr. Coles.

This bill does the following things:

1. It violates the home rule principle, taking away from the city administration the control of the finances of the office except the power to increase salaries.

2. It makes permanent about fifty positions which are now temporary and the work for which is now practically complete.

3. It increases the cost of running the office by nearly $140,000 annually, in spite of the fact that the work has been decreasing for the last three years.

4. It makes 126 subordinate places mandatory on the Board of Estimate, (which is fifty more than are needed,) besides mandatory appropriations of $15,000 a year for preservation of records and $50,000 a year for rendering work which is already substantially completed.

The vicious features of this bill should receive full publicity so that it will not pass the Senate.

C., on April 18, with the 801st and 802d Companies Transportation Corps, the 2d Battalion and medical detachment of the 105th Engineers, Companies C to F, inclusive, of the 105th Engineer Train, eight casual companies and detachments of Base Hospitals Nos. 1, 26, 31, 32, 36, 47, 52, 58, and 70; detachments of Evacuation Hospital Nos. 1, 2, 4, and 6, and the 114th Company Transportation Corps.

The Pasadena, due at New York on April 22 with detachment Base Hospital No. 8, Evacuation Hospital No. 35, casual detachment ordnance convoy No. 25 and two casual companies.

The Silver Shell, due at New York on April 20 with one casual company of Massachusetts soldiers.

The Oskawa sailed from Nantes for New York April 4 with a few casuals.

Transport Mercy is due at New York on April 20 with eight convalescent detachment, totaling ten officers and 375 men.

The transport Calamares will arrive at New York about April 20 with the field and staff, headquarters, ordnance and medical detachments, and Companies A to F, inclusive, of the 316th Engineers; headquarters, headquarters troop, military police, and train headquarters, all units of the 91st (Wild West) division. Major Gen. William H. Johnston, commanding the 91st Division, is on board.

The transport Sierra, due at New York on April 18, is bringing the headquarters and medical detachment and Companies A to D inclusive of the 144th machine gun battalion; headquarters and sanitary detachment and companies A and B of the 143d machine gun detachment and military police, all of the 40th (California, Utah, Arizona, New Mexico, and Colorado) Division. Six convalescent detachments and forty-two casual officers also are aboard.

The transport Iowan also is due at New York on April 18 with the headquarters company, regimental headquarters, supply company, machine gun company and Companies B to I, inclusive, and L and M of the 158th Infantry of the 40th Division, and one casual company of marines.

The transport Roanoke, scheduled to arrive at New York on April 18, has headquarters detachment and medical detachment and 1st, 2d, 3d, and 5th Companies of 20th Engineers, cement mill company No. 5; headquarters company, sanitary detachment, and Companies A to F, inclusive, 115th Supply Train of 40th Division, and one casual company of Virginians.

The transport Winifredian is due at Boston on April 17 with the 101st Supply Train complete, 101st Sanitary Train complete, 101st Ammunition Train headquarters, and Companies A and B, all of 26th (New England) Division, and Field Hospital No. 338.

The transport Patricia sailed from Brest April 6 for Boston with the 102d and 103d Machine Gun Battalions complete; 101st Field Signal Battalion and 101st Mobile Ordnance Repair shop; detachments of the 101st, 102d and 103d Field Artillery; Sales Commissary unit, Salvage Squad and Postal Detachment, all units of the 26th Division; four casual companies and 222 casual officers.

FELICITATES KING ALBERT.

President Wilson Sends Birthday Message to Belgian Ruler.

PARIS, Tuesday, April 8.—President Wilson telegraphed a congratulatory message to the King of Belgium today on the occasion of the latter's birthday. The message read:

"Please accept my warmest congratulations on your birthday and my hope that you may have many another birthday in times that will rapidly grow brighter and witness the entire restoration of Belgium."

ILL-LUCK PURSUES FONTAN.

French Aspirant for Ocean-Flight Honors Stopped at Start.

PARIS, April 9.—Lieutenant J. P. Fontan, who started yesterday on the first leg of a flight which he intended should take him across the Atlantic from the Cape Verde Islands, was compelled to land near Bourges, 110 miles from his starting place near Versailles.

On March 16 the lieutenant also started, but was compelled to come down southeast of Blois because of a cracked cylinder.

TO HAVE WIRELESS PHONE.

President Will Be Able to Talk from Ship to Washington.

Special to The New York Times.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., April 9.—When the George Washington clears from Brest for the United States with President Wilson aboard she will have installed in her wireless room a telephone transmitter which will permit the President to hold wireless conversation with the navy radio station at New Brunswick, N. J., and possibly with Washington direct. This will be made possible by the use of the General Electric Company's apparatus designed by Dr. Ernest F. W. Alexanderson.

Wireless telephone messages were sent by this apparatus to the President throughout his last voyage to France, but the steamship was not fitted with the same apparatus and he could not reply in kind. Recent experimental work, however, is believed to have perfected the answering facilities, and next week John H. Payne, Jr., of Ballston, a radio expert of the General Electric laboratory here, will sail for Brest to direct the installation of the wireless telephone transmitting apparatus on the George Washington.

TEACHERS TO PROTEST BAN.

Will Meet to Discuss Closing Schools to Their Union.

The Teachers' Union will hold a meeting on Saturday at 3:30 P. M. at Terrace Garden to consider the action of the Board of Education in denying the union the use of the public schools as meeting places. This announcement was made yesterday by Dr. Henry R. Linville, President of the organization.

In connection with the announcement, Dr. Linville said that the action of the Board of Education in the matter was "a shortsighted attempt to destroy the only movement in the educational system that has stood for freedom of discussion of educational policies and practices" and declared that "the board proposes to withdraw from the union a privilege which belongs to the teachers by natural courtesy and is endeavoring to use its accidental position of control to censor the thoughts of those who criticise the board."

Dr. Linville charged that "stupidity is the ruling attitude of the mind in the educational system, and intelligence, when used in criticism of existing conditions, is crushed. The educational system is held in contempt by great numbers of citizens. The teachers can stand these conditions no longer."

PHILIPPINE MISSION HERE FOR CAMPAIGN

Many Never Here Before—Encouraged by Meeting with Baker, Says Senator Quezon.

The Philippine Mission to the United States, composed of forty-one prominent natives of the Philippine Islands, who were sent by their Legislature to this country to conduct an independence campaign, arrived in New York from Washington yesterday afternoon. The mission has taken a suite of thirty-one rooms on the sixteenth floor of the Hotel Pennsylvania and expects to be in New York about ten days, after which other large cities will be visited.

On arrival here plans were made immediately for starting the independence campaign, in which a direct appeal to the people will be made for support. In addition to the political aspect of their visit, the members explained, they are here on a commercial campaign as well, through which they hope to increase the trade between the United States and the islands.

The mission is headed by Senator Manuel L. Quezon, President of the Philippine Senate, who is familiar with American customs and manners, and speaks English rapidly and with little accent. He never visited this country until 1910, at which time he could not speak a word of English. But he says he then entered "the best language school" in the country, the American Congress.

He represented the islands in Congress for nearly seven years, took an active part in putting the Jones law through which promised the islands eventual freedom, and then resigned to return and help prepare the Government there for the taking over of full power when the conditions of that law had been met.

Many Never Here Before.

The majority of the mission's personnel, however, have never been in this country before, and there were several who, after taking the fast elevator trip to the sixteenth floor of the Pennsylvania asked to be taken back to earth as quickly as possible and on reaching the street floor again asked for rooms closer to the ground.

In the mission are three distinct classes: a group who were educated and lived to mature manhood under the old Spanish rule; a younger group who had just about finished their schooling when the American influence first was exerted in the islands, and consequently have matured under the American influence; and a third group of young National Guard officers, physicians and professors who came to the large universities of this country for their education. Among the members are representatives of both of the political parties in the islands, and "representatives of the interests of agriculture, industry, commerce, capital, labor, education, and the press," to quote a statement issued by the mission.

Senator Quezon said yesterday that he had been very much encouraged by the meeting with Secretary Baker in Washington last Friday, at which the Secretary of War expressed his hearty approval of granting the islands their complete independence, and read a letter from President Wilson, saying that he trusted the mission's trip would be a "source of satisfaction" to its members.

"We shall base our appeal on two grounds," Senator Quezon said. "The first is the ground that the Jones law promised our islands their complete freedom when we should have established a stable Government. We think that our Government is now of such a stable nature that it will not be difficult to convince the American people that it can safely control the islands without further assistance.

Grateful to America.

"I do not want it to be felt, however, that the Filipinos are not appreciative of all that the United States has done for them. The fact is that feeling toward the American Government is today more friendly than it ever has been before. That is based in part on gratitude and in part on the promise by America that when we did have our own governmental matters well in hand we should be allowed to become a nation.

"The second point of the present appeal is that at this time, when the Jugo-slavs and others comprising new nations are being recognized, and when the rights of small nations and weak peoples are being championed by America, it seems to us the apt moment to grant independence to these islands that have already for some years practically governed themselves.

"The United States has not found it necessary to undertake any part of the government for a long while, except in the question of foreign relations. It has been a generous and friendly government throughout the years since the islands were taken over by this country. But even under such a generous form of government as this it is natural that the people should still desire to have their own nation and control all their own affairs. That is a question of sovereignty and self-determination, as it is being called today, and, while it is sentimental, it is very real, nevertheless."

Senator Quezon was asked what steps would be taken for the protection of American interests and property in the Islands in the event that they gained their freedom.

"We will retain our National Guard, of course," he replied

SIDNEY DREW, FILM AND STAGESTAR, DIES

Comedian Succumbs to Uraemia at His Park Avenue Home After Brief Illness.

GAVE UP LAW FOR THEATRE

Brother of John Drew Made His Debut in "Our Boarding House" at $12 a Week.

Sidney Drew, the actor, both on the screen and the legitimate stage, known to countless thousands throughout the country for his comedy work, died at 7:15 o'clock yesterday morning at his home, 876 Park Avenue, of uramia and heart disease, after a short illness. With him when he died was his wife, Mrs. Lucille McVey Drew, with whom he was appearing in "Keep Her Smiling," in Detroit, Mich., last Friday when he was stricken.

Accompanied by Dr. Russell D. Brown, specialist, and a nurse, of Detroit, and his wife, Mr. Drew, though in a grave condition, was rushed to his home in this city, where he was attended by his family physician, Dr. Louis Fischer of 155 West Eighty-first Street. Several other physicians were called in for consultation Tuesday afternoon. He had been in a semi-coma ever since he was brought home, and gradually passed into a state of unconsciousness, and died without having recognized his wife or the attending physicians.

Mr. Drew was born in Philadelphia fifty-four years ago, and was a brother of John Drew and an uncle of Ethel Barrymore and her two brothers, Lionel and John Barrymore. Mr. Drew was educated at the University of Pennsylvania and then read law for a while in the office of Attorney General Brewster of that State. But an offer of a part by Leonard Grover in "Our Boarding House" at $12 a week caused him to forsake the law and take up a stage career. It was as Clarence Dexter in this play that he made his début. He then acted in a number of plays, and in the Fall of 1888 he came into prominence in "A Legal Wreck." From that time on he appeared in many productions, and later was for a time on the vaudeville stage.

His first wife was Miss Gladys Rankin Drew, the daughter of McKee Rankin, and they played together for many years. She died in January, 1914. Their son, Corporal S. Rankin Drew, was killed at Arbillieres, France, on May 19, 1918, while serving with the French Flying Corps. His first wife was known as a dramatist under the name of Georgie Cameron.

On July 25, 1914, Mr. Drew married Miss Lucille McVey, concert singer and recitationist, who was 24 years old. They appeared in motion pictures, and returned to the legitimate stage last year as co-stars in "Keep Her Smiling," which was first produced in this city. They did not forsake the screen, however, and had formed their own producing company, and made their own films in addition to appearing at the theatre.

Mr. Drew's greatest success was in the amusing domestic comedies in which he appeared on the screen with his wife. From a modest beginning, fame came to them rapidly, and soon the Drew comedies became known the country over as the best examples of wholesome, clean-cut humor. The character of Henry, the husband, and Polly, the wife, became familiar to millions of moving pictures devotees. Mr. and Mrs. Drew also used these names in "Keep Her Smiling."

Jacob J. Thompson.

Jacob J. Thompson, Assistant Secretary of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company and the oldest employe in point of service, died yesterday at his home, Home Park, New Rochelle, following a stroke suffered last Friday. Mr. Thompson, who was 76 years old, had been connected with the Metropolitan since March 1, 1868.

Roosevelt Medallion for Donors.

Anna V. Hyatt, the sculptor, has modeled a medallion portrait of Theodore Roosevelt from Colonel Roosevelt's most satisfactory profile phoptograph for the Women's Memorial Association. It is a beautiful medallion having the softened effect of an old coin. It is to be reproduced in bronze buttons to be given to every donor of $1 to the $1,000,000 fund which is being raised for the restoration and endowment of Colonel Roosevelt's birthplace, 26 East Twentieth Street. Larger reproductions in bronze and silver and in different forms will be sold and inquiries may be made at the Women's Roosevelt Memorial Association, 1 East Fifty-seventh Street.

Mrs. Kessler Decorated by French.

A cablegram received from Paris yesterday at the headquarters of the Permanent Blind Relief War Fund, 590 Fifth Avenue, announced that the French Government had conferred gold medals on Mrs. George A. Kessler, one of the founders and an honorary Secretary of the fund, and Mrs. R. Valentine Webster, also an honorary Secretary, in recognition of their efforts in Paris on behalf of the French blinded soldiers. The fund is helping to train to earn their own living no fewer than 1,500 soldiers in France alone.

DECISION BARS JAPANESE.

Citizenship Law Privileges Denied to Soldiers of That Race.

EL PASO, Texas, April 9.—Japanese who have served as soldiers in the United States Army cannot become American citizens under the law waiving declaration of intention and other formalities connected with the naturalization of aliens, Judge W. R. Smith decided in the United States District Court here this afternoon.

Two Japanese who were enlisted in the army at Fort Bliss applied for citizenship. Judge Smith held that this law was in conflict with a former law requiring that applicants for citizenship must be "free, white persons, or persons of African descent."

To Entertain Soldiers and Sailors.

The officials of the Cardinal Farley Club announced yesterday that entertainments for soldiers, sailors, and marines would be given on Thursday at the clubhouse at 15 East Thirtieth Street. Bowling, billiards, and other amusements also are provided for the men. The club also has 200 beds and a sickroom for the accommodation of service men, and a branch of the United States Employment Service has been located there to help the men find jobs.

J. Charles Davis.

J. Charles Davis, for many years a theatrical manager, died yesterday at St. Francis Hospital, St. Ann's Avenue and 142d Street, at the age of 69. He was for a long time press representative for the Barnum & Bailey circus, and later managed Miner's People's Theatre in the Bowery and the Fifth Avenue Theatre, now Proctor's. He was long retired from the theatrical field.

Harry L. Gassin.

Harry L. Gassin, a lawyer, and Secretary and a director of the Ritz-Carlton Restaurant and Hotel Company, owner of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, died Tuesday night at the home of his sister, Mrs. F. V. Thompson, the wife of Dr. Thompson, 500 Tenth Avenue, Belmar, N. J., of pulmonary tuberculosis, after an illness of about eight months, though he had been confined to his room only a short time. The funeral will be held at the home of his sister.

Mr. Gassin was born in New York City thirty-eight years ago, a son of L. B. Gassin, who now lives at Belmar. He was graduated from the law department of the New York University. During the war Mr. Gassin was associated with A. Mitchell Palmer, Alien Enemy Property Custodian, serving both in New York City and in Washington.

Henry S. Clarke.

Henry S. Clarke, a retired broker, and three times Mayor of New Rochelle, died at his home, 308 Huguenot Street, that place, yesterday, at the age of 58 years. Born in New York City, he had lived in New Rochelle for thirty years, and besides serving three terms as Mayor he was for two terms President of the old village and once President of the Village Board of Education. Mr. Clarke was a member of the New York Athletic Club and the Republican Club.

'LEADING LADY' IS BEST MAN

Corporal Roy Lloyd of "Let's Beat It" Weds Miss Titus.

Corporal Roy Lloyd, stage manager of the soldier show, "Let's Beat It," which the 27th Division are presenting at the Century Theatre, was married on Tuesday to Miss Adelaide Titus of Philadelphia. Walter Roberts, who is "leading lady" in the production, acted as best man, and Robert Hilton, the high kicker of the chorus, was the other witness.

The company last night celebrated the event by presenting the couple some gold trinkets. No one could remember where the ceremony was performed. The "leading lady" accompanied the bridal pair in an open taxi up Fifth Avenue after the ceremony, and insisted upon telling the passers-by that "Roy had just been married."

The bridegroom was also showered with confetti during the show, and it was stated, on the best authority, that a pair of hobnailed shoes accompanied some of the confetti.

EITINGON.—Action taken at a special meeting of Directors of the Sherman National Bank of New York, April 9, 1919.

The Directors of this bank learn with profound regret of the death of their fellow-Director, Waldemar Eltingon, with whom he was affiliated for a number of years.

To know Mr. Eitingon, as did those associated with him, was to know one who became a thorough American, one whose ideals and examples were thoroughly consistent, and whose life exemplified all the principles of everything that pertains to the welfare of our country and its institutions.

His character, honesty, and strength of mind will ever remain an example to those who were affiliated with him and who came in contact with him in any way.

The devotion he showed in his family life was exemplified in his commercial life, and he has endeared himself sincerely to those with whom he was associated.

Resolved, That the Directors hereby record their profound regret for his untimely death.

Resolved, That the sympathy of the Directors be conveyed to the members of Mr. Eltingon's family.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread as a permanent record upon our minutes.

GIANTS CAST OFF UNCANNY SPELL OF RED SOX AND WREAK VENGEANCE BY 7 TO 2

GIANTS EMULATE THE NOTED WORM

Turn on Red Sox Juggernaut After Quartet of Beatings and Overthrow It.

BENNY KAUFF ALSO TURNS

Emerges from Lethargy and Crashes Out Hits—Winters Pitches a Great Game.

Special to The New York Times.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 9.—Playing their first game on neutral soil, the Giants emerged from their depressing slump today and won their first 1919 decision from a rival big league team. They plastered their vindictiveness all over Barrow's Red Sox, the world's champions, while they were at it, and defeated the Hub crew by a score of 7 to 2.

The Giants looked 100 per cent. better than heretofore, but a ball club naturally appears to better advantage when it is winning. For one thing, Benny Kauff, the New York clean-up lad, got to going today. In the four previous games in which the Giants were defeated, Benny made only one hit, but today he knocked out a triple and a single which, with an infield out later on, sent in three runs, while Kauff scored a fourth himself. That looked more like the Benny of old.

Then, too, Jesse Winters, the young Texan ex-Lieutenant, gave another glorious exhibition in the box and the Red Sox were unable to touch him. He made the famous Ruth look like a veritable busher. Twice he retired Big Babe on puny grounders, and when the Baltimore giant came up in the sixth, with Gainer on second, Winters fed him low curves, and Ruth took three mighty lunges without so much as ticking off a foul. On the third attempt Ruth swung so hard that he nearly lifted himself out of the State. His right foot caught in the clay and he wrenched his ankle so badly that he was obliged to retire from the game.

Winters pitched six innings, during which he permitted only five hits, two of which might have been prevented by sharper support. Doyle tried to make a double play in the sixth inning, and doing so made the fatal mistake of trying to throw the ball before he had it. But for this error, Winters would not have been scored upon. He is the first New York pitcher to go six innings.

John Paul Jones, the former sailor, shut out the Red Sox in the last three innings. Strikeouts enabled him to worm his way out of several holes. He whiffed a few of the world's champions.

The New York contingent scored a run in the first inning. Young singled to left, moved to second on a pitched ball and scored on Kauff's single, Benny's second hit of the series.

The Giants increased their lead to three runs in the third inning, when Caldwell's slow ball was belted all around he park. Burns led off with a single, and Young and Chase expired on fierce drives to the outfield. Ruth made a nice catch over his shoulder on Hal. Kauff then tore a triple down the right field foul line, sending in Burns, and Benny ambled home when Doyle rapped a double to center.

New York scored two more in the fifth inning. Young beat out a bunt to McNally and scored when Chase tripled to left. Childe Harold scored when Kauff rolled a grounder to Scott.

Boston was dangerous for a few moments in the sixth, but the outburst subsided after two runs were in. They would not have made those had it not been for Doyle's error. Winn singled to left and Doyle fumbled on Gilhooley, trying to make a double play before the ball reached him.

A pitched ball hit McNally's bat and acted as an automatic sacrifice. Gainer hit a fly just inside the right field foul line and just out of the reach of Chase. Doyle and Young. It went as a double and Winn and Gilhooley scored. Winters then struck out the dangerous Ruth. McInnis walked, this being Winters's only base on balls. Vitt then rolled out to Scott.

Tomorrow the series will be resumed at Spartanburg, S. C.

INTERNATIONAL WAKES UP.

Baseball League at Last Decides to Start Season.

The nternational League will hold a meeting in Newark tomorrow to complete arrangements for the opening of the season. The schedule was drawn up some time ago and will be adopted just as soon as the cities which will make up the eight-club circuit have been named.

President Fultz announced yesterday that the major leagues had leased Harrison Park, the Federal League plant just outside of Newark, to the Newark Club. It is understood that the rental will be $4,000 a year. It is expected that new owners of the Newark franchise will be announced at tomorrow's meeting. With the passage of the Sunday Baseball bill in this State, the International League looks for a prosperous season.

TRIPLE PLAY BY ANNAPOLIS.

Spectacular Fielding Aids Navy in Defeating Mt. St. Mary's, 4 to 2.

Special to The New York Times.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 9.—A triple play in the third inning was the feature of today's game between the Navy Academy and Mt. St. Mary's which the former won 4 to 2.

Cogan, in centre, caught Midshipman Cloughley's long drive, and the ball was relayed to second and third in time to catch Clark and Doyle. Another spectacular play came when Poole, the Navy third baseman, climbed the stands in the sixth and caught Carney's high foul.

YANKEE RECRUITS ON TOP.

Special to The New York Times.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 9.—With three days remaining in the training campaign of the Yankees in Jacksonville, Manager Miller Huggins has reached the conclusion that there is a possibility of the players going stale from too much work. A result of this conclusion was a reducing of work for the ball tossers today and the announcement that morning practice was at an end for the remaining days of the conditioning period.

This afternoon the game between the first and second teams extended only five innings, the Yannigans winning by the score of 5 to 1. Credit for the victory of the second string players belongs primarily to Luther Nelson, one of Huggins' recruit boxmen, who set the sluggers down with four scattered hits. The regulars pushed over a run in the first inning on Vick's single, a sacrifice, an out, and an error. In the next four innings the regulars did not threaten seriously to score.

Miller's hitting sent the Yannigans' score upward, while Nelson was holding the first team in check. Miller sent two runs over the plate in the third inning with a double to centre, and added two in the fifth with a home run drive to left center after O'Doul had reached first base on a single.

Halas was in uniform but as he is still troubled with a sore leg he was not used in the game. Huggins hopes to have him in the game against the Robins here tomorrow. The Yankee manager announced tonight that Ernie Shore probably would start this game against the National Leaguers and Jack Quinn will be called upon to work the last four innings.

ROBIN COLTS TIE REGULARS.

Special to The New York Times.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 9.—The last regular practice game of the Dodgers' training season was played this afternoon at Barr's Field. Tomorrow Brooklyn will play the Yankees and Friday will be devoted to a fishing trip. Next Saturday they play the last of the games with the Yankees here and then the two outfits will hit the trail northward.

Today's practice game went nine innings between the first and second teams and resulted in a 6 to 6 tie. As Manager Robinson is expecting Miller Huggins to use left-handers against his men tomorrow, he selected Rube Marquard to pitch for the Colts. The Rube worked in the first four rounds and the Regulars cracked out seven hits for a total of three tallies off his shoots. Ralph Grimes relieved Marquard, and in the seventh frame, the Regulars bunched two doubles and a single. This, coupled with a pass, gave them three runs.

Jimmie Mains started for the Regulars and twirled five sessions. While he was on the mound the Colts gathered five hits and two runs. Hunter Goodbred, the Dodgers' rookie, finished the game and allowed seven hits and four runs in the last two rounds.

ARMY HITS MAHONEY HARD.

Special to The New York Times.

WEST POINT, N. Y., April 9.—The West Point nine won again today, defeating Manhattan College in a fast game on the plains by a score of 6 to 1.

The Cadets won the game in their half of the second, a brace of errors and hits by Billo and Milton netting three runs. Manhattan's lone tally came after Milton had passed Marone in the fourth, Deegan's double scoring him.

The soldiers fell upon Mahoney hard in the fifth and drove him from the game, Dixon and Dominey registering a home run and a triple, respectively, in this inning.

The score by innings:

BROWN SHUTS OUT TRINITY.

Special to The New York Times.

PROVIDENCE, April 9.—Brown defeated Trinity by 8 to 0 in the opening baseball game of the season on Andrews Field today. The Brunonians played snappy ball and Trinity was never threatening at any time during the game.

Shepard was on the mound for Trinity and, except in the fifth inning, pitched good ball. His support, however, was ragged. Knight and Brisk divided pitching honors for Brown, the former serving five innings and allowing three hits, and the latter finishing the game.

The score by innings:

C. C. N. Y. CUBS ARE VICTORS

Defeat Commerce Nine in Opening Game by Narrow Margin.

The City College freshman baseball team opened the season yesterday at the Lewisohn Stadium with a victory over the High School of Commerce nine by the score of 3 to 2. The twirling of Haskin was the feature, the freshman moundsman holding the Commerce lads hitless and runless during his stay of five innings in the box, besides striking out ten men.

TWO VICTORIES FOR SAACKE.

Wins Fancy Dive and Obstacle Race in New York A. C. Pool.

Rudolph Saacke, formerly of De Witt Clinton H. S., carried off the chief laurels last night in the monthly swimming meet of the New York A. C. Saacke, competing under the emblem of the Winged Foot, captured the fancy diving contest and the 50-yard obstacle swim. In the dive, Saacke, with a handicap of 18 points, gathered in a total of 118.32 points. Fred A. Sponberg was second, with 106.26 points.

The summaries:

100-Yard Swim, Handicap.—Won by S. A. Ruddy, Jr., New York A. C., (15 seconds;) G. B. Nodine, United States Naval Reserve Forces, (23 seconds,) second; Paul Chase, New York A. C., (16 seconds,) third. Time—1:05 4-5.

50-Yard Swim, Novice.—Won by Horace McMullen, unattached; Albert F. Chrystal, Columbia University, second; J. Willett Hall, Jr., De Witt Clinton H. S., third. Time—0:28 2-5.

50-Yard Obstacle Swim.—Won by Randolph Saacke, New York A. C., 0:57; John J. Curren, U. S. S. Granite State, 1:03 2-5, second; Leeming K. Jelliffe, New York A. C., 1:08 2-5, third.

Fancy Diving Contest, Handicap.—Won by Rudolph Saacke, New York A. C., (18 points,) with 118.32 points; Fred A. Sponberg, New York A. C., (16 points,) 106.26 points, second; James J. O'Rourke, unattached, (35 points,) 103.92 points, third.

COLUMBIA DEFEATS N. Y. U. IN ELEVENTH

Blue and White Nine Rallies and Wins Close Game by 4 to 2 Score.

New York University's baseball team was defeated yesterday afternoon at Ohio Field by Columbia, the score being 4 to 2. The game was bitterly fought, and it was not until the eleventh inning that Columbia scored the winning runs.

Besides losing the game, the Violet team lost the services of Captain Klaess, third baseman, and best batsman of the nine. In the second inning Klaess attempted to score on a squeeze play but the throw cut him off at the plate. He slid home, and as he did so hit Ackerman's knee, sustaining a broken ankle. This injury will probably keep Klaess out of the game for the rest of the season.

The New York University team scored first in the fourth frame when Strassman walked. He took second on a passed ball. Holman's infield out advanced him to third and he scored on Draffen's single over second.

Ackerman evened up for Columbia in the fifth by poling a homer into left. The Columbia catcher also accounted for his team's next run. He led off with a terrific triple to left. Goodman's single into right sent him across the plate.

In the eighth N. Y. U. made things even. Strassman walked and took second on Delaney's out. On the next pitch he started for third. Ackerman threw wild and Strassman scored on the error.

Columbia put over the winning tallies in the eleventh. Ackerman singled and Goodman sacrificed him to second. He took third when Strassman muffed Lane's fly and scored on Canapery's sacrifice fly, Lane taking third on the throw home. Uris singled and sent Lane home for the final run.

HARVARD WINS IN NINTH.

Emmons Deals the Blow That Dashes Bowdoin's Hopes.

Special to The New York Times.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 9.—With the score three-all in the last of the ninth, two out and a runner on third, Bobby Emmons, the clever shortstop of the Harvard nine, crashed out a hit that brought Jack Baldwin racing across the plate with the run that sent the Bowdoin baseball team down to defeat in the opening game of the season this afternoon on Soldiers' Field.

Johnson, on the mound for the Crimson, pitched a good game. He allowed only four hits, struck out two men and gave two free tickets to first. The hard-hitting Harvard nine gleaned seven safeties off Flinn, who issued four passes and struck out a trio of Crimson sluggers.

It looked like an extra-inning affair as the ninth drew to a close, but Stillman cracked out a lusty double, Baldwin went in to run for him; Johnson whiffed the breezes, and Evens sacrificed the runner along to third. Then Bobbie Emmons pulled the curtain act, and the players rushed for the showers to thaw out.

ELIS BLANK SPRINGFIELD.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 9.—Playing errorless ball in the opening game of the season, Yale today blanked the Springfield Training College 2 to 0. The game started in the rain, which ceased, however, in the second inning.

Errors by the visitors accounted for both the Eli runs, a wild heave by Sharpe in the sixth allowing Frank Lynch to score after Catcher Atkinson's erratic toss to second had allowed him to romp to third. Again in the eighth, with Holder on third and Lynch on first, Kalloch threw late to the plate to get Holder after Lynch had drawn a toss to second base.

Twombly pitched glit-edged ball, holding Yale to three scattered singles. Robinson, Yale's first string moundsman, was pounded hard, but faultless fielding behind him shut off runs. In the first inning Holden made a brilliant running catch of Haberman's fly over second.

GIBBS BOXING BILL PASSED BY SENATE

Measure to Allow Ring Bouts of Ten Rounds in This State Takes a Stride.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, April 9.—The Gibbs Boxing bill passed the Senate tonight by 27 to 18 votes. It was hard sledding for a time for the measure, but Democrats hesitated to support it, not because of the measure itself, but rather because Senator Gibbs, its introducer, had been recorded in the negative on Sunday movies and Sunday baseball bills. The vote on the Boxing bill was well split up, eight Republicans being recorded with the Democrats, some of whom voted negatively but later changed their attitude.

Senator Boylan of New York facetiously suggested the introduction of an amendment providing a nurse for the contestants.

"Senator Gibbs has provided every other safeguard for the contestants in bouts under his bill other than a nurse. He has agreed to amend the measure to make that provision," he said.

Senator Abraham Kaplan of New York, Democrat, for the sixth time suggested an amendment to provide that each club distribute twenty-five free tickets for each bout among soldiers, sailors, and marines of the world war who were injured in the service. The amendment was not taken seriously, however, and was not even voted upon.

The Gibbs bill as it now stands provides for the establishing of a State Athletic Commission of one member to be appointed by the Governor, with the consent of the Senate, and to hold office until Dec. 31, 1920, each successor to be appointed for a two-year term. The salary is placed at $3,500, with allowance for necessary expenses. The commission is given sole control over boxing. Each club must file a bond. Bouts are to be of ten rounds, and there is to be a referee, who must render a decision. Five per cent. of the gross receipts is to be turned over to the State. There are to be four Deputy Commissioners.

LAFAYETTE NINE IS VICTOR.

Special to The New York Times.

EASTON, Penn., April 9.—Lafayette defeated Lebanon Valley this afternoon in a loosely played game on March Field by the score of 19 to 10. Duncan, the Lebanon pitcher, was wild and ineffective from the start. Lafayette piled up sixteen runs in the first two innings, and what followed could only be called a game by excessive courtesy.

The score by innings:

Lafayette	8	8	1	0	0	2	0	0	..—19
Lebanon Valley	1	0	0	5	2	0	0	0	2—10

Batteries—Tierney, Palinich, and Deuchner; Duncan, Faith, and Uhler. Umpire—Mr. McBride.

FORDHAM HAS BIG INNING.

Hits Smith Hard and Beats Seton Hall by 5 to 1 Score.

Fordham defeated Seton Hall in Newark yesterday by a score of 5 to 1. The Maroon batsmen fell upon Smith hard in the first inning, when Fordham scored five runs. This advantage gave Fordham the game right at the start, but after that Smith settled down and pitched good ball.

McNamara pitched effective ball for Fordham and gave Seton Hall only six scattered hits. He was especially strong in the pinches.

The score by innings:

WASHBURN WINS ON COURT.

Defeats Low in London Tennis Tourney—Mathey Beaten.

LONDON, April 9.—In the covered courts tennis championship at the Queen's Club today Major Rod Heath of Australia beat Major Dean Mathey of the American Army.

Captain Watson M. Washburn of the American Army beat Major Arthur Low three sets to one, and Miss Ryan of California defeated Mrs. O'Neill two sets to one.

FAVORITES WIN AT TENNIS.

PINEHURST, N. C., April 9.—Miss Marion Zinderstein of the Longwood Cricket Club and Mrs. Marion Vanderhoef Morse of the West Side Tennis Club were victors here today in the semi-finals of the women's singles in the North and South tennis tournament.

The men's doubles were brought down to the final, in which Vincent Richards and W. T. Tilden, Jr., the national doubles champions, will be opposed by H. S. Voshell and Ichiya Kumagae.

The preliminaries:

Women's Singles.—Semi-Final Round—Miss Marion Zinderstein, Longwood, beat Miss Esther Tufts, Boston, 6—0, 6—1; Mrs. H. F. Morse, West Side, beat Mrs. Jay V. Hall, Moore County, 6—0, 6—0.

Men's Doubles.—Preliminary Round—J. S. Nicholl, Longwood, and C. P. Watson, Jr., Westchester, beat H. B. Swoope, Curwensville, and F. H. Babcock, Piping Rock, 6—0, 6—1.

Semi-Finals.—Vincent Richards, New Jersey Tennis, and W. T. Tilden, Jr., Germantown Cricket, beat N. A. Rose, Longwood, and Walter Fraker, Northland, 6—1, 6—1; S. H. Voshell, Terrace, and I. Kumagae, West Side, beat Swoope and Babcock, 6—1, 6—4.

WHITE DEFEATS SERVATIUS.

Class A Player Wins Match in Poggenburg Cup Tourney.

An unfinished run of 35 points gave Charles E. White a victory yesterday in his first game in the annual Poggenburg Cup handicap 18.2 balk line billiard tournament at the National Recreation Academy in Brooklyn. White's steady playing in this run enabled him to defeat the veteran Louis A. Servatius, a Class C player, by one point. The score was 250 to 114 in thirty-four innings. White, through graduating into Class A a year ago, is compelled to play for 250 points, while Servatius, because of his lower rating, is playing at 115 points.

The scores:

AFTERNOON GAME.

Charles E. White, (250 points.)—0 13 17 1 0 7 14 3 1 1 0 12 16 2 0 1 0 2 3 0 11 5 1 29 1 1 0 26 1 40 4 3 0 35—250. Average, 7 12-34. High runs, 40, 35, (unfinished,) and 29.

CLEVER WORK BY LEVINE.

Amateur Billiard Player Makes Pretty Eight-Cushion Shot.

Playing one of the best games of his career, Harry Levine defeated Gus Gardner last night in the national amateur championship three-cushion tournament at the Amateur Billiard Club. Levine, in a spectacular closing rally, won by a score of 50 to 39. The contest went eighty-eight innings.

Levine's display of form was easily the best of the tournament. When twelve points behind in the score at the seventieth inning Levine rallied, and, scoring twenty-eight points in his last eighteen turns at the table, took the match. In his eighty-third inning Levine accomplished an eight-cushion carrom, which brought continued applause from the spectators.

A new high-run record for the tournament was established in the afternoon game, when Arthur Newman defeated William H. Flinn. The score was 50 to 35.

MAHONY CAPTURES PURSE IN GALLOP

Clyde Entry Romps Home with Naval Academy Stake at Bowie.

BOWIE, Md., April 9.—Thomas Clyde's Mahony captured the Naval Academy Purse for three-year-olds here today in a gallop, but his easy victory was perhaps due to the erratic behavior of Harry Payne Whitney's Hanky Panky, one of the fancied candidates. The three-year-olds were asked to race over the six and a-half furlong route, and as soon as the barrier was released he sprang straight up in the air, and it took Troxler some time to get him down to earth and send him in pursuit of the others. Meanwhile Frizeur was winging out in front with Mahony in close attendance, but before half the distance had been covered Butwell let Mahony down, and he quickly swept by Frizeur to win with the greatest ease by five lengths. Frizeur tired badly in the stretch, but lasted long enough to take the place from Wiseat Fool.

There was a rare upset in the second race provided by the Pastime Stable's Enos. This neglected outsider broke in front of the field and led all the way, win

ASKS PUBLIC TO HELP PROTECT UNIFORMS

MANY BEGGARS SO DRESSED

Men Posing as Veterans with Useless Trifles for Sale Open to Suspicion Also.

Peddling and begging by men in the uniform of the United States Navy have been a source of annoyance to the officers in charge of the Navy's Recruiting Station here, at 84 East Twenty-third Street, and yesterday Lieut. Commander D. P. Wickersham, the officer in command, asked that the people of the city assist in abating the nuisance by being extremely careful as to the status of the uniformed man from whom they purchased buttons or to whom they gave alms.

"Although I do not like to see them selling these buttons and the other things sold by the men in uniform on our streets," said Lieut. Commander Wickersham, "I cannot condemn any honorable means that men who have served their country through this crisis, especially those who have been overseas, take to gain a livelihood. However, a large percentage of the beggars and peddlers in uniform prove on investigation, I am sorry to say, to be impostors.

"I have been annoyed for some time by the sight of the men in uniform going around using almost strong-arm methods to get a few quarters out of the public for 'welcome home' buttons and such stuff, but I had hardly realized how serious the nuisance was becoming until the other day a member of the Mayor's Committee came in here to make a complaint. He told me that one morning as he got on the subway two sailors accosted him. One pinned a button on him and the other asked him for a quarter. He told the men he did not want to give a quarter for the button and one of them said loudly, 'What have you ever done for your country?'

"I was down at the battleship Recruit in Union Square the other day and I saw a lot of panhandling going on on the sidewalk outside by men in uniform. I had twelve of the men brought in to me, whom I examined to see if they were really sailors. Four of those men admitted that they had never even been in a training station, four stuck to their story, although in the face of questions as to where they had trained, who the officers were they drilled under, how to salute and how to about face, elements of the drill that a week's recruit would know, they could only say "they had forgotten." The other four proved undoubtedly they had served in the navy. I asked one of the men, the real sailors, why he didn't get a job. I thought, you see, that the boy was possibly up against it and actually in want.

"'A job,' he said, 'I should say I didn't want a job. Why, yesterday I made $50 cold out of the people on the street selling these little "Welcome Home" badges. What would I do with a job.'

"That is the sort of conditions that lure the boys away from regular employment to the streets, where they have the opportunity to make a great deal of money out of the sense of gratitude their uniform inspires.

"Outside of the ethics of the business, a situation is being created that is hurting recruiting here in New York. People see the boys in uniform panhandling it here, and they say to themselves that they want no son of theirs to join the navy if that's what is going to become of him. It really looks as if all the training of the service had only gone to make bums out of the men."

As to remedies, the officer could only hope the public would be chary in giving freely to the men who were putting the uniform into disrepute. "If the canteens demanded from every man who entered to show his discharge papers or other evidence that he actually was in the navy or had seen service, it would help some," he said. "The municipal authorities also can help by enforcing the regulations against begging even by uniformed men. But the public must help by discouraging any man from avoiding work simply because the country's generosity is willing to take care of him."

Commander Evangeline Booth issued a statement yesterday in which she warned everybody against being fleeced by collectors who sought money for the "Home Service Fund."

"Word has been received at this headquarters," said Commander Booth in her statement, "that persons representing themselves as Salvation Army workers have been fleecing the public in New York and elsewhere. The Salvation Army, it is true, still continues to solicit small donations as in the past, but that is all. No one has yet been authorized to collect relatively large amounts for the Home Service Fund. The campaign for that fund will take place May 19 to May 26. No collections will be made before May 19, and then all persons authorized to solicit funds will wear official badges."

REPORTS A HUNGER GERM.

Found in Bodies of Famine Victims, Vienna Doctor Declares.

COPENHAGEN, April 1, (Associated Press).—According to a Vienna telegram, says the Central News, a leading doctor of the Medical Society of Vienna, read a paper demonstrating the presence of a hunger germ in the bodies of victims of the present famine in Austria.

Experiments showed that this germ attacked the bones. The only remedy the doctors could suggest was phosphorous dissolved in cod liver oil, together with constant and ample nourishment.

Education Notes.

Ex-President William H. Taft will make an address on "League of Nations," April 12, at 8:15 P. M., in P. S. 62 auditorium, Hester and Essex Streets.

A delegation from New Utrecht, Fort Hamilton, Coney Island, Bath Beach, and other sections of that part of Brooklyn appeared before the Board of Education yesterday and argued in favor of a new school building in place of the present New Utrecht High School, which is overcrowded. Judge Cornelius Ferguson, the Rev. Louis Happ, and Jeremiah J. O'Leary made speeches. President Somers promised that the board would do all in its power to have a new structure erected.

The Hall of Education will be closed on April 19, and all of the employes will have the full day off.

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Automobile Stocks Lead in Fresh Speculative Advances—Standard Issues Move Cautiously.

Speculative fervor for the rise approached the violent stage at times yesterday, but it was noticeable that while a relatively small group of resilient stocks were being advanced, the general list displayed a hesitating trend and quite a number ended the day with declines. The motor stocks and some of the rubber and oil issues stood in the foreground, particularly the former, which were the subject of heavy buying in the last hour. Dealings were again considerably in excess of 1,000,000 shares. There were no new influences to stimulate operations for the advance and the most fitting diagnosis of the day's market was that purchases reflected little more than confidence in the ultimate betterment of particular lines of production. The rapid upbidding of the motor share department, as an example, was accompanied by exuberant comment in commission houses of the important plans of expansion which the major automobile concerns have in mind. Considered in its broader aspects, the market displayed the effect of certain forces, conflicting for the moment, which rather confused the outlook for the immediate future of prices. The steel stocks showed the renewal of cautious dealings and the railroad issues played a very small part in the day's transactions. The strength of the favorite stocks, however, was sufficiently impressive to impart an encouraging tone to the day's dealings as far as they were concerned.

While railroad stocks were quiet and denoted very little speculative interest either way, it was as notable as ever that holders were not inclined to sell, being confident presumably that the financial difficulties of the carriers will be adequately solved for the period before Congress comes to their assistance. Evidence of a concentration of effort between the Railroad Administration and the bankers on a solution was supplied in information during the day that an important conference would be held in Washington tomorrow. With the Victory Loan campaign almost at hand, sufficient reason is found for speed in preparing for railroad requirements up to midsummer at least and it goes without saying that the entire business and financial structure of the country would be strengthened by a definite and complete program for providing the railways with adequate funds. It seems likely that one outgrowth of the discussions now being carried on in New York and Washington will be an urgent representation to President Wilson of the need for a meeting of Congress.

The immediate situation of the iron and steel industry was pretty well demonstrated by the weekly trade reports. The intimation was strongly made that the industry was leaning towards the view that plans for artificially stabilizing prices were going by the board. The Iron Age noted that already some slight wage reductions have occurred which appeared to be preliminary to a general readjustment of prices and wages. Pig iron output for March, amounting to 99,685 tons per day, showed a marked decline from the February production, when slightly more than 105,000 tons were made daily. Local events centred around a meeting of Government officials and steel men at the Steel Corporation's offices showed, however, that the expectation of railroad purchases of rails and other materials at or near the proposed minimum prices was not yet to be abandoned. Presumably the Railroad Administration is seeking more information about producing costs for steel before filing a comprehensive refusal to buy at the quoted rates.

Sterling and franc exchange both moved against the foreign markets slightly without introducing any new features. The ruling rate for call loans was 5½ per cent., with 6 per cent. quoted earlier in the day.

Prices Heavy on Paris Bourse.

PARIS, April 9.—Prices were heavy on the Bourse today. Three per cent. rentes 62 francs 25 centimes for cash. Exchange on London 27 francs 72 centimes. Five per cent. loan 89 francs 27 centimes. The dollar ranged from 5 francs 95 centimes to 6 francs.

TO SELL BRITISH HOLDINGS.

Westinghouse Company Will Receive Cash Estimated at $7,000,000.

The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company has practically completed plans for the sale of its British holdings. The sale was arranged by General Guy E. Tripp, Chairman of the board, and several other officers of the Westinghouse Company, who returned from Europe this week. The arrangements, it is said, call for a cash payment to the Westinghouse Company for the British holdings, but no amount has been named. It is understood that the consideration is something in the neighborhood of $7,000,000.

There are several legal details in connection with the deal which remain to be straightened out, but these may be waived by the Westinghouse Company if it is thought advisable. The plan also calls for a commercial alliance looking to the development of the export trade of the Westinghouse Company. The British holdings of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company are securities of the Metropolitan Wagon, Carriage and Finance Corporation, Ltd., which were received by the Westinghouse Company when it sold its interest in the British Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

TO RESCIND EXCHANGE RULE

Daily Reports of Short Sales Will Not Be Required of Members.

Governors of the New York Stock Exchange voted at their regular meeting yesterday to rescind the regulation, in effect since Nov. 1, 1917, which required members to make daily reports of short sales to the Business Conduct Committee of the board. The rule was put into force at a time when security prices were falling rapidly and the suspicion was abroad that professional speculators of large calibre were working to seize profits by selling stocks short in big blocks. The action was taken, also, to head off possible operations of enemy origin for the purpose of discouraging holders of stocks at the time when the Government was engaged in raising funds through the Liberty Loans.

The Governors voted to close the Exchange on Good Friday. This followed the precedent of other years. It was decided to discontinue reports to the Clearing House of the Exchange on non-Clearing House stock.

TANK LINE EARNINGS DROP.

Union Company Reports Revenue of $1,253,019 for Last Year.

In its pamphlet report for last year the Union Tank Line Company shows a sharp drop in earnings, the net for 1918 being $1,253,019, or the equivalent of $10.44 a share, as compared with $3,709,516, or $30.91 a share, in the preceding year. After the payment of dividends, amounting to $600,000, the surplus for 1918 was $653,019. The profit and loss surplus now stands at $6,116,797.

The car equipment is valued at $10,934,495, after charging off $1,620,497 for depreciation and $2,269,444 for amortization. In 1917 car equipment was valued at $18 039,504. Cash and securities on hand increased from $706,067 in 1917 to $1,279,049 last year. The balance sheet shows accounts payable of only $405,018, as compared with $3,080,955 in 1917.

SWEDEN SEEKS LOAN HERE.

Sounds Minister Morris on Prospect of Getting 100,000,000 Crowns.

STOCKHOLM, April 9.—Representatives of the Swedish Government have sounded Ira N. Morris, the American Minister, regarding the possibility of Sweden securing a loan from the United States.

No definite sum was stated in the tentative approaches, but it is intimated that the amount desired is in excess of 100,000,000 crowns.

War Finance Bond Issue Taken Up.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The War Finance Corporation notified Federal Reserve Banks today to receive no more subscriptions to the $200,000,000 issue of 5 per cent. one-year bonds. "The distribution of the issue has been entirely successful," said a statement by the corporation, "and a great number of small purchasers have taken advantage of the offering which was made in the various districts from the Federal Reserve Banks through all the banks and dealers of the districts."

COTTON PRICES IRREGULAR.

Early Rise in the Market Is Followed by a Sharp Decline.

Yesterday's cotton market was as uncertain and irregular as could well be imagined. In the morning, thanks to bullish weather advices and a good buying volume by Wall Street and other speculative interests, prices rose 30 to 50 points above Tuesday's closing figures and the trading was active and well sustained. In the afternoon, despite the strong factors which had so materially aided the market earlier, profit-taking by Southern speculative and spot interests and the belief that May will bring a good deal more cotton into sight than many observers had thought heretofore forced prices down not only for the whole range of their forenoon advance, but to levels 30 to 50 points below the previous day's close. At the close the market was soft and heavy.

The first weekly weather report to be issued this season by the Government Weather Bureau made its appearance yesterday and showed a condition which was just about what the ring sharps had expected. Conditions for the new crop are backward, but planting conditions are not as bad as some of the recent bulls have insisted. However, the immediate situation is not favorable to the farmer.

Yesterday's selling appeared to come mostly from New Orleans, and in the afternoon it was so aggressive that it drove the market down sharply. It was the first real setback the market has experienced in more than a week, and at the close traders were inclined to regard it as mainly due to some evening-up by Southern speculators. However, it took the market down 25 to 50 points net on the day for new style contracts and down to 10 to 50 points for old style contracts.

South American Rates Not Cut.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Reduction in ocean freight rates to South America is not contemplated by the Shipping Board, it was learned officially today, following persistent rumors that a cut in rates was likely. The Shipping Board is still exercising control over rates to South America, and private lines are obliged to observe its regulations.

REA IN SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

President of Pennsylvania Road and Paul Shoup Elected Directors.

Special to The New York Times.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 9.—Nearly 30,000 stockholders of the Southern Pacific Company were represented at the annual meeting of that corporation today at the home offices at Anchorage.

Samuel Rea, of Philadelphia, president of the Pennsylvania Company, was elected a director, to take the place of W. B. Scott, who is now serving under the Director General of Railroads. Paul Shoup, of San Francisco, who had been serving the unexpired term of William Sproule, who also is with the Railroad Administration, was elected for a full term.

The other directors who will serve for the year are: W. P. Bliss, Bernardsville, N. J.; Henry W. De Forest, New York; Robert Goelet, Chester, N. Y.; J. Horace Harding, New York; Edward S. Harkness, New York; H. E. Huntington, New York; J. N. Jarvie, Montclair, N. J.; J. Kruttschnitt, New Canaan, Conn.; L. F. Loree, New York; Ogden Mills, Staatsburg, N. Y.; Lewis J. Spence, New York; E. P. Swenson, New York; J. D. Underwood, New York.

The directors were authorized to deal with the Federal Railroad Administration in all matters pertaining to the company, the standard compensation fixed for the Southern Pacific by the Railroad Administration having been ratified at a previous meeting.

EGGS.—24,275 cases. Arrivals are showing considerable decrease as compared with last week, and there is an undertone of strength to the market based largely upon the firmness at primary points and the relatively high cost of stock in transit. There is continued movement to storage and prices rule firm, but the current distributing trade is not especially active, and offerings at unchanged prices appear to be sufficient for the needs of the trade. Nearby white eggs are in good demand in the highest qualities and prices rule firm. Duck and goose eggs still scarce and wanted. HINES NOT SUGGESTIVE.

Railroad Administration Offers No Ideas on Steel Prices.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—In connection with the controversy over steel prices, it was disclosed today that in conferences which have followed the refusal of the Railroad Administration to accept prices promulgated by the Industrial Board, the Railroad Administration representatives have neither definitely proposed new and lower prices, nor indicated whether the principle of standard prices would be supported even with a reduced scale.

This was said to mean that Director General Hines had thrown on the Industrial Board the entire responsibility for finding a way out of the situation caused by failure of the Railroad Administration to accept the proposed prices. Another conference between Mr. Hines and Chairman Peek of the board is expected tomorrow.

In support of the contention that the board's prices of $45 and $47 a ton for steel rails is too high, the Railroad Administration's representatives have pointed out in previous conferences that the differentials between the standard prices on billets and on rails is much greater than before the war, even allowing for a 50 per cent. increase in the differentials on account of higher costs of labor. Consequently it is contended by the railroad men that the rail prices and also prices on other finished steel products are disproportionate to the billet prices.

Railroads now have between 600,000 and 700,000 tons of steel rails under order on contracts placed before the war. The average price on these contracts is said to be about $36 a ton.

Holdings of Steel Shares.

Investors' holdings of United States Steel Corporation common stock on March 31 were 3,105,059 shares, as compared with 3,013,662 shares at the close of 1918. The shares in the hands of brokers on March 31 amounted to 1,997,966. The report of the corporation shows that some of the shares are beginning to drift back to foreign holders.

Corn Exchange Bank Dividend.

The Corn Exchange Bank has declared a quarterly dividend of 5 per cent., payable May 1 to stock of record of April 30. This places the dividend on a 20 per cent. annual basis. Heretofore the bank has paid 16 per cent. a year.

—and now at HANKOW we are open for business

ANOTHER branch of the Asia Banking Corporation is now doing business—at Hankow, which city, next to Shanghai, is the greatest trade center of China.

The Shanghai branch, our central office in the Far East, has been opened since February.

With these branches in operation in the leading trade centers of China, we are in a position to demonstrate to importers and exporters two of the salient features of our complete banking facilities, namely:

(1) Direct banking service—without intermediate dealings, or unnecessary delays.

(2) Personal banking service—our representatives, both here and in China, take a genuine personal interest in our customers' transactions and inquiries.

It will be a pleasure for us to discuss with you trade with China.

For payment on April 15 when permanent notes will be ready for delivery.

The Ludlum Steel Company manufactures tool steel and steel specialties, in furnaces of its own design. Its plant is at Watervliet, N. Y.

Tool steel is used in virtually all manufacturing industries, and Ludlum steels are noted for uniform excellence.

Fifteen hundred customers are on the company's books. More than two hundred new customers have been added since Jan. 1.

Gross sales last year were more than $5,000,000.

Net earning for the last three years after federal taxes have averaged $354,917 annually, or five times the interest requirements of this issue.

Net quick assets after this financing are more than one and three-quarters times, and total net tangible assets more than two and one-quarter times, this issue.

No dividend shall be paid on the Common Stock if such payment reduces the net quick assets below 150% of the par value of the serial notes outstanding.

Since the armistice Ludlum has operated on full time and in some departments is working overtime.

These serial notes, constituting the only funded obligation of the company, are issued to provide additional working capital.

DIGEST OF SPECIFICATIONS

Bids must be submitted in duplicate and should be addressed to: CHIEF OF CONSTRUCTION DIVISION OF THE ARMY, 7th and B Sts., S. W. Washington, D. C.

Attention Lt. Col. Cowper, and the envelope, which should show the bidder's name and address, should be plainly and conspicuously marked "SEALED PROPOSAL. DO NOT OPEN." Special envelope will be furnished on request, for this purpose.

The Division Storehouses, the utilities serving them, and the rifle and artillery ranges are not included in this sale.

Bids must be submitted for an entire camp, with the exception of the Division Storehouse Area. In addition to the total bid there must be alternative proposals based on the possible withholding of either or both of the following:

(a) The Base Hospital
(b) The Remount Station

Should the Base Hospital or Remount Station be retained, the public utilities, such as sewer, water, electric lights and trackage serving them, will be retained also.

Base Hospitals at the following Camps have been turned over to the Public Health Service, and they are not included in this sale, nor are the utilities serving them: Camps Beauregard, Hancock, Logan and Sevier—others may or may not be withdrawn.

Bids may be submitted for one or more camps, or any combination of camps.

Bidders must assume all land and property damage claims. Maps showing the areas involved will be furnished, on request, and will form a part of the contract. Information as to the conditions of the leases will be furnished by the constructing quartermasters at the respective camps. The successful bidder must furnish to the Government satisfactory releases of all land and property damage claims or a guarantee to either furnish such releases within one year from the date thereof or to save the Government harmless against all such claims, such guarantee to be secured by a satisfactory bond in a sum predicated upon the condition at each camp.

Bids must hold good for sixty (60) days from date of opening and the awards will be announced within that time together with the dates on which the purchasers will be given possession.

Possession to be given as camps are released by the General Staff of the Army, but in no case will date possession is given be more than five (5) months from date bids are opened.

The Government reserves the right to make the award as seems to best conserve the interests of the Government, to accept any combination-bid or to reject any or all bids.

Purchasers must assume liability for damage done to land or improvements thereon and for injury to their employees or third parties as a result of the performance of the contract.

Buildings not owned by the Government and those erected by benevolent and charitable organizations are not included in the sale.

The Government will continue the leases for not more than (5) months after possession is given and the purchaser must remove all buildings, structures, etc., within that time and must assume all obligations thereafter due to violation of this provision—including the renewal of leases.

Purchasers must remove debris in a manner satisfactory to the Government unless specifically released by the property owners.

Tentative proposals have been received for the purchase of Camps Beauregard and Sheridan for use of the National Guard. Formal proposals covering such a proposition will be given preferred consideration.

Telephones, fire-fighting apparatus and equipment, refrigerators, refrigerating machinery, incinerator plants, laundry equipment, construction equipment, small tools, tents, rolling stock, live stock, stoves, ranges, range-boilers, supplies, and surplus material or equipment not installed, will not be included in this sale.

Fire risk will be assumed by the purchaser after delivery of the camp. Sale will be cancelled if twenty-five (25%) per cent of the camp is destroyed by fire prior to date possession is given.

TERMS: Certified check payable to the Treasurer of the United States for twenty (20%) per cent of the amount of the bid will be required to accompany each bid. This check will be applied upon the purchase price of the successful bidder and in the event that such bidder fails to consummate the contract of purchase such check shall remain the property of the United States. Balance of the purchase price to be paid at the time the contract is executed.

In addition to the above a bond, in the sum of twenty-five thousand ($25,000) dollars for each camp, satisfactory to the Government will be required insuring compliance with the terms of the sale.

Further information and detailed specifications which will form a part of the contract, may be obtained from the constructing quartermasters at the respective camps or from

TO RESTRAIN SALE OF STOCK

Hammerstein Seeks to Enjoin Disposal of Shares Held as Surety.

Oscar Hammerstein appeared before Supreme Court Justice Mullan yesterday to apply for an injunction restraining the sale by the Equitable Amusement Company of 3,998 shares of stock in the Hammerstein Amusement Company, deposited by him as security for the performance of an agreement under which it is alleged he is in default. Hammerstein contends that it was understood that he was to be relieved from the payments. Justice Mullan reserved decision in the case. On leaving court Mr. Hammerstein said:

"Things will be different after I resume giving opera, as soon as my agreement with the Metropolitan expires, next February. Of course I shall give opera then and make money."

Lackawanna Steel Profits Drop.

The Lackawanna Steel Company for the first quarter of this year shows profits after charges and war taxes of $1,207,109, or the equivalent of $3.43 a share on the capital stock. In the corresponding quarter of last year the profits were $2,277,281, or $6.48 a share. The unfilled orders on the books on March 31 amounted to 124,570 gross tons, as compared with 708,199 tons on the corresponding date last year.

C. W. MORSE MUST PAY NOTE

Supreme Court Justice McAvoy decided yesterday that Charles W. Morse must pay $50,438 to the Chemung Canal Trust Company as the amount of a demand note given by Morse in 1908, with interest to date. Morse failed to pay the note, but at various times since he made it he had written the plaintiff acknowledging his indebtedness and stating his intention to see that the trust company did not lose on it.

When suit was brought he pleaded the Statute of Limitations, but Justice McAvoy held that when Morse wrote, in 1913, making a promise to pay he extended the statutory period for six years more and the time had not expired when the suit was brought.

Rising Cost of Operating Coal Mines

¶ The constantly increasing cost of coal mine operation demands experienced, scientific management.

¶ We undertake the management of properties on the same principles we have employed in operating our own mines through more than thirty years of unbroken success. We manage mines with or without a separate agreement for the sale of the output.

¶ We do more than this—we finance mines, appraise coal lands, do engineering and supervise construction. We also serve as agent for the purchase of the fuel supply for manufacturers, railroads and dealers.

¶ An inquiry will bring an explanation of our service.

CALLS TAX MEASURES UNFAIR TO BUSINESS

Transportation Board Says Albany Bills Relieve Realty at the Expense of Trade.

PLEA FOR NEW PIERS

Commissioner Hulbert Urges Simpler Means of Handling Dock Department Affairs.

The Board of Trade and Transportation at its monthly meeting yesterday adopted a report presented by E. F. Cole, Chairman of its Executive Committee, deploring any attempt on the part of the State to obtain increased revenue by increasing disproportionately the load of taxation on business and commerce without making real estate carry its share of the burden. The report declares the three bills now before the Legislature should be opposed by "every legitimate means within the power of this board." The committee pointed out that Governments have always sought to encourage commerce and industry for the general good of the whole State and that any State that neglects to do so is short-sighted and unwise. It points out also how far-reaching would be the unfair burden of taxation that would drive business into another State. In discussing the bills, the committee says:

> The underlying policy recommended in these bills is that the State's demand for increased revenue shall be paid by the business interests of the State and the owners of the real estate are to be relieved. We have expressed our views regarding the dangers which would attend that course.
> The State income tax contemplated would be imposed without any deduction for the normal tax and surtaxes, excess profit and war tax paid to the Federal Government and would be a tax upon taxes paid. The Federal Government has exploited that source of revenue to the point of exhaustion. It would impose a tax upon wage-earners and salaried employes but would exempt the incomes from rentals of real estate. Many of our wealthiest citizens having the largest incomes would be exempted under the bill because their revenues come from enterprises outside of this State, upon which they cannot be taxed.
> Under these circumstances an income tax would be inequitable, and the knowledge that such swollen incomes were contributing nothing while the wage-earners were taxed to provide the benefits and protection their richer neighbors enjoy without a relative contribution to the cost thereof would add new fuel to the fires of discontent which are already dangerous.

In making a plea for the reconstruction of the waterfront from the Chelsea Piers south, and in advocating the vehicular tunnel under the Hudson, the Commissioner told the Board to watch what was going on on the other side of the river. He told of a corporation which three weeks ago bought forty-six acres on Newark Bay, where it planned to expend $25,000,000 in dock improvements, which might attract shipping to New Jersey when it had grown tired of delays on this side of the river.

On motion of former Justice Charles F. McLean, a special committee was appointed to work for the development of waterways and channels, together with riparian, marginal, and terminal facilities at this port. The board also adopted a report of the Executive Committee complaining of the present telephone service and directing that complaint be lodged with the management in this city, and, if necessary, with the Postmaster General. "The present wretched condition," the committee found, dated from the beginning of Federal control. The board approved the finds of the Committee on Forests that the hydro-electric power amendment to the State Constitution be disapproved.

OPPOSES FAVORING SOLDIER

Lieut. Col. Palmer Calls Civil Service Preferment Injurious.

Lieut. Col. Frederick Palmer, in a letter received yesterday by Elbridge L. Adams, Chairman of the Correspondence Committee of the Civil Service Reform Association, characterized the Martin-Baumes bill, which gives civil service preferment to the veterans of all American wars and which is now pending in the Legislature at Albany, as "a dangerous capitalization of the heroism and fortitude of our men in France and an entering wedge of precedent in establishing a dependent bureaucracy and a class vote, which are contrary to the principles of efficient public service, sound patriotism, and the first requirements of good citizenship, which should be influenced in the use of the ballot only by the issues at stake in each election for effecting better government and enduring social progress."

The letter reads in part:

"The veteran who has been discharged as sound has learned discipline, confidence, fellowship, and self-reliance, which should be further developed in order to make him a useful citizen. He who did not fear his enemy in battle should not fear competition in civil life. He re-enters civil life, not with a handicap, but with a great asset, if he will use it. If we divert him from this idea we are not honoring, but injuring, him. We are weakening him instead of further strengthening him.

"Fortunate in his having survived the war in youth and health, after an experience which neither money nor influence can buy, he should be the first to ask that any favors shown to veterans should go to those less fortunate comrades, the disabled, who will strive to make up for their disability by the heroism of learning some new occupation, be it in the Government civil service or not, to the crippled man we owe a debt which we can never repay. Equally deserving of our attention are the wives, mothers, and children and other dependents of the men who have fallen in action while they were young and strong and could not live to enjoy the new world which it is our duty to make a better world for their sake."

Colonel Palmer concludes with an appeal to the framers of the bill to be wary in making laws for the future "if they would be worthy of the victory which our soldiers have won for us," and not "to stultify their heroism by appeals to a side of human nature which would have lost us the war if it had been uppermost."

Negro Chauffeur's Wife Loses Suit.

A jury before Supreme Court Justice Wagner took only ten minutes yesterday to bring in a verdict for the defendant in a suit against Mrs. Augusta L. Mott, wife of a lawyer, by Mrs. Julia King, wife of Mrs. Mott's negro chauffeur, Albert King, for alienating King's affections. The plaintiff sued for $50,000 and offered as evidence a letter from Mrs. Mott to King, in which she addressed him as "My Dearest Good Boy." Mrs. Mott explained to the jury that the letter was merely that of an employer to a faithful employe, who was at that time in a despondent mood.

British Women Plan Victory Dinner

The Imperial Order, Daughters of the British Empire in the United States, are planning to give a Victory Dinner on the birthday of King George V., Tuesday, June 3, in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Commodore. The order is arranging for 1,500 guests, and notable speakers are being invited. The Countess of Reading, wife of the British Ambassador, is Honorary President of the order, and Mrs. J. Elliot Langstaff is the National President. The headquarters are at 200 Fifth Avenue.

Belgium Open for Tobacco Imports.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The War Trade Board announced tonight it had been informed of the removal of all restrictions upon the importation of tobacco into Belgium. Individual import licenses will no longer be required, it was said.

NEW NON-INTOXICANT BILL.

Would Allow 12 Per Cent. Wine and 4 Per Cent. Beer.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, April 9.—Coney Island's views of what constitutes non-intoxicant substitutes for liquor are embodied in a bill introduced today by Senator Sutherland, who represents the Fourth Senate District, which includes the island. The measure defines as intoxicants wines containing above 12 per cent. of alcohol by weight and beer containing more than 4 per cent. Everything with a lower percentage of alcohol is defined as non-intoxicating.

Representatives of the New York Anti-Saloon League received the newcomer with shoulder shrugs, and emphatic declarations that it would never emerge from committee. The bill, however, meets with the approval of restaurant and hotel owners who have never taken kindly to the Walters 3 Per Cent. bill, which limits the consumption of even that mild beverage to the home fireside.

Negotiations have been pending for some days with a view to making the 3 Per Cent. bill conform to the views of hotel and restaurant men, but it has not yet been amended. Superintendent Anderson of the Anti-Saloon League today filed a demand for a hearing on the 3 Per Cent. bill with Senator Walters and threatened to raise a disturbance unless his demand was granted.

PASS THREE PLATOON BILL.

Assemblymen Also Approve Grand Union Hotel Park Site.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, April 9.—The Assembly today passed the Firemen's Three Platoon bill by a vote of 119 to 13. A referendum rider to appease cities now financially overburdened removed practically all vestige of opposition. As passed, the measure provides for a three-platoon system in any city of the State when 10 per cent. of the voters approve.

When Assemblyman McCue, Democrat, New York, expressed regret that the vote was not unanimous, Assemblyman Steinberg, Republican, of New York, said:

"I wish to call the attention of Mr. McCue and others here to the fact that Mayor Hylan, who before election promised to support this measure, refused to do so and the firemen had to come to the Legislature for their relief."

Assemblyman Wilfred E. Youker, a Brooklyn Republican, made an unsuccessful attempt to block the passage in the Assembly of the McCue bill permitting the city to turn into a public square the site of the old Grand Union Hotel. The measure was passed on a so-called "rapid roll call" while Youker was out of the chamber. On his return he endeavored to have the vote reconsidered but lost by a vote of 73 to 51.

M. P. FLIES TO COMMONS.

Copyright, 1919, by The New York Times Company.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, April 9.—The distinction of being the first member to fly to the House of Commons falls to General Seely, the Air Minister. This afternoon General Seely made the trip from the works of Shortt Brothers, at Rochester, to Westminster, in a seaplane. After circling twice over Westminster Bridge, the machine landed on the Thames, outside the Houses of Parliament.

One crew of the Handley-Page machine entered yesterday for the transatlantic flight will probably be in charge of Admiral Mark Kerr.

FIX WOMEN'S WAGE SCALE.

Conferees Decide on Minimum of $15.50 a Week for Workers.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The first wage conference held under the new minimum wage law for women in private employ in the District of Columbia has reported a minimum wage of $15.50 a week. This conference was organized in March to consider the wages of women employed in private printing and publishing houses, and at its recommendation action is expected by the Minimum Wage Board, as is expected, every woman employed in such an establishment in the District of Columbia must be paid not less than $15.50 a week after the decision goes into effect.

FLEMISH TAPESTRY, $3,700.

Benguiat Sale of Textiles and Embroideries Reaches $107,005.

Important pieces brought big prices at the Benguiat sale of fine old textiles and embroideries at the American Art Galleries yesterday afternoon. The returns for the day were $61,940, making a total to date of $107,005. There were many prices in four figures, the first $3,700 paid by Chelsea, the buying name of a well-known New Yorker, for ten magnificent ivory silk column panels, Italian of the Louis XV. period, flowers and birds and butterflies worked solidly on heavy corded silk of the silvery ivory tone. Six green cut velvet curtains, Genoese of the Louis XV. period, with scroll bands and flowers, floral sprays in cut and uncut velvet of soft willow green, went to Edson Bradley for $1,380.

To Lorenz, agent, went several of the more important numbers. Three magnificent crimson velvet wall hangings, Genoese of the sixteenth century, brought $2,250; six embroidered crimson velvet borders with appliques, trimming of gold galloon and gold fringe, brought $1,660; six unique column panels, Italian, Renaissance period, woven with beautiful designs in deep rose pink on a crimson ground, brought $1,200; six ivory and gold silk brocade curtains, French of the first empire period, $1,400, and four rose-crimson velvet curtains, Genoese, seventeenth century, also went to Lorenz for $920. Six rose-crimson velvet curtains, Italian of the Gothic period, with trimmings and fringe of gold galloon, went to L. Orselli for $1,500, and Otto Bernet, agent, paid $1,400 for four curtains of crimson and cloth of gold, with a deep gold fringe of lattice work.

An unusual woolen velvet portière, Spanish of the sixteenth century, in rich colors, burnt orange, black, and pale sapphire blue on a tan ground, went to O. T. Berberyan for $900, and a rare sapphire blue and yellow needle work altar carpet, Spanish of the seventeenth century, went to the same buyer for $2,300. A historical Brussels tapestry of the Renaissance period, "The Wisdom of Solomon," went to M. L. Jellinek for $3,000, and P. W. French & Co. paid the highest price for an individual piece, $3,700, for a large grotesque tapestry, Flemish of the Renaissance period, "An Animated Hunting Scene." A companion tapestry went to L. Orselli for $3,500. The sale will be continued this afternoon.

TRACTION EARNINGS LOWER.

Interborough and New York Railways Report Declines in Revenue.

The declining trend of net earnings of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company is emphasized by the report of February operations, announced yesterday, and to a greater degree by the statement for eight months ended Feb. 28. The gross income during the month amounted to $3,499,170, an increase of $242,860 over the corresponding period last year. The expansion of operating expenses cut the increase away and more, the total of net income after paying taxes amounting to $1,137,336, a decline of $306,441 from February, 1918. The surplus after meeting interest and adding in miscellaneous revenue was $434,447, a recession of $193,329.

In the eight months gross earnings gained $771,631 and net operating income declined $3,387,018, or nearly 30 per cent. The surplus of $1,740,943 after interest payments was $3,147,312 lower than in the same period of 1917-1918. The New York Railways Company reports a decline of $96,886 in gross income during January and a deficit of $153,155 after charges, compared with a deficit of $92,933 in January, 1918. In the seven months ended Jan. 31 the deficit after paying interest was $891,283, against a surplus of $132,634 in the same seven months a year before.

Acquit Newspaper Heads of Libel.

The jury in libel suit against James O'Flaherty, publisher of the Bronx Home News, and Ralph J. McQuade, editor, returned a verdict of not guilty at 1:50 this morning. Both men were tried on an indictment charging criminal libel against Congressman James Vincent Ganly for publishing articles reflecting on his character at the time he was running for office last October.

TRAIN 3,000 SLEUTHS FOR PROHIBITION ERA

Revenue Bureau Will Distribute Agents Throughout Country to Enforce Dry Law.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Three thousand internal revenue agents will enforce prohibition after July 1, according to plans announced today by the Revenue Bureau. Nearly 800 inspectors will be trained for the work to be added to the force of 2,283 revenue agents already available.

This force of special agents will be distributed among districts where law violation is threatened to the largest extent. Special attention will be paid to cities where revenue officials look for most persistent efforts to make whisky illegally. In addition the revenue authorities plan to co-operate with local police and to leave the greater part of the enforcement work to these authorities in localities where the police appear efficient.

Although manufacture of liquor for personal use will be equally illegal with the production for sale, revenue agents are expected to devote most of their time to the commercial traffic, and to leave the enforcement of the law against personal manufacture to local police.

Internal revenue agents, under the direction of B. C. Keith, Deputy Commissioner, now are working on a plan to divide the country into zones which will be independent in many cases of the sixty-four Collectorship zones already established. One Chief Inspector will be assigned to each zone, with as many assistants as may be necessary. The men will be especially trained in detection work, most of them having served in that capacity for many years.

Hundreds of recipes for home manufacture of beer, ale, wines, and even distilled liquors are now being circulated in all parts of the country. Booklets and printed pamphlets of these recipes have reached revenue officials from scores of cities. It was explained today that to make liquor according to these recipes would constitute a clear violation of the law, although it was admitted it would be difficult to prevent the manufacture in most cases.

Private stills can be acquired legally only by registration with the Revenue Collector of the district. Manufacturers of stills are under strict regulation. Many reports of manufacture of family stills on a large scale, and their sale at low prices, have reached the Revenue Bureau, but have proved false in most cases.

By regulation, the bureau plans to make it difficult for the use of flavoring extracts, perfumes, toilet preparations, and other articles containing alcohol for beverage purposes. Medicines containing alcohol must have a composition to make it physically impossible to take quantities as a beverage without making the thirsty person ill. Most essential oils contained in perfumes are said to be guarantees against use of perfume for drinking, since the oils will cause illness.

NEW CREDITS TO ALLIES.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Credits of $6,330,000 to the Czechoslovak republic and $900,000 to Belgium were established today by the Treasury. The Belgian credit raised the total loans to the Allies to $9,016,229,000 and the total to Belgium to $341,435,000.

The United States has advanced, including today's credit, a total of $41,330,000 to Czechoslovakia. The loans to the new republic have been used largely to pay for arms, ammunition, and food supplies for the Czechoslovak forces operating in Siberia.

Advertising Instead of Taxes.

There is a pronounced sentiment among nationally advertised clothing houses that the amount of their publicity business for the coming season should be unusually large. The reason given for this is that these manufacturers will prefer to spend their money advertising rather than place it in the Government coffers in the form of taxes. The advertising expense, it was said, ought to be a larger percentage of the business volume than ever before, but the returns, when the tax comes off, will be so much the greater.

ACCUSED OF FORGING STATE TAX RECEIPTS

Warrant for W. S. Leib, Pennsylvania ex-Official—Amount Involved Said to be $5,094.

HARRISBURG, Penn., April 9.—Attorney General William L. Schaeffer announced tonight that a warrant had been issued for William S. Leib of Pottsville, former resident clerk of the House of Representatives, on a charge of forgery.

The charge, it is understood, grows out of the alleged forgery of receipts for State taxes. It is alleged that the names of Earl T. Dewald, deposit clerk of the State Treasury, and David H. Matthews, Treasury clerk for the Auditor General, were forged.

The tax settlement is said to have been for the Merchant & Evans Company of Philadelphia, and to involve $5,094.

URGES SPEED TO CURB REDS

Security League Asks Aldermen to Push Sedition Ordinance.

Speedy action on the resolution of the Board of Aldermen designed to punish owners or agents of buildings in which anti-Government utterances are made by speakers was urged yesterday in a letter sent by Colonel Charles E. Lydecker, President of the National Security League, to Alderman Collins, Chairman of the Committee on General Welfare of the Board of Aldermen. The resolution was referred on Tuesday to the committee headed by Alderman Collins.

In his letter Mr. Lydecker said:

"The National Security League believes that the proposed ordinance introduced at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen by Alderman William P. Kennealy and referred to your committee, is a forward step toward the suppression of anarchy and Bolshevism in this city. The league urges that your committee report favorably upon this proposed ordinance at the earliest possible moment, and that it will be immediately enacted into law by the Board of Aldermen.

"Properly enforced, this proposed ordinance will not abridge the right of free speech and assembly, guaranteed by our Constitution. This is the argument of those who wish to pervert American liberty into license. The people are blind to the growing menace of Bolshevism, of riot and of unrule, of rapine and theft, in this country. We must deal with this with intelligence and strength."

Georgia Cotton Mills Cut Output.

ATLANTA, April 9.—Cotton mills in Georgia are curtailing production about 25 per cent. of the normal as the result of the unsatisfactory market conditions for cotton cloth and yarns, it was announced today after a largely attended meeting of the Cotton Manufacturers' Association of Georgia.

REAL ESTATE FIELD

The Park View Apartments occupying the block front on Central Park West between 103d and 104th Streets was purchased yesterday by Edward W. Browning, operator and builder, from the estate of George Bliss. The property which is fully leased consists of nine five-story structures, two corners fronting 27.5 feet each, and seven inside houses, each 21 feet wide, covering a combined frontage of 201 feet on the Park West and 100 feet on each street. There are 411 rooms in the building, arranged in suites of six, seven and eight rooms. John Fink negotiated the sale.

The Blennerhasset Sold.

The Blennerhasset, a six-story elevator apartment at 507 to 511 West 111th Street, owned by David Steiner, was sold to an investing client of Goldsmith & Rosenthal, attorneys, through Jonas Kolb.

Stern Estate Sells Twentieth Street Holding.

The estate of Isaac Stern, of Stern Brothers, sold the nine-story fireproof loft building at 13 and 15 West Twentieth Street, taken in foreclosure proceedings recently, to David Zipkin. The property rents for $21,000 a year and in selling it the heirs of the estate take back a mortgage for $125,000 for ten years at 5 per cent. with amortizations. Spear & Co. negotiated the transaction. Arnstein & Levy, attorneys, represented the buyer and Edgar H. Rosenstock acted for the estate.

Savings Banks Sell Holdings.

The Union Dime Savings Bank sold the six-story elevator apartment house, 60 by 100.1, at 514 West 122d Street, between Broadway and Amsterdam Avenue, which it took in foreclosure to protect its mortgage investment.

Greenwich Savings Bank sold the six-story loft building, 25 by 100, at 480 Broome Street, adjoining the northeast corner of Wooster Street, and taken in foreclosure by the bank some time ago. The buyers of both properties are investors.

The Greenwich Savings Bank also sold the seven-story loft building, renting for $9,000 and held at $60,000, at 27 East Tenth Street, through the Lloyd Winthrop Company. Bastine & Co. acted as agents for the bank.

Sells Downtown Corner.

Mrs. Mary E. Cottrell sold the five-story building at 127 Cedar Street and 141 to 145 Greenwich Street, being the northeast corner and adjoining the twelve-story Beard Building, to Jacob Weil. The property fronts 34.3 feet on Cedar and 60.4 feet on Greenwich Street.

Sale of South Street Building.

Richard S. Elliott bought the five-story building, 23 by 80, at 159 South Street, subject to May 1 occupancy, through the Charles F. Noyes Company and Horace S. Ely & Co. Mr. Elliott previously purchased through the same brokers 257 Front Street, a five-story building covering a lot 23 by 60. He is taking the property free of mortgage and on an entirely cash basis. Negotiations are pending through the Noyes Company for a resale or lease of the South Street building.

Two Midtown Sales.

The estate of Madeline S. Rogers sold the six-story building, on lot 25 by 98.9, at 311 West Fortieth Street, now occupied by the Norden Electric Company, to a client of Cammann, Voorhees & Floyd.

WOMEN GO ABROAD TO WORLD CONGRESS

Jeannette Rankin to Urge Action on Bolshevism at the Berne Conference.

JANE ADDAMS A DELEGATE

Women's Industrial Commission and Boer Delegation Also Sail on the Noordam.

Among the first cabin passengers who sailed yesterday for Havre on the Holland-America liner Noordam were the six American delegates to the International Congress of Women which will be held at Berne, Switzerland, from May 5 to 12. The conference will consider international problems, and especially the labor question.

Miss Jane Addams of Hull House, Chicago, a member of the party, said that some of the delegates would go direct to Berne from Havre, while others would remain a few days in France to confer with the French delegates to the congress.

Another member of the American delegation was Miss Jeannette Rankin, the first woman to be elected to Congress. She said that this would be the first meeting of the International Women's Congress for five years. She expected, she said, to meet delegates there from the Central Powers and from Russia.

"I intend to place the problem of stopping the spread of Bolshevism before the Congress," Miss Rankin said, "and expect to receive many suggestions from the delegates who come from the countries where it is prevalent at the present time. The League of Nations will also come up for discussion from a woman's standpoint, and the necessity of having laws safeguarding the original citizenship of women who marry men of another country will also find a place on the program of the Congress."

Other delegates who sailed on the Noordam with Miss Addams and Miss Rankin were Mrs. Louis F. Post of Washington, wife of the Assistant Secretary of Labor, Dr. Alice Hamilton of Chicago, Mrs. Edward D. Meade, and Miss Emily Walsh of Boston.

The Women's Industrial Commission, which the National War Work Council of the Y. W. C. A., is sending abroad to meet labor leaders in England, France, Italy, and Belgium to discuss labor problems for women, which also sailed on the Noordam, and will disembark at Plymouth.

Members of the Commission include Miss Mary E. Dreier, representing the National Women's Trade Union League; Mrs. Irene Osgood Andrews, the American Association for Labor Legislation; Miss Nelle Swartz, the National Consumers League of America; Mrs. James S. Cushmand, Chairman of the National War Work Council of the Y. W. C. A.; Miss Florence Simms, Miss Marie Wing of Cleveland, Ohio, and Miss Imogene Ireland, all of the Y. W. C. A.

The South African Nationalist party consisting of nine Boers, headed by General J. B. M. Hertzog, who have been in New York since their arrival two weeks ago on the steaship Bawean from Cape Town, were passengers on the Noordam for Rotterdam. From there they will go to The Hauge to call upon the Dutch Government, and then will proceed to London to make formal demands for the independence of South Africa to the British Government. Failing to get any satisfaction in London the delegates said they intended to go to Paris, and place their petition before the Peace Conference. General Hertzog said he had seen very little of New York during his stay in the city, because he had been busy arranging for the departure of himself and the other Boer delegates.

"I have met several persons here," he said, "who were in sympathy with our move for freedom in South Africa, and I have been particularly interested in meeting persons returning from Europe since the signing of the armistice. Americans receive much more news through the press of the doings in Europe than we do in South Africa, where all dispatches have been strictly censored."

All the delegates were of Dutch descent, and were looking forward to a visit to their mother country with interest.

The Scandinavian-American liner Frederick VIII, also sailed from Hoboken yesterday afternoon for Copenhagen with a large number of passengers, among whom was Henry Dam, United States Consul at Stavanger, Norway, and J. Fred Larsen, a shipbuilder from Portland, Ore., who is going over to look into the shipbuilding industry in the Scandinavian countries.

Mrs. William K. Draper, Vice Chairman of the New York County Chapter of the Red Cross, also sailed on the Noordam for France to serve as a delegate from the American Red Cross at the World Conference of Red Cross Societies to be held at Geneva thirty days after the signing of the Peace Treaty.

16 HURT IN COLLISION.

Surface Car and Truck Crash at First Avenue and 47th Street.

Sixteen people were injured, two so seriously that they were taken to Bellevue Hospital for treatment, when a three-and-a-half-ton truck, filled with ashes, and driven by Eugene Lynch of 562 West Fifty-fourth Street, and a southbound Third Avenue surface car, in charge of Motorman Thomas Walsh of 1,851 First Avenue, were in collision at Third Avenue and Forty-seventh Street shortly before midnight last night.

The seriously injured were Eugene Lynch, 18 years old, a chauffeur, 562 West Fifty-fourth Street, with a possible fracture of the left arm, and Edward McGarry, 25 years old, a rigger, 357 West Nineteenth Street, who suffered a possible fracture of the left ankle. Both were taken to Bellevue Hospital.

ASKS IRISH TO BACK WILSON PRINCIPLES

De Valera Addresses Sinn Fein Convention in Dublin—$250,000 Spent in Election.

DUBLIN, April 9.—At the Sinn Fein Convention at the Mansion House today a financial statement was submitted by the Treasurer, who declared that the Sinn Fein had fought the elections without the aid of German or American money. Of the £50,000 subscribed throughout the country, there remained a balance of 700 pence. He must therefore appeal for funds.

Professor Edward de Valera, who was enthusiastically received, replying to the statement made yesterday by Earl Curzon in the House of Lords that 40,000 troops were necessary for the Government's administration of Ireland, declared that the Sinn Fein would guarantee to govern Ireland without a single British soldier. He asked that Ireland support President Wilson's principles, adding that even if the President abandoned these principles Ireland would stand by them.

American Officers for Siberia.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Colonels Robert H. Sillman and Joseph D. Leitch have been ordered to report to Major Gen. Graves, commanding the American expedition in Siberia. It was said at the War Department they probably will be assigned to relieve officers of equal rank who commanded the units of General Graves's forces drawn from the Philippines. Colonel Sillman has been on duty at Camp Travis, Texas, and Colonel Leitch at Camp Lewis, Washington.

SAYS JAPAN IS FRIENDLY.

Counselor of Embassy Denies Designs on Lower California.

Regret that Japan had been suspected of unfriendly designs on Lower California was expressed last night by K. Debucki, Counselor of the Japanese Embassy, who spoke at a dinner held in the Hotel Astor by the Honorary Commission of the National Association of the Raw Silk Industry of Japan as a return for a dinner arranged several weeks ago by American silk merchants. The Japanese diplomat also conveyed an expression of Japan's friendly feeling for Americans and all things American.

"Although a perfect understanding exists between us," he said, "I feel exceedingly sorry that there have been from time to time some mischievous elements on both sides of the Pacific whose business seems to be to stir up agitation for the simple purpose of creating news for some ulterior motive.

"Japan has been suspected of having some ambition in Lower California. But each and all of the alleged facts have been categorically denied by the responsible authorities. I may assure you that had Japan enough capital to invest in any comprehensive scheme on the Mexican border, she would spend it for improving her silk industry. Modern Japan is not so ignorant as to offend her good customer and sincere friend for the sake of any enterprise which does not involve her vital interests. The rumors and accusations in regard to Mexico are now disappearing in the way they came.

"Those persons who have accused Japan of maltreating the Koreans should study the facts. Japan's policy towards Korea has been wholly a constructive one. The Koreans are decidedly happier under Japanese administration than they were before."

Advertising Executive

of wide experience here and abroad, wishes to change from a position where he is not so much under-paid, as under-happy. His inclination and training is the planning and development of sales through advertising.

He is no miracle-worker, but he has handled big things and he knows when and where and how to advertise. He is constructive and knows details. He has made so many mistakes in the past that his judgment now on markets, media, and copy is better than good. He has no advertising habits that cannot be broken.

He has been complimented on his advertising sense. He writes well, at times. He can organize and direct. He is accustomed to large responsibilities, but he will be glad to serve as an assistant to a Regular Boss. A title isn't necessary, and salary is not a major consideration.

He wants a place where Opportunity also means a niche in a deep-rooted organization where he can co-operate with likable associates and be happy. He works in a plain, sane way, and gets on well with the neighbors. He offers a fairly well-stored mind, steady working habits, and ability to keep on learning; and if the right concern isn't ready for him, he will wait. He is 38 years old, a University graduate,—Christian, Mason. Address Box B. 388, New York Times.

Higher Taxes or— The Victory Loan

WE still need some billions of dollars to finish up this war job—to feed and clothe and pay our men on the Rhine until their work is done, to care for the wounded, to bring our soldiers home.

To attempt to meet the Government's needs by taxes alone, it would be necessary for the American people to pay twice as much in taxes as we are paying now.

Anyone would rather lend his money to the Government at a good rate of interest than to give it in the form of taxes.

That's why the success of the Victory Liberty Loan is of direct personal interest to you.

When the Loan opens on April 21, invest your dollars to the limit of your ability.
